35 And they built the city of David with a great and strong wall, and with strong towers, and made it a fortress for them:

37 And laid them up these: and they became a great snare.

38 And this was a place to lie in wait against the sanctuary, and an evil devil in Israel.

39 And they shed innocent blood round about the sanctuary, and defiled the holy place.

57 On the fifteenth day of the month Casleu, in the hundred and forty-fifth year, ‡ king Antiochus set up the abominable idol of desolation upon the altar of God, and they built altars throughout all the cities of Juda round about:

the books of the law of God: 60 And every one with whom the books of 61 Thus by their power did they deal with the people of Israel, that were found in the cities month after month.

62 And on the five and twentieth day of the month they sacrificed upon the altar of the idel that was over-against the altar of God.

7 And Mathathias said: Wo is me, wherefore was I born to see the ruin of my people, and the ruin of the holy city, and to dwell there, when it is given into the nands of the enemies?

8 The holy places are come into the hands of strangers: her temple is become as a man with-

12 And behold our sanctuary, and our beauty, and our glory is laid waste, and the Gentiles have defiled them.

13 To what end then should we live any longer?

14 And Mathathias and his sons rent their garments, and they covered themselves with hair-cloth, and made great lamentation.

15 And they that were sent from king Antiochus came thither, to compel them that were fled into the city of Modin, to sacrifice, and to burn incense, and to depart from the law of God.

16 And many of the people of Israel consented and came to them: but Mathathias and his sons stood firm.

17 And they that were sent from Antlochus answering, said to Mathathias: Thou art a ruler, and an honourable, and great man in this city, and adorned with sons, and brethren.

18 Therefore come thou first, and obey the king's commandment, as all nations have done, and the men of Juda, and they that remain in Jerusalem: and thou, and thy sons shall be in the number of the king's friends, and enriched with gold, and silver, and many presents.

19 Then Mathathias answered, and said with a loud voice: Although all nations obey king Antiochus, so as to depart every man from the service of the law of his fathers, and consent to his commandments:

20 I and my sons, and my brethren will obey the law of our fathers.

21 God be merciful unto us: it is not profitable for us to forsake the law, and the justices of God:

22 We will not hearken to the words of king Antiochus, neither will we sacrifice, and transgress the commandments of our law, to go ano-

23 Now as he left off speaking these words, there came a certain Jew in the sight of all to sacrifice to the idols upon the altar in the city of Modin, according to the king's command-

38 So they gave them battle on the sabbath: and they were slain with their wives, and their children, and their cattle, to the number of a thousand persons.

25 And the fear of Judas and of his brethren, and the dread of them fell upon all the nations round about them.

26 And his fame came to the king, and all nations told of the battles of Judas.

27 III Now when king Antiochus heard these words, he was angry in his mind: and he sent. and gathered the forces of all his kingdom of exceeding strong array.

28 And he opened his measure, and gave out pay to the army for a year: and he commanded them, that they should be ready for all

31 And he was greatly perplexed in mind, and purposed to go into 3 via, and to take tributes of the countries, ___ to gather much money.

32 And he left Lysias, a nobleman of the blood royal, to oversee the affairs of the kingdom from the river Euphrates even to the river of Egypt:

came again.

34 And he delivered to him half the army, and the elephants: and he gave him charge concerning all that he would have done, and concerning the inhabitants of Judea, and Jeru-

37 * So the King took the half of the army that remained, and went forth from Antioch the chief city of his kingdom, in the hundred and forty-seventh year: and he passed over the river Euphrates, and went through the higher countries.

38 Then Lysias chose Ptolemee the son of Dorymenus, and Nicanor, and Gorgias, mighty

44 And the assembly was gathered that they might be ready for battle : and that they might pray, and ask mercy and compassion. 45 Now Jerusalem was not inhabited, but was like a desert: there was none of her children that went in or out: and the sanctuary wa trodden down: and the children of strangers were in the eastle, there was the habitation of the Gentiles: and joy was taken away from Jacob, and the pipe and harp ceased there.

46 And they assembled together, and came to Maspha over-against Jerusalem : for in Mas-pha was a place of prayer heretofore in Israel.

47 And they fasted that day, and put on haireloth, and put ashes upon their heads: and they rent their garments:

43 And they laid open the books of the law, in which the Gentiles searched for the likeness of their idols:

49 And they brought the priestly ornaments, and the first-fruits and tithes, and stirred up the Nazarites that had fulfilled their days:

50 And 'ey cried with a loud voice toward heaven, saying: What shall we do with these, and whither shall we carry them?

51 For thy holies are trodden down, and are profaned, and thy priests are in mourning, and are brought low.

52 And behold the nations are come together against us to destroy us: thou knowest what they intend against us.

53 How shall we be able to stand before their face, unless thou, O God, help us?

54 Then they sounded with trumpets, and cried out with a loud voice.

55 And after this Judas appointed captains over the people, over thousands, and over hundreds, and over fifties, and over tens.

it was strong, and the men in breast-plates, and the horsemen round about them, and these were rained up to war. 8 And Judas said to the men that were with afraid of their assault.

9 * Remember in what manner our fathers were saved in the Red sea, when Pharao pursued them with a great army.

10 And now let us cry to heaven: and the Lord will have mercy on us, and will remember the covenant of our fathers, and will destroy this 1rmy before our face this day:

11 And all nations shall know that there is one that redcemeth and delivereth Israel.

12 And the strangers lifted up their eyes, and saw them coming against then.

13 And they went out of the camp to battle. and they that were with Judas sounded the trumpet.

14 And they joined battle: and the Gentiles were routed, and fled into the plain.

15 But all the hindmost of them fell by the Eword, and they pursued them as far as Gezeron. and even to the plains of Idumea, and of Azotus, and of Jamnia: and there fell of them to the number of three thousand men.

16 And Judas returned again with his army that followed him,

17 And he said to the people: Be not greedy of the spoils: for there is war before us, 18 And Gorgias and his army are near us in the mountain: but stand ye now against our enemies, and overthrow them, and you shall take the spoils afterwards with safety. 19 And as Judas was speaking these words.

behold part of them appeared looking forth from the mountain.

20 And Gorgias saw that his men were put to flight, and that they had set fire to the camp: for the smoke that was seen declared what was done.

21 And when they had seen this, they were seized with great fear, seeing at the same time Judas and his army in the plain ready to fight.

22 So they all fled away into the land of the strangers.

23 And Judas returned to take the spoils of the camp, and they get much gold, and silver, and blue silk, and purple of the sea, and great

24 And returning home they sung a hymn, and blessed God in heaven, because he is good,

25 So Israel had a great deliverance that day. 26 And such of the strangers as escaped, went and told Lysias all that had happened.

27 And when he heard these things, he was amezed and discouraged: because things had not succeeded in Israei according to his mind, and as the king had commanded.

28 So the year † following, Lysias gathered together threescore thousand chosen men, and in the mountains for he said : These men fiee | five thousand horsemen, that he might subduc them.

29 And they came into Judea, and pitched their tents in Betheren, and Judas met them with ten thousand men.

30 And they saw that the army was strong, and he prayed, and said: Blessed art thou, U Saviour of Israel, ‡ who didst break the violence of the mighty by the hand of thy servant David, § and didst deliver up the camp of the strangers into the hands of Jonathan the son of Saul, and of his armour-bearer.

31 Shut up this army in the hands of thy people Israel, and let them be confounded in their host and their horsemen.

32 Strike them with fear, and cause the boldness of their strength to languish, and let them quake at their own destruction.

23 Cast them down with the sword of them that love thee: and let all that know thy name, praise thee with hymns.

34 And they joined battle: and there fell of the army of Lysias five thousand men.

35 And when Lysias saw that his men were put to flight, and how bold the Jews were, and that they were ready either to live, or to die manfully, he went to Antioch, and chose sol-diers, that they might come again into Judea with greater numbers.

36 Then Judas, and his brethren said: Behold our enemies are discomfited: let us go up now to cleanse the holy places, and to repair them.

37 And all the army assembled together, and they went up into mount Sion.

38 And they saw the sanctuary desolate, and the altar profaned, and the gates burnt, and shrubs growing up in the courts as in a forest, or on the mountains, and the chambers joining to the temple thrown down.

39 And they rent their garments, and made great lamentation, and put ashes on their heads: 40 And they fell down to the ground on their faces, and they sounded with the trumpets of alarm, and they cried towards heaven.

41 Then Judas appointed men to fight against them that were in the castle, till the had cleansed the holy places.

42 And he chose priests without blemish, whose will was set upon the law of iod:

43 And they cleansed the holy places, and took away the stones that had been defiled into an unclean place.

44 And he considered about th altar of holocausts that had been profaned, what he should do with it.

45 And a good counsel came into their minds, to pull it down: lest it should be a repreach to them, because the Gentiles had defiled it, so they threw it down.

46 And they laid up the stones in the mountain of the temple in a convenient place, till there should come a pr. phet, and give answer concerning them.

47 Then they took whole stones according to the law, and built a new altar according to the former :

48 And they built up the holy places, and the things that were within the t mple: and they sanctified the temple, and the courts.

49 And they made new holy essels, and brought in the candlestick, and the altar of incense, and the table into the temple.

50 and they put incense upon the altar, and lighted up the lamps that were upon the can- and they were discomfited in their eight, and diestick, and they gave light in the temple.

51 And they set the loaves upon the table, and hung up the vails, and finished all the works that they had begun to make.

52 And they arose before the morning on the five and twentieth day of the ninth month (which is the month of Casleu) in the hundred and forty-eighth year.*

53 And they offered sacrifice according to the aw upon the new altar of holocausts which they had made.

54 According to the time, and according to the day wherein the heathens had defiled it, the same was it dedicated anew with canticles, and harps, and lutes, and cymbals.

55 And all the people fell upon their faces, and adored, and blessed up to heaven, him that had prospered them.

56 And they kept the dedication of the altar eight days, and they offered holocausts with joy, and sacrifices of salvation, and of praise.

57 And they adorned the front of the temple with crowns of gold, and cseutcheons, and they renewed the gates, and the chambers, and hanged doors upon them.

58 And there was exceeding great joy among the people, and the reproach of the Gentiles was turned away.

59 † And Judas, and his brethren, and all the church of Israel decreed, that the day of the dedication of the altar should be kept in its season from year to year for eight days, from the five and twentieth day of the month of Casleu, with joy and gladness.

60 They built up also at that time mount Siou, with high walls, and strong towers round about, lest the Gentiles should at any time come, and tread it down as they did before.

61 And he placed a garrison there, to keep it, and he fortified it to secure Bethsura, that the people might have a defence against Idumea.

brethren, saying: The heathens that are round about are gathered together against us, to de-

11 And they are preparing to come, and to take the fortiess into which we are fled: and Timotheus is the captain of their host.

12 Now therefore come, and deliver us out of their hands, for many of us are slain.

13 And all our brethren that were in the places of Tubin, are killed: and they have carried away their wives, and their children, captives, and taken their spoils, and they have slain there almost a thousand men.

14 And while they were yet reading these letters, behold there came other messengers out of Galilee with their garments rent, who related according to these words:

15 Saying, that they of Ptolemais, and of Tyre, and of Sidon, were assembled against them, and all Galilee is filled with strangers, in order to consume us.

16 Now when Judas and the people heard these words, a great assembly met together to consider what they should do for their brethren that were in trouble, and were assaulted by them.

17 And Judas said to Simon his brother: Choose thee men, and go, and deliver thy brethren in Galilee: and I, and my brother Jonathan will go into the country of Galaad.

18 And he left Joseph the son of Zacharias, and Azarias captains of the people with the remnant of the army in Judea to keep it:

19 And he commanded them, saying: Take ye the charge of this people: but make no war agreet the heathens, till we return.

20 Now three thousand men were allotted to Simon, to go into Galilee: and eight thousand to Judas to go into the land of Galaad

21 And Simon went into Galilee, and fought many battles with the heathens: and the heathens were discomfited before his face, and he pursued them even to the gate of Ptolemais.

24 § And Judas Machabeus, and Jonathan his brother passed over the Jordan, and went three days' journey through the desert.

25 And the Nabutheans met them, and received them in a peacentile manner, and told them all that happened to their brethren in the land of Galaad, 26 And that many of them were shut up in Barasa, and in Bosor, and in Alina, and it Caspher, and in Mageth, and in Carnain: all these strong and great cities.

28 Then Judas and his army suddenly turned their march into the desert of Bosor, and took the city: and he slew every male by the edge of the sword, and took all their spoils and burnt at with fire.

29 And they removed from thence by night, and went till they came to the fortress.

30 And it came to pass that early in the morning, when they lifted up their eyes, behold there were people without number, carrying ladders and engines to take the fortress, and assault them.

31 And Judas saw that the fight was begun, and the cry of the battle went up to heaven like a trumpet, and a great cry out of the city:

32 And he said to his host: Fight ye to-day for your brethren.

33 And he came with three companies behind them, and they sounded their trumpets, and cried out in prayer.

34 And the host of Timotheus understood that it was Machabeus, and they fled away before his face: and they made a great slaughter of them: and there fell of them in that day almost eight thousand men.

35 And Judas turned aside to Maspha, and assaulted, and took it, and he slew every male thereof, and took the spoils thereof, and burnt

36 From thence he marched, and took Casvon, and Mageth, and Bosor, and the rest of the cities of Galaad.

37 But after this Timotheus gathered another army, and camped over-against Raphon beyond the torrent.

38 And Judas sent men to view the army: and they brought him word, saying : All the nations, that are round about us, are assembled unto him an army exceeding great:

39 And they have hired the Arabians to help them, and they have pitched their tents beyond the torrent, ready to come to fight against thee.

And Judas went to meet them.

40 And Timotheus said to the captains of his army: When Judas and his army come near the torrent of water, if he pass over unto us first, we shall not be able to withstand him: for he will certainly prevail over us.

41 But if he be afraid to pass over, and camp on the other side of the river, we will pass over them, and shall prevail against him.

stand against the face of Judas.

45 And Judas gathered together all the Ismelites that were in the land of Galaad, from the least even to the greatest, and their wives, and children, and an army exceeding great, to come to the land of Juda.

53 * Now in the days that Judas and Jonathan were in the land of Galaad, and Simon his brother in Galilee before Ptolemais, 56 Joseph the son of Zacharias, and Azarias captain of the soldiers, heard of the good success, and the battles that were fought.

41 And all the inhabitants of the land were moved at the noise of their multitude, and the marching of the company, and the rattling of the armour, for the army was exceeding great and strong. 42 And Judas and his army drew near for battle: and there fell of the king's army six seemed to him that the king was on it: 44 And he exposed himself to deliver his people and to get himself an everlasting name.

59 And let us covenant with them, that they may live according to their own laws as before. For because of our despising their laws, they have been provoked, and have done all these 60 And the proposal was acceptable in the sight of the king, and of the princes: and he sent to them to make peace : and they accepted of it.

61 And the king and the princes swore to them : and they came out of the strong hold.

62 Then the king entered into mount Sion, and saw the strength of the place: and he quickly broke the oath that he had taken, and gave commandment to throw down the wall round about.

18 Then fear and trembling fell upon all the people: for they said: There is no truth, nor justice among them: for they have broken the covenant, and the oath which they made.

19 And Bacchides removed the camp from Jerusalem, and pitched in Bethzecha: and he sent, and took many of them that were fled away from him, and some of the people he killed, and threw them into a great pit.

20 Then he committed the country to Alcimus. and left with him troops to help him. So any longer.

Bacchides went away to the king:

39 Then Nicanor went out from Jerusalens, and encamped near to Bethoron: and an army of Syria joined him.

40 But Judas pitched in Adarsa with three thousand men: and Judas prayed, and said:

41 § O Lord, when they that were sent by king Sennacherib blasphemed thee, an Angel went out, and slew of them a hundred and eighty-five thousand:

42 Even so destroy this army in our sight to day, and let the rest know that he hath spoken ill against thy sanctuary: and judge thou him according to his wickedness.

43 And the armies joined battle on the thirteenth day of the month Adar: and the army of Nicanor was defeated, and he himself was first slain in the battle.

44 And when his army saw that Nicanor was slain, they threw away their weapons, and fled:

7 And Judas saw that his army slipt away, and the battle pressed upon him, and his heart was cast down: because he had not time to gather them together, and he was discouraged. 8 Then he said to them that remained: Let

10 Then Judas said: God forbid we should do this thing, and fice away from them : but if our time be come, let us die manfully for our brethren, and let us not stain our glory.

11 And the army removed out of the camp, and they stood over-against them: and the horsenum were divided into two troops, and the slingers, and the archers went before the army, and they that were in the front were all men of velour.

25 And Bacchides chose the wicked men, and made them lords of the country:

And there was made great tribulation in Israel, such as was not since the day, that there

31 So Jonathan took upon him the government at that time, and rose up in the place of Judas his brother.

32 And Bacchides had knowledge of it, and sought to kill him.

33 And Jonathan and Simon his brother, knew it, and all that were with them: and they fled into the desert of Thecua, and they pitched by the water of the lake Asphar.

34 And Bacchides understood it, and he came himself with all his army over the Jordan on the Babbath-day.

35 And Jonathan sent his brother a captain of the people, to desire the Nabutheaus his friends, that they would lend them their equipage, which was copious.

36 And the children of Jambri came forth out of Madaba, and took John, and all that he had,

and went away with them.

37 After this it was told Jonathan, and Simon his brother, that the children of Jambri made a great marriage, and were bringing the bride out of Madaba, the daughter of one of the great princes of Chanaan with great pomp.

38 And they remembered the blood of John their brother: and they went up, and hid themselves under the covert of the mountain. 39 And they lifted up their eyes, and saw and beheld a tumult, and great preparation: and the bridegreom came forth, and his friends, and his brethren to meet them with timbrels and musical instruments, and many weapons.

40 And they rose up against them from the place where they lay in ambush, and slew them and there fell many wounded, and the rest fled into the mountains, and they took all their speils:

41 And the marriage was turned into mourn. ing, and the noise of their musical impruments into lamentation.

42 And they took revenge for the blood of their brother : and they returned to the bank of the Jordan.

$3 And Bacchides heard it, and he came on the sabbath-day even to the bank of the Jorday with a great power.

44 And Jonathan said to his company : Let us arise, and fight against our enemies : for it is not now as yesterday, and the day before.

45 For behold the battle is before us, and the water of the Jordan on this side and on that side, and banks, and marshes, and woods: and there is no place for us to turn aside.

46 * Now therefore ery ye to heaven, that ye may be delivered from the hand of your enemies.

And they joined battle.

47 And Jonathan stretched forth his hand to strike Bacehides, but he turned away from him backwards.

48 And Jonathan, and they that were with him leapt into the Jordan, and swam over the Cordan to them :

49 And there fell of Bacchides's side that day a thousand men: and they returned to

Jerusalem,

50 And they built strong cities in Judea, the fortress that was in Jericho, and in Ammaus, and in Bethoron, and in Bethel, and Thamnata, and Phara, and Thopo, with high walls, and gates, and bars.

51 And he placed garrisons in them, that they might wage war against Israel:

52 And he fortified the city of Bethsura, and Gazara, and the eastle, and set garrisons in them, and provisions of victuals:

53 And he took the sons of the chief men of the country for hostages, and put them in the Eastle in Jerusalem in custody.

54 † Now in the year one hundred and fiftythree, the second month, Alcimus commanded the walls of the inner court of the sanctaary to be thrown down, and the works of the prophets to be destroyed: and he began to destroy.

55 At that time Alcimus was struck: and his works were hindered, and his mouth was stopped, and he was taken with a palsy, so that he could no more speak a word, nor give order concerning his house.

56 And Alcimus died at that time in great forment.

57 And Bacchides saw that Aleimus was dead: and he returned to the king, and the land was quiet for two years.

58 $ And all the wicked held a council, saying: Behold Jonathan, and they that are with him, dwell at ease and without fear: now therefore let us bring Bacchides hither, and he shall ake them all in one night.

59 So they went, and gave him counsel.

60 And he arose to come with a great army: and he sent secretly letters to his adherents that were in Judea, to seize upon Jonathan, and them that were with him : but they could not, for their design was known to them.

61 And be apprehended of the men of the country, that were the principal authors of the mischief, fifty men, and he slew them.

62 And Jonathan, and Simon, and they that were with him, retired into Bethbessen, which is in the lesert and he repaired the breaches thereof, and they fortified it.

63 And when Bacchides knew it, he gathered together all his multitude: and sent word to them that were of Judea.

64 And he came, and camped above Beth-Jessen, and fought against it many days, and made engines.

55 And king Ptolemee answered, saying: HAPPY is the day wherein thou didst return to the land of thy fathers, and sattest in the throne of their kingdom.

56 And now I will do to thee as thou hast written: but meet me at Ptolemais, that we may see one another, and I may give her to thee as thou hast said.

57 So Ptolemee went out of Egypt, with Cleopatra his daughter, and he came to Ptolemais in the hundred and sixty-second year. *

58 And king Alexander met him, and he gave him his daughter Cleopatra; and he celebrated her marriage at Ptolemais, with great glory, after the manner of kings.

59 And king Alexander wrote to Jonathan, that he should come and meet him.

60 And he went honourably to Ptolemais, and he met there the two kings, and he gave them much silver, and gold, and presents: and he found favour in their sight.

61 And some pestilent men of Israel, men of a wicked life, assembled themselves against him to accuse him : and the king gave no heed to them.

62 And he commanded that Jonathan's garments should be taken off, and that he should be clothed with purple; and they did so. And the king made him sit by himself.

63 And he said to his princes: Go out with him into the midst of the city, and make proclamation, that no man complain against him of any matter and that no man trouble him for any manner of cause.

64 So when his accusers saw his glory proclaimed, and him clothed with purple, they all fled away.

65 And the king magnified him, and enrolled him amongst his chief friends, and made him governor, and partaker of his dominion.

68 And Jonathan returned into Jerusalem with peace and joy.

67 † In the year one hundred and sixty-five Demetrius the son of Demetrius came from Crets into the land of his fathers.

68 And king Alexander heard of it, and was much troubled, and returned to Antioch.

69 And king Demetrius made Apollonius his eneral, who was governor of Celesyria: and he gathered together a great army, and came to Jamia: and he sent to Jonathan the high priout,

70 Saying: Thou alone standest against us, and I am laughed at, and reproached, because

74 Now when Jonathan heard the words of Apollonius, he was moved in his mind: and he chose ten thousand men, and went out of Jerusalem, and Simon his brother met him to help

75 And they pitched their tents near Joppe, but they shut him out of the city: because a garrison of Apollonius was in Joppe, and ho laid siege to it.

76 And they that were in the city being affrighted, opened the gates to him: so Jonathan took Joppe.

77 And Apollonius heard of it, and he took three thousand horsemen, and a great army.

78 And he went to Azotus as one that was making a journey, and immediately he went forth into the plain: because he had a great number of horsemen, and he trusted in them. And Jonathan followed after him to Azotus, and they joined battle.
79 And Apollonius left privately in the camp

a thousand horsemen behind them.

80 And Jonathan knew that there was an ambush behind him, and they surrounded his army, and cast darts at the people from morning till evening.

81 But the people stood still, as Jonathan had commanded them: and so their horses were fatigued.

82 Then Simon drew forth his army, and attacked the legion for the horsemen were wearied: and they were discomfitted by him. and fled.

83 And they that were scattered about the plain, fled into Azotus, and went into Bethdagon their idol's temple, there to save themselves.

84 But Jonathan set fire to Azotus, and the cities that were round about it, and took the spoils of them, and the temple of Dagon: and all them that were fled into it, he burnt with fire.

88 And it came to pass: when Alexander the king heard these words, that he honoured Jonathan yet more.

89 And he sent him a buckle of gold, as the custom is to be given to such as are of the royal blood. And he gave him Accaron and all the borders thereof in possession.

44 And Jonathan sent him three thousand vaiant men to Antioch: and they came to the king, and the king was very glad of their coming.

45 And they that were of the city assembled themselves together, to the number of a hundred and twenty thousand men, and would have killed the king.

46 And the king fled into the palace: and they of the city kept the passages of the city, and began to fight.

47 And the king called the Jews to his assistance: and they came to him all at once, and they all dispersed themselves through the city.

48 And they slew in that day a hundred thousand men, and they set fire to the city, and got many spoils that day, and delivered the king.

- 3 And exhorted them, saying: You know what great battles I and my brethren, and the house of my father, have fought for the laws, and the sanctuary, and the distresses that we have seen:

7 And the spirit of the people was enkindled as soon as they heard these words:

8 And they answered with a loud voice, saying . Thou art our leader in the place of Judas, and Jonathan thy brother:

9 Fight thou our battles, and we will do

10 So gathering together all the men of war, he made haste to finish all the walls of Jerusalem, and he fortified it round about.

23 And when he approached to Bascama, he slew Jonathan and his sons there.

24 And Tryphon returned, and went into his own conntry.

25 And Simon sent, and took the bones of Jonathan his brother, and buried them in Modin, the city of his fathers.

26 And all Israel bewailed him with great lamentation: and they mourned for him many days. 27 And Simon built over the sepulchre of his father and of his brethren, a building lofty to the sight, of polished stone behind and before:

28 And he set up seven pyramids one against another for his father and his mother, and his four brethren:

29 And round about these he set great pillars: and upon the pillars arms for a perpetua memory: and by the arms ships carved, which might be seen by all that sailed on the sea.

30 This is the sepulchre that he made in Modin even unto this day.

31 But Tryphon when he was upon a journey with the young king Antiochus, treacherously slew him.

32 And he reigned in his place, and put on the crown of Asia; and brought great evils upon the land.

33 And Simon built up the strongholds of Judea, fortifying them with high towers, and great walls, and gates, and bars : and he stored up vietuals in the fortresses.

34 And Simon chose men and sent to king Demetrius, to the end that he should grant an immunity to the land : for all that Tryphon did was to spoil.

35 And king Demetrius, in answer to the request, wrote a letter in this manner:

3 Aud he went, and defeated the army of Demetrius: and took him, and breught him to Arsaces, and he put him into custody.

4 And all the land of Juda was at rest all the days of Simon, and he sought the good of his nation: and his power, and his glory please them well all his days,

5 And with all his glory he took Joppe for a haven, and made an entrance to the isles of the sea

6 And he enlarged the bounds of his nation, and made himself master of the country.

7 And he gathered together a great number of captives, and had the dominion of Gazara and of Bethsura, and of the castle: and tock away all uncleanness out of it, and there was none that resisted him

8 And every man tilled his land with peace: and the land of Juda yielded her increase, and the trees of the fields their fruit.

9 The ancient men sat all in the streets, and treated together of the good things of the kind, and the young men put on them glory, and the tobes of war.

10 And he provided victuals for the cities and he appointed that they should be furnished with ammunition, so that the fame of his glory was renowned even to the end of the earth.

11 He made peace in the land, and Israel rejoiced with great joy.

12 And every man sat under his vine, and under his fig-tree : and there was none to make

13 There was none left in the land to fight against them : kings were discomfited in these

14 And he strengthened all those of his people that were brought low, and he sought that law, and took away every unjust and wicked man.

15 He glorified the sanctuary, and multiplied the vessels of the holy places.

16 And it was heard at Rome, and as far as Sparta, that Jonathan was dead : and they were very sorry.

17 But when they heard that Simon his brother was made high priest in his place, and was possessed of all the country, and the cities therein:
18 They wrote to him in tables of brass, to renew the friendship and alliance which they had made with Judas, and with Jonathan his brethren, 19 And they were read before the assembly in Jerusalem. And this is the copy of the letters that the Spartans sent.

20 THE PRINCES and the cities of the Spartans to Simon the high priest, and to the ancients, and the priests, and the rest of the people of the Jews their brethren, greeting

21 The ambassadors that were sent to onpeople, have told us of your glory, and honour, and joy: and we rejoiced at their coming.

22 And we registered what was said by them in the councils of the people in this manner Numenius the son of Antiochus, and Antipate the son of Jason, ambassadors of the Jews, came to us to renew the former friendship with us.

23 And it pleased the people to receive the men honourably, and to put a copy of their words in the public records, to be a memoral to the people of the Spartana. And we have written a copy of them to Simon the high priest.

24 And after this Simon sent Numenius to Rame, with a great shield of gold, of the weight of a thousand pounds, to confirm the league with them. And when the people of Rome hadheard we give to Simon, and his sons?

26 For he hath restored his brethren, and hath driven away in fight the enemics of Israel from them; and they decreed him liberty, and registered it in tables of brass, and set it upon pillars in mount Sion. 27 And this is a copy of the writing. MIGHTEENTH day of the month Elul, in the year * one hundred and seventy-two, being the third Zear under Simon the high priest at Asaramel, 28 In a great assembly of the priests, and of the people, and the princes of the nation, and the ancients of the country, these things were notified: Forasmach as there have often been wars in our country,

29 And Simon the son of Mathathias of the children of Jarib, and his brethren have put themselves in danger, and resisted the enemies of their nation, for the maintenance of their holy places, and the law: and have raised their nation to great glory.

30 And Jonathan gathered together his nation, and was made their high priest, and he was laid to his people.

31 And their enemics desired to tread down and destroy their country, and to stretch forth their hands against their holy places.

32 Then Simon resisted and fought for his nation, and laid out much of his meacy, and. armed the valiant men of his nation, and gavo them wages:

35 And he fortified the cities of Judea, and Bethsura that lieth in the borders of Judea, where the armour of the enemies was before:

and he placed there a garrison of Jews.
34 And he fortified Joppe which lieth by the 322 : and Gazara, which bordereth upon Azotus, Wherein the enemies dwelt before, and he placed Jews here: and furnished them with all things convenient for their reparation.

35 And the people seeing the acts of Simon, and to what glory he meant to bring his nation, made him their prince, and high priest, because he had done all these things, and for the justice, and faith, which he kept to his nation, and for hat he sought by all means to advance his people.

36 And in his days things prospered in his hands, so that the heathens were taken away out of their country, and they also that were in the city of David in Jerusasem in the castle, out of which they issued forth, and profaned all places round about the sanctuary, and did much .evil to its purity.

27 And he placed therein Jews for the de-fence of the country, and of the city, and he raised up the walls of Jerusalem.

28 And king Demetrius confirmed him in the bigh priesthood.

39 As cording to these things he made him nis friend, and glorified him with great glory.

47 For he had heard that the Romans had called the Jews their friends, and confederates, and brethren, and that they had received Sia's ambassadors with honour :

And that the Jews, and their priests had consented that he should be their prince, and high priest for ever, till there should arise a faithful prophet:

43 And that he should have care of the holy places: and that he should be obeyed by all, and that all the writings in the country should be made in his name : and that he should be clothed with purple, and gold :

44 And that it should not be lawful for any of the people, or of the priests, to disannul any of these things, or to gainsay his words, or to call together an assembly in the country without him: or to be clothed with purple, or to wear a buckle of gold.

45 And whosoever shall do otherwise, or shah make void any of these things shall be punished. 46 And it pleased all the people to establish Simon, and to do according to these words.

47 And Simon accepted thereof; and was well pleased to execute the office of the high priesthood, and to be captain, and prince of the na. tion of the Jews, and of the priests, and to be chief over all.

48 And they commanded that this writing should be put in tables of brass, and that they should be set up within the compass of the sanctuary, in a conspicuous place :

Antiochus son of Demetrius honours Simon. The Romans write to divers nations in favour of the Jews.

Antiochus quarets with Simon, and sends troops to amony him.

ND † king Antiochus the son of Demetrius sent letters from the isles of the sea to Simon the priest, and prince of the nation of the Jews, and to all the people:

2 And the contents were these: King Antia chus to Simon the high priest, and to the natical of the Jews, greeting.

3 Forasmuch as certain pestilent men have usurped the kingdom of our fathers, and my purpose is to challenge the kingdom, and to restors it to its former estate : and I have chosen a great army, and have built ships of war.

4 And I design to go through the country that I may take revenge of them that have destroyed our country, and that have made many cities desolate in my realm.

5 Now therefore I confirm unto thee all the oblations which all the kings before me remitted to thee, and what other gifts soever they remitted to thee:

6 And I give thee leave to coin thy own money in thy country:

7 And let Jerusalem be holy and free, and af the armour that hath been made, and the fortresses which thou hast built, and which thou keepest in thy hands, let them remain to thee. 8 And all that is due to the king, and what should be the king's hereafter, from this present and for ever, is forgiven thee.

9 And when we shall have recovered our king dom, we will glorify thee, and thy nation, and the temple with great glory, so that your glory shall be made manifest in all the earth.

10 In the year one hundred and seventy-four; Antiochus entered into the land of his fathers, and all the forces assembled to him, so that few were left with Tryphon.

11 And king Antiochus pursued after him, and he fled along by the sea coast and came to Done

12 For he perceived that evils were gathered together upon him, and his troops had forsaken him.

13 And Antiochus camped above Dora with a bundred and twenty thousand men of war, and right thousand horsemen:

14 And he invested the city, and the ships drew near by sea: and they annoyed the city by land, and by sea, and suffered none to come in, or to go out

15 And Numenius, and they that had been with him, came from the city of Rome, having setters written to the kings, and countries, the contents whereof were these:

16 Lucius the consul of the Romans, to king Ptolemee, greeting.

17 The ambassadors of the Jews our friends came to us, to renew the former friendship and alliance, being sent from Simon the high priest, and the people of the Jews.

18 And they brought also a shield of gold of a thousand pounds.

19 It hath seemed good therefore to us to write to the kings, and countries, that they should do them no harm, nor fight against them, their cities, or countries: and that they should give no aid to them that fight against them.

20 And it hath seemed good to us to receive the shield of them.

21 If therefore any pestilent men are fled out of their country to you, deliver them to Simon the high priest, that he may punish them according to their law.

22 These same things were written to king Dometric, and to Attalus, and to Ariarathea, and to . Laces

23 And to all the countries : and to Lampsacus, and to the Spartans, and to Delus, and Myndus, and Sieyon, and Caria, and Samus, and Panmylia, and Lycia, and Alicarnassus, and Cos, and Side, and Aradus, and Rhodes, and Phaselis, and Gortyna, and Gnidus, and Cyprus, and Cyrene.

24 And they wrote a copy thereof to Simon the high priest, and to the people of the Jews.

25 But king Antiochus moved his camp to Dora the second time, assaulting it continually, and making engines: and he shut up Tryphon, hat he could not go out.

26 And Simon sent to him two thousand chosen men to aid him, silver also, and gold, and abundance of furniture.

27 And he would not receive them, but broke all the covenant that he had made with him before, and alienated himself from him.

28 And he sont to him Athenobius one of his friends, to treat with him, saying : You hold Joppe, and Gazara, and the castle that is in Jerusalem, which are cities of my kingdom :

29 Their borders you have wasted, and you have made great havor in the land, and have got the dominion of many places in my kingdom.

30 Now therefore deliver up the cities that you have taken, and the tributes of the places

32 So Athenobius the king's friend came to Jerusalem, and saw the glory of Simon and his magnificence in gold, and silver, and his great equipage, and he was astonished, and told him

33 And Simon answered him, and said to him: We have neither taken other men's land, neither do we hold that which is other men's : but the inheritance of our fathers, which was for some time unjustly possessed by our enemics.

34 But we having opportunity claim the inheritance of our fathers.

35 And as to thy complaints concerning Joppe and Gazara, they did great harm to the people, and to our country: yet for these we will give a hundred talents. And Athenobius answered him

36 But returning in a rage to the king, made report to him of these words, and of the glory of Simon, and of all that he had seen, and the king was exceeding angry.

37 And Tryplion fled away by ship to Orthosias.

39 And he commanded him to march with hts army towards Judea: and he commanded him to build up Gedor, and to fortify the gates of the city, and to war against the people. But the king himself pursued after Tryphon.

40 And Cendebeus came to Jamnia, and began to provoke the people, and to ravage Judea, and to take the people prisoners, and to kill, and to build Gedor.

41 And he placed there horsemen, and an army: that they might issue forth, and make incursions upon the ways of Judea, as the king had commanded him.

The sons of Simon defeat the triops of Antiochne, Simon with two of his sons are treacherously murdered by Pto lomee his son-in-law.

THEN * John came up from Gazara, and told THEN * John came up from Gazara, and told Simon his father what Cendebeus had done against their people.

2 And Simon called his two eldest sons, Judas and John, and said to them: I and my brethren, and my father's house, have fought against the enemies of Israel from our youth even to this day: and things have prospered so well in our hands that we have delivered Israel oftentimes. 3 And now I am old, but be you instead of me, and my brethren, and go out, and fight for our nation: and the help from heaven be with you. 4 Then he chose out of the country twenty thousand fighting men, and horsemen, and they went forth against Cendebras: and they rested in Modin.

5 And they arose in the morning, and wend into the plain: and behold a very great army of footmen, and horsemen came against them, and there was a running river between them.

6 And he and his people pitched their camp over-against them, and he saw that the people were afraid to go over the river, so he went over first: then the mon seeing him, passed ever af

7 And he divided the people, and set the horsemen in the midst of the footmen: out the horsemen of the enemics were very numerous.

8 And they a unded the holy trumpets: and Cendebeus and his army were put to flight: and there fell many of them wounded, and the rest fled into the strong-hold.

9 At that time Judas John's brother was brounded: but John pursued after them, till he zame to Cedron, which he had built:

10 And they fled even to the towers that were in the fields of Azotus, and he burnt them with And there fell of them two thousand men, and he returned into Judea in peace.

11 Now Ptolomee the son of Abobus was appointed captain in the plain of Jericho, and he had abundance of silver and gold,

12 For he was son-in-law of the high-priest. 13 And his heart was lifted up, and he de-eigned to make himself master of the country, and he purposed treachery against Simon, and his sons, to destroy them.

14 Now Simon, as he was going through the cities that were in the country of Judea, and taking care for the good ordering of them, went down to Jericho, he and Mathathias and Judas his sons, in the year " one hundred and seventyseven, the eleventh month: the same is the month Sabath.

16 And when Simon and his sons had drunk plentifully, Ptolomee and his en rose up and took their weapons, and entered into the ban queting-place, and slew him, and his two sons and some of his servants.

17 And he committed a g eat treachery in Israel, and rendered evil for good.

18 And Ptolomee wrote these things, and sent to the king that he should send him and army to aid him, and he would deliver him the country, and their cities, and tributes.

John: and to the tribunes he sent letters to come to him, and that he would give them al-

20 And he sent others to take Jerusalem, and the mountain of the temple.

21 Now one running before, told John in Gazara, that his father and his brethren were slain, and that he hath sent men to kill thee also.

22 But when he heard it he was exceedingly afraid: and he apprehended the men that came to kill him, and he put them to death: for he knew that they sought to make him away,

23 And as concerning the rest of the act of John, and his wars, and the worthy deeds, which he bravely achieved, and the building of the walls, which he made, and the things that he did:

24 Behold these are written in the book of the days of his priesthood, from the time that he was made high priest after his father.

THE SECOND

BOOK OF MACHABEES.

This second book of Machabers is not a continuation of the history contained in the first: nor does it come down so low as the first does; but relates many of the same facts more at large, and adds other remarkable particulars, omitted in the first book, relating to the state of the Jews, as well before as under the persecution of ANTIOCHUS. The author, who is not the same with that of the first book, has given (as we learn from chap, it. 20, &c.) a short abstract of what Jason of Cyrons had written in the five volumes, concerning Junas and his brethren. He wrose in Greek and begins with two letters, sent by the Jews of Jerusalem to their brethren in Egypt.

Letters of the Lew of Jerusulem of them that were in Egypt. They give thanks for their delivery from Antiockus; and exhort their brethren to keep the feast of the dedication of the altur, and of the miraculous fire.

out Egypt, the brethren, the Jews that are in Jerusalem, and in the land of Judea, send health, and good peace.

2 May God be gracions to you, and remember his covenant that he made with Abraham, and lsaac, and Jacob, his faithful servants: 3 And give you all a heart to worship him, and to do his will with a great heart, and a willing mind. 4 May he open your heart in his law, and in his commandments, and send you peace.

5 May he hear your prayers, and be reconciled unto you, and never forsake you in the evil 'ime.

14 For Antiochus, with his friends, came to the place as though he would marry her, and that he might receive great sums of moncy under the title of a dowry.

15 And when the priests of Nanea had set it forth, and he with a small company had entered into the compass of the temple, they shut the temple.

16 When Antiochus was come in: and opening a secret entrance of the temple, they cast stones and slew the leader, and them that were with him, and hewed them in pieces, and cutting off their heads they threw them forth.

17 Blessed be God in all things, who hath delivered up the wicked.

18 Therefore whereas we purpose to keep the purification of the temple on the five and twentieth day of the month of Casleu, we thought it necessary to signify it to you: that you also may keep the day of Scenopegia, and the day of the fire, that was given when Nehemias offered sacrifice, after the temple and the altar was built.

19 For when our fathers were led into Persia, the priests that then were worshippers of God, took privately the fire from the altar, and hid it in a valley where there was a deep pit without water, and there they kept it safe, so that the place was unknown to all men.

20 But when many years had passed, and it pleased God that Nehemias should be sent by the king of Persia, he sent some of the posterity of those priests that had hid it, to seek for the fire: and as they told us, they found no fire, but thick water.

21 Then he bade them draw it up, and bring 1: to him : and the priest Nehemias commanded the sacrifices that were laid on, to be sprinkled with the same water, both the wood, and the things that were laid upon it.

22 And when this was done, and the time came that the sun shone out, which before was in a cloud, there was a great fire kindled, so that all wondered.

23 And all the priests made prayer, while the satrifice was consuming, Jonathan beginning, and the rest answering.

24 And the prayer of Nchemias was after this manner: O Lord God, Creator of all things, dreadful and strong, just and merciful, who alone art the good king,

25 Who alone art gracious, who alone art just, and almighty, and eternal, who deliverest Israel from all evil, who didst choose the fathers, and lidst sauctify them:

32 Which being done, there was kindled a flame from them : but it was consumed by the light that shined from the altar.

33 And when this matter became public, it was told to the king of Persia, that in the place where the priests that were led away, had hid the fire, there appeared water, with which No-hemias and they that were with him had purifled the sacrifices.

34 And the king considering, and diligently examining the matter, made a temple for it that he might prove what had happened.

35 And when he had proved it, he gave the priests many goods, and divers presents, and he took and distributed them so them with his own hand.

СНАР. П.

A continuation of the second letter. If Jeremias': his-ing the ark at the time of the captivity. The author's TOW it is found in the descriptions of Jeremias the prophet, that he commanded them that went into captivity, so take the fire, as it hath been signified, and how he gave charge to them that were carried away into captivity.

2 And how he gave them the law that they should not forget the commandments of the Lord, and that they should not err in their minds, seeing the idols of gold, and silver, and the ornaments of them.

3 And with other such like speeches, he exhorted them that they would not remove the law from their heart.

4 It was also contained in the same writing how the prophet, being warned by God, commanded that the tabernacle and the ark should accompany him, till he came forth to the mountain † where Moses went up, and saw the inheritance of God.

5 And when Jeremias came thither he found a hollow cave: and he carried in thither the tabernacle, and the ark, and the altar of incense, and so stopped the door.

6 Then some of them that followed him, came up to mark the place : but they could not find it.

7 And when Jeremias perceived it, he blamed them, saying : The place shall be unknown, till God gather together the congregation of the people, and receive them to mercy.

8 And then the Lord will shew these thing and the majesty of the Lord shall appear, and there shall be a cloud as it was also shewed to Moses, I and he shewed it when Solomon pray that the place might be semented to the greatfod

9 For he treated wisdom in a magnificent manuer : and like a wise man, he offered the saorifice of the dedication, and of the finishing of

10 * And as Moses prayed to the Lord, and are came down from heaven, and consumed the nelocaust: † so Solomon also prayed, and fire tente down from heaven and consumed the holocaust.

11 And Moses said: ‡ Because the sin-offering was not eaten, it was consumed.

12 So Solomon also celebrated the dedication eight days.

13 And these same things were set down in the memoirs, and commentaries of Nehemias: and how he made a library, and gathered together out of the countries, the books both of the prophets, and of David, and the epistles of the kings, and concerning the holy gifts.

14 And in like manner Judas also gathered together all such things as were lost by the war we had, and they are in our possession.

15 Wherefore if you want these things, send some that may fetch them to you.

16 As we are then about to celebrate the purification we have written unto you: and you shall do well, if you keep the same days.

17 And we hope that God who hath delivered his people, and hath rendered to all the inherltance, and the kingdom, and the priesthood, and the sanctuary,

18 § As he promised in the law, will shortly have mercy upon us, and will gather us together from every land under heaven into the holy

: lace. 19 For he hath delivered us out of great perils, and hath cleansed the place.

20 Now as concerning Judas Machabeus, and his brethren, and the purification of the great temple, and the dedication of the altar.

21 As also the wars against Antiochus the Il-

Instrious, and his son Eupator:

23 And recovered again the most renowned temple in all the world, and delivered the city, and restored the laws that were abolished, the Lord with all clemency shewing mercy to them.

24 And all such things as have been comprised in five books by Jason of Cyrene, we have attempted to abridge in one book.

25 For considering the multitude of books, and the difficulty that they find that desire to undertake the narrations of histories, because of the multitude of the matter,

26 We have taken care for those indeed that are willing to read, that it might be a pleasure of mind: and for the studious, that they may more easily commit to memory: and that all that read might receive profit.

CHAP. III.

Heliodorus is sent by king Seleucus to icke away the treasures deposited in the temple. He is struck by God, and healed by the prayers of the high priest.

THEREFORE when the holy city was inhabited with all peace, and the laws as yet were very well kept, because of the godliness of Onias the high priest, and the hatred his soul had of evil,

2 It came to pass that even the kings themsolves, and the princes esteemed the place wor-thy of the highest honour, and glorified the temple with very great gifts:

3 So that Seleucus king of Asia allowed out of his revenues all the charges belonging to the ministry of the sacrifices.

4 But one Simon of the tribe of Benjamin, who was appointed overseer of the temple, strove in opposition to the high priest, to bring about some unjust thing in the city.

5 And when he could not overcome Onias, he went to Apollonius the son of Tharseas, who at that time was governor of Celesyria, and

Phenicia:

6 And told him, that the treasury in Jerusalem was full of immense sums of money, and the common store was infinite, which did not belong to the account of the sacrifices: and that it was possible to bring all into the king's hands.

7 Now when Apollonius had given the king notice concerning the money that he was told of, he called for Heliodorus, who had the charge over his affairs, and sent him with commission to bring him the foresaid money.

8 So Heliodorus forthwith began his journey, under a colour of visiting the cities of Celesyria and Phericia, but indeed to fulfil the king's purpose.

And when he was come to Jerusalem, and had been courteously received in the city by the high priest, he told him what information had been given concerning the money: and doclared the cause for which he was come: and asked if these things were so indeed.

10 Then the high priest told him that there were sums deposited, and provisions for Consistence of the widows and the fatheries.

Il And that some part of that which wheted.

Simon had given intelligence of belonged to Mircanus son of Tobias, a man of great dignity: ane that the whole was four hundred talents of giver, and two hundred of gold:

12 But that to deceive them who had trusted to the place and temple which is honoured foroughout the whole world, for the reverence and hedness of it, was a thing which could not by any means be done.

13 But he, by reason of the orders he had received from the king, said, that by all means the money must be carried to the king.

14 So on the day he had appointed, Heliodo-s entered in to order this matter. But there rus entered in to order this matter. was no small terror throughout the whole city.

15 And the priests prostrated themselves becare the altar in their priests' vestments, and called upon him from heaven, who made the law concerning things given to be kept, that he would preserve them safe, for them that had deposited them.

16 Now whosoever saw the countenance of the high priest, was wounded in heart: for his face, and the changing of his colour, declared the inward sorrow of his mind.

17 For the man was so compassed with sadness and horror of the body, that it was manifest to them that beheld him, what sorrow he had in his heart.

18 Others also came flocking together out of their houses, praying and making public supplication, because the place was like to come into centempt.

- 19 And the women, girded with haircloth about their breasts, came together in the streets. And the virgins also that were shut up, came forth some to Onias, and some to the walls, and others looked out of the windows.
- 20 And all holding up their hands towards beaven, made supplication.

21 For the expectation of the mixt multitude, and of the high priest who was in an agony, would have moved any one to pity.

22 And these indeed called upon almighty God, to preserve the things that had been committed to them, safe and sure for those that had committed them.

23 But Heliodorus executed that which he had resolved on, himself being present in the same place with his guard about the treasury.

24 But the spirit of the almighty God gave a great evidence of his presence, so that all that had presumed to obey him, falling down by the power of God, were struck with fainting and dread.

25 For there appeared to them a horse with a terrible sider upon him, adorned with a very licit covering: and he ran fiercely and struck eliodorus with his fore-feet, and he that sat on him, seemed to have armour of gold. 26 Moreover there appeared two other young 3.18. beautiful and strong, bright and glorious, and in comely apparel: who stood by him, on aith or side, and scourged him without ceasing with many stripes.

27 And Heliodorus suddenly fell to the ground, and they took him up covered with great darksorred him out.

28 So he that came with many servants, and A his great into the aforesaid treasury, was reried out no one being able to help him, the manifest power of God being known.

29 And he indeed by the power of God lay speechless, and without all hope of recovery, 30 But they praised the Lord because he had glerified his place: and the temple, that a little before was full of fear and trouble, when the almighty Lord appeared, was filled with joy and gladness.

$1 Then some of the friends of Hellodorus forthwith begged of Onias, that he would call upon the most High to grant him his life, who was ready to give up the ghost.

32 So the high priest considering that the king might perhaps suspect that some mischief had been done to Heliodorus by the Jews, offered a sacrifice of health for the recovery of the man.

33 And when the high priest was praying; the same young men in the same clothing stood by Heliodorus, and said to him: Give thanks to Onias the priest: because for his sake the Lord hath granted thee life.

34 And thou having been scourged by God, declare unto all men the great works and the power of God. And having spoken thus, they appeared no more.

35 So Heliodorus after he had offered a sacrifice to God, and made great vows to him, that had granted him life, and given thanks to Onias, taking his troops with him, returned to the king.

36 And he testified to all men the works of the great God, which he had seen with his own eyes.

37 And when the king asked Heliodorus, who might be a fit man to be sent yet once more to Jerusalem, he said :

38 If thou hast any enemy or traitor to thy kingdom, send him thither, and thou shalt receive him again scourged, if so be he escape: for there is undoubtedly in that place a certain power of God.

39 For he that hath his dwelling in the heavens, is the visiter, and protector of that place, and he striketh and destroyeth them that come to do evil to it.

40 And the things concerning Heliodorus, and the keeping of the treasury fell out in this manner.

Onias has recourse to the king. The ambition and wick-edness of Jason and Menetaus. Onias is treacherously murdered.

BUT Simon, of whom we spoke before, who was the betrayer of the money, and of his country, spoke ill of Cnias, as though he had incited Heliodorus to do these things, and had been the promoter of evils:

2 And he presumed to call him a traitor to the kingdom, who provided for the city, and defended his nation, and was zealous for the law of God.

3 But when the enmitties proceeded so far, that murders also were committed by some of Simon's friends:

4 Onias considering the danger of this contention, and that Apollonius, who was the governor of Celesyria, and Phenicia, was outrageons which increased the malice of Simon. went to the king,

5 Not to be an accuser of his countrymen, but with a view to the common good of all the peoplo.

6 For he saw that, except the king took care it was impossible that matters should be settled in peace, or that Simon would cease from his folly.

7 But after the death of Seleucus, when Antiochus, who was called the Illustrious, had taken possession of the kingdom, Jason the brother of Onias ambitiously sought the high priesticod:

8 * And went to me king, promising him three hundred and sixty talents of silver, and out of other revenues fourscore talents,

9 Besides this he promised also a hundred and fifty more, if he might have license to set bim up a place for exercise, and a place for youth, and to entitle them, that were at Jerusaem, Antiochians.

10 + Which when the king had granted, and had gotten the rule into his hands, forthwith he began to bring over his countrymen to the fashion of the Heathens.

11 And abolishing those things, which had been decreed of special favour by the kings in behalf of the Jews, by the means of John the father of that Eupolemus, who went ambassador to Rome to make amity and alliance, he disannulled the lawful ordinances of the citizens ind brought in fashions that were perverse.

12 For he had the boldness to set up, ‡ under the very castle, a place of exercise, and to put all the choicest youths in brothel houses.

18 Now this was not the beginning, but an increase, and progress of heathenish and foreign manners, through the abominable and unheard of wickedness of Jason, that impious wretch and no priest.

14 Insomuch that the priests were not now octupied about the offices of the altar, but despisng the temple and neglecting the sacrifices, aastened to be partakers of the games, and of the unlawful allowance thereof, and of the exercise of the discus.

15 And setting nought by the honours of their athers, they esteemed the Grecian glories for the best :

16 For the sake of which they incurred a dangerous contention, and followed earnestly their ordinances, and in all things they coveted to be ike them, who were their enemies and mur-

17 For acting wickedly against the laws of God doth not pass unpunished : but this the time bllowing will declare.

18 Now when the game that was used every afth year was kept at Tyre, the king being present, 19 The wicked Jason sent from Jerusalem sinful men to carry three hundred didrachmas of ulver for the sacrifice of Hercules; but the bearers thereof desired it might not be bestowed on the sacrifices, because it was not necessary, but might be deputed for other charges.

20 So the money was appointed by him that ent it to the sacrifice of Hercules: but because of them that carried it was employed for the making of galleys.

21 Now when Apollonius the son of Mnestheus was sent into Egypt to treat with the nobles of king Philometor, and Antiochus understood that he was wholly excluded from the Mairs of the kingdom, consulting his own interest, he departed thence and came to Joppe, and from thence to Jerusalem.

22 Where he was received in a magnificent manner by Jason, and the city, and came in with torch-lights, and with praises, and from thence he returned with his army into Phenicia.

23 Three years afterwards Jason sent Menelaus brother of the aforesaid Simon, to carry money to the king, and to bring answers from him concerning certain necessary affairs.

24 But he being recommended to the king,

A. M. 3829. A.C. 175. -+ A. M. 3823.— I 1 Mes. 1. 15. A. M. 3834. A. C. 170. 724

when he had magnified the appearance of his power, got the high priesthood for himself, by offering more than Jason by three hundred talents of silver.

25 So having received the king's mandate, ag returned bringing nothing worthy of the high priesthood: but having the mind of a cruel to rant, and the rage of a savage beast.

26 Then Jason, who had undermined his own brother, being himself undermined, was driver out a fugitive into the country of the Ammanites.

27 So Menelaus got the principality: but as for the money he had promised to the king he took no care, when Sostratus the governor of the castle called for it.

28 § For to him appertained the gathering of the taxes: wherefore they were both called bo-fore the king.

29 And Menelaus was removed from the priesthood, Lysimachus his brother succeeding: and Sestratus was made governor of the Cyprians.

30 When these things were in doing, it fell out that they of Tharsus, and Mallos raised a sedition, because they were given for a gift to Antiochis the king's concubine.

31 The king therefore went in all haste to appease them, leaving Andronicus one of his nobles for his deputy.

32 Then Menelaus supposing that he had found a convenient time, having stolen certain vessels of gold ont of the temple, gave them to Andronicus, and others he had sold at Tyre, and in the neighbouring cities.

33 Which when Onias understood most certainly, he reproved him, keeping himself in a safe place at Antioch beside Daphre

34 Whereupon Menelaus coming Andronicus, desired him to kill Onias. Also he went to Onias, and gave him his right hand with an oath and (though he were suspected by him) persuaded him to come forth out of the sanctuary, and immediately slew him, without any regard to justice.

35 For which cause not only the Jews, but also the other nations, conceived indignation, and were much grieved for the unjust murder of so great a man.

36 And when the king was come back from the places of Cilicia, the Jews that were at Antioch, and also the Greeks went to him: complaining of the unjust murder of Onias.

37 Antiochus therefore was grieved in his mind for Onias, and being moved to pity, shed tears, remembering the sobriety and modesty of the deceased.

38 And being inflamed to anger, he commanded Andronicus to be stripped of his purple, and to be led about through all the city: and that in the same place wherein he had committed the impiety against Onias, the sacrilegious wretch should be put to death, the Lord repaying him his deserved punishment.

39 Now when many sacrileges had been committed by Lysimachus in the temple by the counsel of Menelaus, and the rumour of it was spread abroad, the multitude gathered themselves together against Lysimachus, a grant quantity of gold being already carried away

40 Wherefore the multitude making an insurrection, and their minds being filled with anger, Lysimachus armed about three thousand men, and began to use violence, one Tyrannus being captain, a man far gone both in aga, anti in machess.

41 But when they perceived the attempt of Lysimachus, some caught up stones, some strong clubs: and some threw ashes upon Lysimachus.

42 And many of them were wounded, and ome struck down to the ground, but all were put to flight: and as for the sacrilegious fellow himself they slew him beside the treasury.

43 Now concerning these matters an accusa-You was laid against Menelaus.

44 And when the king was come to Tyre, three men were sent from the ancients to plead the cause before him.

45 But Menelaus being convicted, promised Ptolemee to give him much money to persuade the king to favour him.

46 So Ptolemee went to the king in a certain court where he was, as it were to cool himself, and brought him to be of another mind :

47 So Menclaus who was guilty of all the evil, was acquitted by him of the accusations: and those poor men, who, if they had pleaded their cause even before Scythians, should have been adged innocent, were condemned to death.

48 Thus they that prosecuted the cause for the city, and for the people, and the sacred vessels, did soon suffer unjust punishment.

49 Wherefore even the Tyrians being moved with indignation, were liberal towards their burial.

50 And so through the covetousness of them that were in power, Menelans continued in authority, increasing in malice to the betraying of the citizens.

CHAP. V.

Wonderful signs are seen in the air. Jason's wickedness and end. Antiochus takes Jerusalem, and plunders the temple.

T * the same time Antiochus prepared for

As a second journey into Egypt.

And it came to pass that through the whole oty of Jerusalem for the space of forty days there were seen horsemen running in the air, in gilded raiment, and armed with spears, like bunds of soldiers,

3 And horses set in order by ranks, running ene against another, with the shakings of shields, and a multitude of men in helmets with drawn swords, and casting of darts, and glittering of golden armour, and of harnesses of all sorts.

4 Wherefore all men prayed that these prodigies might turn to good.

5 Now when there was gone forth a false runour, as though Antiochus had been dead, Juson taking with him no fewer than a thouand men, suddenly assaulted the city: and Llough the citizens ran together to the wall, the city at length was taken, and Merclaus fled into the castle.

6 But Jason slew his countrymen without mercy, not considering that prosperity against one's own kindred is a very great evil, thinking they had been enemies, and not citizens, whom ne conquered.

7 Yet he did not get the principality, but recaved confusion at the end, for the reward of his treachery, and fled again into the country of the Ammonites.

8 At the last having been shut up by Aretas the king of the Arabians, in order for his deetruction, flying from city to city, bated by all men, as a forsaker of the laws and execuable, as an onemy of his country and countrymen

he was thrust out into Egypt:

9 And he that had driven many out of their country, perished in a strange land, going to Lacedemon, as if for kindred sake he should have refuge there :

10 But he that had cast out many unburied, was himself cast forth both unlamented and unburied, neither having foreign burial, nor being partaker of the sepulchre of his fathers.

11 Now when these things were done, the king suspected that the Jews would forsake the alliance: whereupon departing out of Egypt with a furious mind, he took the city by force of arms, 12 And commanded the soldiers to kill, and not to spare any that came in their way, and to go up into the houses to slay.

13 Thus there was a slaughter of young and old, a destruction of women and children, and killing of virgins and infants.

14 And there were slain in the space of three whole days fourscore thousand, forty thousand were made prisoners, and as many sold.

15 But this was not enough, he presumed also to enter into the temple, the most holy in all the world, Menelaus that traitor to the laws, and to his country, being his guide.

16 And taking in his wicked hands the holy vessels, which were given by other kings and cities, for the ornament and the glory of the place, he unworthily handled and profaned them.

17 Thus Antiochus going astray in mind, did not consider that God was angry for a while, because of the sins of the inhabitants of the city: and therefore this contempt had happened to the place:

18 Otherwise had they not been involved in many sins, † as Heliodorus, who was sent by king Selencus to rob the treasury, so this man also as soon as he had come, had been forthwith scourged, and put back from his presumption.

19 But God did not choose the people for the place's sake, but the place for the people's sake

20 And therefore the place also itself was made partaker of the evils of the people : but afterwards shall communicate in the good things thereof, and as it was forsaken in the wrath of almighty God, shall be exalted again with great glory, when the great Lord shall be reconciled. 21 So when Antiochus had taken away out of the temple a thousand and eight hundred talents, he went back in all haste to Antioch, thinking through pride, that he might now make the land navigable, and the sea passable on foot: such was the haughtiness of his mind.

22 He left also governors to afflict the people: at Jerusalem, Philip, a Phrygian by birth, but in manners more barbarous than he that set him there:

23 And in Gazarim, Andronicus and Mene laus, who bore a more heavy hand upon the citizens than the rest.

24 And whereas he was set against the Jews, he sent that hateful prince Apollonius with a army of two and twenty thousand men, com manding him to kill all that were of perfect age and to sell the women and the younger sort.

25 Who when he was come to Jerusalem pretending peace, rested till the holy day ofthy sabbath : and then the Jews keeping heliday he commanded his men to take arms.

26 And he slew all that were come forth to see: and running through the city with arm: men he destroyed a very great multitude.

27 But Judas Machabous, who was the touth, had withdrawn himself into a desert place, and there lived amongst wild beasts in the mauntains with his company: and they continued feeding on herbs, that they might not be partakers of the pollution.

antiochus commands the law to be abolished, sets up an idol in the temple, and persecutes the faithful. The martyrdom of Eleazar.

BUT not long after the king sent * a certain old man of Antioch, to compel the Jews to depart from the laws of their fathers and of God :

2 And to defile the temple that was in Jerusalem, and to call it the temple of Jupiter Olympius: and that in Gazarim of Jupiter Hospitalis, according as they were that inhabited the place.

3 And very bad was this invasion of evils and grievous to all.

4. For the temple was full of the riot and revellings of the Centiles coand of men lying with lewd women. And women thrust themselves of their accordinto the holy places, and brought in things that were not lawful.

5 The altar also was filled with unlawful things, which were forbidden by the laws.

6 And neither were the sabbaths kept, the solemn days of the fathers observed, neither did any man plainly profess himself to be a Jew.

7 But they were led by bitter constraint on the king's birth day to the sacrifices: and when the feast of Bacchus was kept, they were compelled to go about crowned with ivy in honour of Bacchus.

8 And there went out a decree into the neighbouring cities of the Gentiles, by the suggestion of the Ptolemeans, that they also should act in like manner against the Jews, to oblige them to sacrifice:

9 And whosoever would not conform themselves to the ways of the Gentiles, should be put to death: then was misery to be seen.

10 † For two women were accused to have circumcised their children: whom, when they had openly led about through the city with the infants hanging to their breasts, they threw down headlong from the walls.

11 And others that had met together in caves that were near, and were keeping the sabbathlay privately, being discovered by Philip, were burnt with fire, because they made a conscience to help themselves with their hands, by reason of the religious observance of the day.

12 Now I beseech those that shall read this book, that they be not shocked at these calamities, but that they consider the things that happened, not as being for the destruction, but for the correction of our nation.

13 For it is a token of great goodness when sinners are not suffered to go on in their ways for a long time, but are presently punished.

14 For, not as with other nations (whom the Lord petiently expecteth, that when the day of Judgment shall come, he may punish them in the fulness of their sins :)

16 And therefore he never withdraweth his mercy from us: but though he chaetise his people with adversity, he forsaketh them not.

17 But let this suffice in a few words for a warning to the readers. And now we must come to the narration.

18 Eleazar one of the chief of the scribes, a. man advanced in years, and of a cemely countenance, was pressed to open his mouth to eat swine's flosh.

19 But he, choosing rather a most glorious death than a hateful life, went forward volumtarily to the torment.

20 And considering in what manner he was come to it, patiently bearing, he detormined net to do any unlawful things for the love of life.

21 But they that stood by, being moved with wicked pity, for the old friendship they had with the man, taking him aside, desired that flesh might be brought, which it was lawful for him to eat, that he might make as if he had eaten, as the king had commanded of the flesh of the sacrifice:

22 That by so doing he might be delivered from death : and for the sake of their old friendship with the man they did him this courtesy.

23 But he began to consider the dignity of his age, and his anciont years, and the inbred honour of his grey head, and his good life and conversation from a child: and he answered without delay, according to the ordinances of the hely law made by God, saying, that he would rather be sent into the other world.

24 For it doth not become our age, said he, to dissemble: whereby many young persons might think that Eleazar, at the age of fourscore and ten years, was gone over to the life of the heathens:

25 And so they, through my dissimulation, and for a little time of a corruptible life, should be decoived, and hereby I should bring a stain and a curse upon my old age.

26 For though, for the present time, I should be delivered from the punishments of men, yet should I not escape the hand of the Almights neither alive nor dead.

27 Wherefore by departing manfully out of this life, I shall shew myself worthy of my old age:

28 And I shall leave an example of fortitude to young men, if with a ready mind and constancy I suffer an honourable death, for the most venerable and most holy laws. And having spokes thus, he was forthwith carried to execution.

29 And they that led him, and had been a little before more mild, were changed to wrath for the words he had spoken, which they though?

30 But when he was now ready to die with the stripes, he groaned, and said: O Lord, who hast the holy knowledge, thou knowest manifestly that whereas I might be delivered from death, I suffer grievous pains in body: but in soul am well content to suffer these things because I fear thee.

31 Thus did this man die, leaving not only to young men, but also to the whole nation, the memory of his death for an example of virtue and fortitude. CHAP. VIL.

The glorious martyrdom of the seven brethren and the

T' * came to pass also, that even brethren, together with their mother, were apprehended, and compelled by the king to eat swine's fesh against the law, for which end they were cormented with whips and scourges.

2 But one of them, who was the eldest, said thus: What wouldst thou ask, or learn of us? we are ready to die rather than to transgress the laws of God, received from our father.

3 Then the king being angry commanded frying-pans, and brasen caldrons to be made hot: which forthwith being heated,

4 He commanded to cut out the tongue of him that had spoken first: and the skin of his head being drawn off, to chop off also the extremities of his hands and feet, the rest of his brethren, and his mother, looking on.

6 And when he was now maimed in all parts, he commanded him, being yet alive, to be brought to the fire, and to be fried in the fryingpan: and while he was suffering therein long torments, the rest, together with the mother, oxhorted one another to die manfully, 6 Saying: The Lord God will look upon the truth, and will take pleasure in us, † as Moses declared in the profession of the canticle: And in his servants he will take pleasure.

7 So when the first was dead after this manner, they brought the next to make him a mocking-stock: and when they had pulled off the skin of his head with the hair, they asked him if he would eat, before he were punished throughout the whole body in every limb.

8 But he answered in his own language, and said: I will not do it. Wherefore he also in the next place, received the torments of the first :

9 And when he was at the last gasp, he said thus: Thou indeed, O most wicked man, destroyest us out of this present life: but the King of the world will raise us up, who die for his laws, in the resurrection of eternal life.

10 After him the third was made a mockingetock, and when he was required, he quickly put forth his tongue, and courageously stretched out his hands:

11 And said with confidence: These I have from heaven, but for the laws of God I now despise them, because I hope to receive them again from him.

12 So that the king, and they that were with him, wondered at the young man's courage, besause he esteemed the torments as nothing.

13 And after he was thus dead, they tormented the fourth in the like manner.

14 And when he was now ready to die, he poke thus: It is better, being put to death by men, to look for hope from God, to be raised up again by him: for, as to thee thou shalt have ao resurrection unto life.

15 And when they had brought the fifth, they ormented him. But he looking upon the king, 16 Said: Whereas thon hast power among nen, though thou art corruptible, thou dost what thou wilt: but think not that our nation s forsaken by God.

17 But stay patiently awhile, and thou shalt ee his great power, in what manner he will orment thee and thy seed.

18 After him they brought the sixth, and he seing ready to die, spoke thus: Be not deceived sithout cause: for we suffer these things for surselves, having sinned against our Jod, and hings worthy of admiration are done to us.

* A. M. WW. A.C. M7.-+ Deuc. 32. 36.

19 But do not think that thou shalt escape unpunished, for that thou hast attempted to fight against God.

20 Now the mother was to be admired above measure, and worthy to be remembered by good men, who beheld her seven sons slain in the space of one day, and bore it with a good courage, for the hope that she had in God:

21 And she bravely exhorted every one of them in her own language, being filled with wisdora: and joining a man's heart to a woman's thought,

22 She said to them: I knew not how you were formed in my wemb: for I neither gave you breath, nor soul, nor life, neither did I frame the limbs of every one of you.

23 But the Creator of the world, that formed the nativity of man, and that found out the origin of all, he will restore to you again in his mercy, both breath and life, as now you despise yourselves for the sake of his laws.

24 Now Antiochus, thinking himselfdespised, and withal despising the voice of the upbraider, when the youngest was yet alive, did not only exhort him by words, but also assured him with an oath, that he would make him a rich and a happy man, and, if he would turn from the laws of his fathers, would take him for a friend, and furnish him with things necessary.

25 But when the young man was not moved with these things, the king called the mother, and counselled her to deal with the young man to save his life.

26 And when he had exhorted her with many words, she promised that she would counsel her

27 So bending herself towards him, mocking the cruel tyrant, she said in her own language My son, have pity upon me, that bore thee nine months in my womb, and gave thee suck three years, and nourished thee, and brought thee up unto this age.

28 I beseech thee, my son, look upon heaven and earth, and all that is in them: and consider that God made them out of nothing, and mankind also:

29 So thon shalt not fear this termenter, but being made a worthy partner with thy brethren, receive death, that in that mercy I may receive thee again with thy brethren.

30 While she was yet speaking these words, the young man said : For whom do you stay? I will not obey the commandment of the king. but the commandment of the law which was given us by Moses.

31 But thou that hast been the author of all mischief against the Hebrews, shalt not escare the hand of God.

32 For we suffer thus for our sins.

33 And though the Lord our God is angry with us a little while for our chastisement and correction: yet he will be reconciled again to his servants.

3i But thou, O wicked and of all men most flagitious, be not lifted up without cause with vain hopes, whilst thou art raging against his servants.

35 For thou hast not yet escaped the judgment of the almighty God, who beholdeth all things.

36 For my brethren, having now undergone 2 short pain, are under the covenant of eternal life : but thou by the judgment of God shalt received just punishment for thy price

37 But I, like my brethren, offer up my life and ny body for the laws of our fathers: calling upon God to be speedily merciful to our nation, and that thou by torments and stripes mayst confess that he alone is God.

38 But in me and in my brethren the wrath of the Almighty, which hath justly been brought apon all our nation, shall cease.

39 Then the king being incensed with anger, raged against him more cruelly than all the rest, taking it grievously that he was mocked.

40 So this man also died undefiled, wholly trusting in the Lord.

41 And last of all after the sons the mother also was consumed. 42 But now there is enough said of the sacri-

Fudas Machabous gathering an army guins divers victurses.

BUT * Judas Machabeus, and they that were with him, went privately into the towns: and calling together their kinsmen and friends, and taking unto them such as continued in the Jews'religion, they assembled six thousand men.

2 And they called upon the Lord, that he would look upon his people that was trodden down by all. and would have pity on the temple, that was lefiled by the wicked:

3 That he would have pity also upon the city that was destroyed, that was ready to be made even with the ground, and would hear the voice of the blood that cried to him:

4 That he would remember also the most unjust deaths of innocent children, and the blasphemies offered to his name, and would shew his indignation on this occasion.

5 Now when Machabeus had gathered mailtitude, he could not be withstood by the heathens: for the wrath of the Lord was turned Into mercy.

6 So coming unawares upon the towns and cities, he set them on fire, and taking possession of the most commodious places, he made no small slaughter of the enemies :

7 And especially in the nights he went upon these expeditions, and the fame of his valour was spread abroad every where.

8 Then Philip, seeing that the man gained ground by little and little, and that things for the most part succeeded prosperously with him,† wrote to Ptolemee the governor of Celesyria and Phenicia, to send aid to the king's affairs.

9 And he with all speed sent Nicanor the son of Patroclus, one of his special friends, giving him no fewer than twenty thousand armed men of different nations, to root out the whole race of the Jews, joining also with him Gorgias a good soldier, and of great experience in matters of war.

10 And Nicanor purposed to raise for the king the tribute of two fliousand talents, that was to be given to the Romans, by making to much money of the captive Jews:

11 Wherefore he sent immediately to the cities upon the sea coast, to invite men together to buy up the Jewish slaves, promising that they should have ninety slaves for one talent, not reflecting on the vengeance, which was to follow him from the Almighty.

12 Now when Judas found that Nicanor was coming, he imparted to the Jews that were with him, that the enemy was at hand.

13 And some of them being afraid, and dis-trusting the justice of God, fled away:

14 Others sold all that they had left, and withal besought the Lord, that he would deliver them from the wicked Nicanor, who had sold them before be came near them :

15 And if not for their sakes, yet for the covenant that he had made with their fathers, and for the sake of his holy and glorious name that was invoked upon them.

16 But Machabeus calling together seven thousand that were with him, exhorted them not to be reconciled to the enemies, nor to fear the multitude of the enemies who came wrongfully against them, but to fight manfully:

17 Setting before their eyes the injury they had unjustly done the holy place, and also the injury they had done to the city, which had been shamefully abused, besides their destroying the ordinances of their fathers,

18 For, said he, they trust in their weapons, and in their boldness: but we trust in the Almighty Lord, who at a beck can utterly destroy both them that come against us, and the whole world.

19 Moreover he put them in mind also of thehelps their fathers had received from God: ‡ and how under Sennacherib a hundred and eighty-five thousand had been destroyed.

20 And of the battle that they had fough against the Galatians in Babylonia, how they being in all but six thousand, when it came to the point, and the Macedonians their companions were at a stand, slew a hundred and twenty thousand, because of the help they had from heaven, and for this they received many fa-their country.

22 So he appointed his brethren captains over each division of his army, Simon, and Joseph, and Jonathan, giving to each one fifteen hundred men.

23 And after the holy Book had been read to them by Esdras, and he had given them for a watch-word, The help of God: himself leading the first band, he joined battle with Nicanor:

24 And the Almighty being their helper, they slew above nine thousand men: and having wounded and disabled the greater part of Nicanor's army they obliged them to fly.

25 And they took the money of them that came to buy them, and they pursued them on every side.

26 But they came back for want of time : for it was the day before the sabbath: and therefore they did not continue the pursuit. 27 But when they had gathered together their arms and their spoils, they kept the sabbath : blessing the Lord who had delivered them hat day, distilling the beginning of mercy upon 28 Then after the sabbath they divided the spoils to the feeble and the orphans, and the widows: and the rest they took for themselves and Cheir servants.

29 When this was done, and they had all made & common supplication, they be sought the merrifu! Lord to be reconciled to his servants unto 30 Moreover they slew above twenty thousand of them that were with Timotheus and Bacchides who fought against them, and they made themselves masters of the high strong-holds: and they divided amongst them many spoils, giving equal portions to the feeble, the fatherless and the widows, yea and the aged also.

of And when they had carefully gathered together their arms, they laid them all up in conremient places, and the residue of their spoils

hey carried to Jerusalem:

32 They slew also Philarches who was with Timotheus, a wicked man, who had many ways afflicted the Jews.

33 And when they kept the feast of the victory of Jerusaiem, they burnt Callisthenes, that had set fire to the holy gates, who had taken refuge in a certain house, rendering to him a worthy reward for his impieties:

34 But as for that most wicked man Nicanor, who had brought a thousand merchants to the anle of the Jews.

35 Being through the help of the Lord brought cown by them, of whom he had made no account, laying aside his garment of glory, fleeing through the midland country, he came alone to Antioch, being rendered very unhappy by the destruction of his army.

36 And he that had promised to levy the tribute for the Romans by the means of the cortives of Jerusalem, now professed that the Jews had God for their protector, and therefore the, sould not be hurt, because they followed the laws appointed by him.

CHAP. IX.

The wretched end, and fruitless repentance of king Antiochus.

A T that time Antiochus returned with dishonour out of Persia.

2 For he had entered into the city called Persepolis, and attempted to rob the temple, and to oppress the city: but the multitude running together to arms, put them to flight: and so it fell out that Antiochus being put to flight returned with disgrace.

3 Now when he was come about Echatana, he received the news of what had happened to Nicanor and Timotheus.

4 And swelling with anger he thought to rerenge upon the Jews the injury done by them hat had put him to flight. And therefore he commanded his chariot to be driven, without topping in his journey, the judgment of heaven rging him forward, because he had spoken so roudly, that he would come to Jerusalem, and nake it a common burying-place of the Jews.

* 2 Par. 16. 9.

5 * But the Lord the God of Israel, that seeth all things, struck him with an incurable and an invisible plague. For as soon as he had ended these words, a dreadful pain in his bowels came upon him, and bitter torments of the inner parts

6 And indeed very justly, seeing he had tormented the bowels of others with many and new torments, albeit he by no means ceased from his malice.

7 Moreover being filled with pride, breathing out fire in his rage against the Jews, and commanding the matter to be hastened, it happened as he was going with violence that he fell from the chariot, so that his limbs were much pained by a grievous bruising of the body.

8 Thus he that seemed to himself to command even the waves of the sea, being proud above the condition of man, and to weigh the neights of the mountains in a balance, now being cast down to the ground was carried in litter, bearing witness to the manifest power of God in himself:

9 So that worms swarmed out of the body of this man, and whilst he lived in sorrow and pain, his flesh fell off, and the filthiness of ans smell was noisome to the army.

10 And the man that thought a little before he could reach to the stars of heaven, no man could endure to carry, for the intolerable stench.

11 And by this means, being brought from his great pride, he began to come to the know-ledge of himself, being admonished by the scourge of God, his pains increasing every moment.

12 And when he himself could not now abide his own stench, he spoke thus: It is just to be subject to God, and that a mortal man should not equal himself to God.

13 Then this wicked man prayed to the Lord, of whom he was not to obtain mercy.

14 And the city, to which he was going in haste to lay it even with the ground, and to make it a common burying-place, he now desireth to make free:

15 And the Jews whom he said he would no! account worthy to be so much as buried, but would give them up to be devoured by the birde and wild beasts, and would utterly destroy them with their chil lren, he now promiseth to make equal with the Athenians.

16 The holy temple also, which before he had spoiled, he promiseth to adorn with goodly gifts, and to multiply the holy vessels, and to allow out of his revenues the charges pertain ing to the sacrifices.

17 Yea also, that he would become a Jew himself, and would go through every place of the earth, and declare the power of God.

18 But his pains not ceasing (for the just judgment of God was come upon him) despairing of life he wrote to the Jews, in the manner of a supplication, a letter in these words:

19 To HIS VERY GOOD SUBJECTS the Jews, Antiochus king and ruler wisheth much health, and welfare, and happiness.

20 If you and your children are well, and if all matters go with you to your mind, we give very great thanks.

21 As for me, being infirm, but yet kindly remembering you, returning out of the places of Persia, and being taken with a grievous disease, I thought it necessary to take cure for the com-non good:

22 Not distrusting my life, but having great hope to escape the sickness

23 But considering that my father also, at | what time * he led an army into the higher countries, appointed who should reign after him:

24 To the end that if any thing contrary to expectation should fall out, or any bad tidings should be brought, they that were in the countries, knowing to whom the whole government was left, might nor be troubled.

25 Morcover, considering that neighbouring princes and borderers wait for opportunities, and expect what shall be the event, I have appointed my son Antiochus king, whom I often recommended to many of you, when I went into the higher provinces: and I have written to him what I have joined here below.

26 I pray you therefore, and request of you, that remembering favours both public and private, you will every man of you continue to be faithful to me and to my son.

27 For I trust that he will behave with moderation and humanity, and following my intentions, will be gracious unto you.

28 Thus the murderer and blasphemer being grievously struck, as himself had treated others, died a miserable death in a strange country among the mountains.

29 But Philip that was brought up with him, carried away his body: and out of fear of the son of Antiochus, went into Egypt to Ptolemee Philometor.

BUT ! Machabeus, and they that were with him, by the protection of the Lord, recovered the temple and the city again.

2 But he threw down the altars, which the heathens had set up in the streets, as also the temples of the idols.

3 And having purified the temple, they made another altar: and taking fire out of the fiery stones they offered sacrifices after two years, and set forth incense, and lamps, and the loaves of proposition.

4 And when they had done these things, they besought the Lord, lying prostrate on the ground, that they might no more fall into such evils; but if they should at any time sin, that they might be chastised by him more gently, and not be delivered up to barbarians and blasphemous men.

5 Now upon the same day that the temple had been polluted by the strangers, on the very same day it was cleansed again, to wit, on the five and twentieth day of the month of Caslen.

6 And they kept eight days with joy, after the manner of the feast of the tabernacles, remembering that not long before they had kept the Least of the tabernacles when they were in the mountains, and in dens like wild beasts.

7 Therefore they now carried boughs, and green branches, and palms for Him that had given them good success in cleansing his place.

8 And they ordained by a common statute, and decree, that all the nation of the Jews should keep those days every year.

9 And this was the end of Antiochus that was called the Illustrious.

10 But now we will relate the acts of livrator the son of that wicked Antiochus, abridging, the account of the evils that happened in the ware.

11 For when he was come to the crown, be appointed over the affairs of his realm one Lysias, general of the army of Phenicia and Syria.

12 For Ptolemee that was called Macer, was determined to be strictly just to the Jews, and especially by reason of the wrong that had been done them, and to deal peaceably with them.

12 But being accused for this to Eupator by his friends, and being oftentimes called traitor, because he had left Cyprus which Philometor, had committed to him, and coming over to Autiochus the Illustrious, had revolted also from him, he put an end to his life by poison.

14 But Gorgias, who was governor of the holds, taking with him the strangers, often fought against the Jews.

15 And the Jews that occupied the most commodious hold, received those that were driven out of Jerusalem, and attempted to make war.

16 Then they that were with Machabeus, beseeching the Lord by prayers to be their helper, made a strong attack upon the strong-holds of the Idumeans:

17 And assaulting them with great force, won the holds, killed them that came in the way, and slew altogether no fewer than twenty thousand.

18 And whereas some were field into very strong towers, having all manner of provision to sustain a siege,

19 Machabeus left Simon and Joseph, and Zacheus, and them that were with them in sufficient number to besiege them, and departed to those expeditions which urged more.

20 Now they that were with Simon, being led with covetousness, were persuaded for the sake of money by some that were in the towers. and taking seventy thousand didrachmas, let some of them escape.

21 But when it was told Machabens what was done, he assembled the rulers of the people, and accused those men that they had sold their brethren for money, having let their adversaries escape.

22 So he put these traitors to death, and forthwith took the two towers.

23 And having good success in arms and in all things he took in hand, he slew more than twenty thousand in the two holds.

24 But Timotheus who before had been over-come by the Jews, § having called together a multitude of foreign troops, and assembled horsemen out of Asia, came as though he would take Judea by force of arms.

25 But Machabeus and they that were with him, when he drew near, prayed to the Lord, sprinkling earth upon their heads and girding their loins with haircloth,

26 And lying prostrate at the foot of the altar, besought him to be merciful to them, and to be an enemy to their enemies, and an adversary to their adversaries, as the law saith. 27 And so after prayer taking their arms, they went forth further from the city, and when they were come very near the enemies they rested.

28 But as soon as the sun was risen, both sides joined battle: the one part having with their valour the Lord for a surety of victory and success: but the other side making the rage their leader in battle.

29 But when they were in the heat of the gagement there appeared to the enemies from heaven five men upon horses, comely with golden bridles, conducting the Jows:

30 Two of whom took Machabens between them, and covered him on every side with their arms, and kept him safe: but cast darts and are-balls against the enemy, so that they fell down, being both confounded with blindness, and filled with trouble.

31 And there were slain twenty thousand five hundred, and six hundred horsemen.

32 But Timothous fied into Gazara a strong-bold, where Chereas was governor. 38 Then Machabeus, and they that were with him, cheerfully laid siege to the fortress 34 But they that were within, trusting to the strength of the place, blasphemed exceedingly, and east forth abominable words.

35 But when the fifth day appeared, twenty young men of them that were with him Machabeus, inflamed in their minds because of the blasphomy, approached manfully to the wall and pushing forward with fierce courage got up upon it:

36 Moreover others also getting up after them, went to set fire to the towers and the gates, and to burn the blasphemers alive.

37 And having for two days together pillaged and sacked the fortress, they killed Timothens, who was found hid in a certain place: they slew also his brother Chercas, and Apollophanes.

38 And when this was done, they blessed the Lord with hymns and thanksgiving, who had done great things in Israel, and given them tho victory.

CHAP. XI.

SHORT * time after this Lysias the king's A licutenant, and cousin, and who had chief charge over all the affairs, being greatly displeased with what had happened,

2 Gathered together fourscoure thousand men, and all the horsemen, and came against the Jews, thinking to take the city, and make it a habitation of the Gentiles:

3 And to make a gain of the temple, as of the other temples of the Gentiles, and to set the high priesthood to sale every year:

4 Never considering the power of God, but puffed up in mind, and trusting in the multitude of his foot soldiers, and the thousands of his horsemen, and his fourscore elephants.

5 So he came into Judea, and approaching to Bethsura, which was in a narrow place, the space of five furlongs from Jerusalem, he laid siege to that fortress.

But when Machabeus and they that were with him, understood that the strongholds yere besieged, they and all the people besought the Lord with lamentations and tears, that he would send a good angel to save Israel

10 So they went on courageously, having a helper from heaven, and the Lord who shewed

12 And Judas thinking that they might be profitable indeed in many things, promised them peace, and after having joined hands, they departed to their tents.

13 He also laid sigge to a certain strong city, encompassed with bridges and walls, and inhabited by multitudes of different nations, the name of which is Casphin.

14 But they that were within it, trusting in the strength of the walls, and the provision of victuals, behaved in a more negligent manner, and provoked Judas with railing and blasphoming, and uttering such words as were not to be spoken.

15 But Machabeus calling upon the great Lord of the world, who without any rams or engines of war threw down the walls of Jericho? in the time of Josue, fiercely assaulted the walls.

17 From thence they departed seven hundred and fifty furlongs, and came to Chareca to the Jews that are called Tubianites.

18 But as for Timotheus, they found him not in those places, for before he had despatched any thing he went back, having left a very strong garrison in a certain hold:

19 But Dositheus, and Sosipater, who were captains with Machabeus, slew them that were left by Timotheus in the hold, to the number of ten thousand men.

20 And Machabeus having set in order about him six thousand men, and divided them by bands, went forth against Timotheus, who had with him a hundred and twenty thousand footmen, and two thousand five hundred horsemen

21 Now when Timotheus had knowledge of the coming of Judas, he sent the women and children, and the other baggage before him into a fortress, called Carnion : for it was impregnable and hard to come at, by reason of the straitness of the places.

22 But when the first band of Judas came in sight, the enemies were struck with fear, by the presence of God, who seeth all things, and they were put to flight one from another, so that they were often thrown down by their own com panions, and wounded with the strokes of their own swords.

23 But Judas was vehemently earnest in punishing the profane, of whom he slew thirty thousand men.

24 And Timotheus himself fell into the hands of the band of Dositheus and Sosipater, and with many prayers he besought them to let him go with his life, because he had the parents and brethren of many of the Jews, who, by his death, might happen to be deceived.

25 And when he had given his faith that he would restore them according to the agreement they let him go without hurt, for the saving of their breinger

26 Then Judas went away to Carnion, where be slew five and twenty thousand persons.

32 And after Pentecost they marched against orgias the governor of Idumea.

33 And he came out with three thousand foot-m, and four hundred horsemen. 34 And when they had joined battle, it hapned that a few of the Jews were slain. 5 But Dositheus a horseman, one of Bace-sband, a valiant man, took hold of Gorgias: when he would have taken him alive, a cerhorseman of the Thracians came upon him, cut off his shoulder :and so Gorgias escaped Maresa.

6 But when they that were with Esdrin had ght long, and were weary, Judas called upon Lord to be their helper, and leader of the tle :

7 Then beginning in his own language, and ring hymns with a loud voice, he put Gor-

's soldiers to flight.

3 So Judas having gathered together his y, came into the city Odollam; and when seventh day came, they purified themselves rding to the custom, and kept the sabbath ne same place.

And the day following Judas came with company, to take away the bodies of them were slain, and to bury them with their men, in the sepulchres of their fathers.

And they found under the coat of the some of the donaries of the idols of Jannia, h the law forbiddeth to the Jews: so that all ly saw, that for this cause they were slain. Then they all blessed the just judgment e Lord, who had discovered the things that hidden.

43 And making a gathering, he sent twelve thousand drachms of silver to Jerusalem for sacrifice to be offered for the sins of the dead, thinking well and religiously concerning the resurrection.

44 (For if he had not hoped that they that were slain should rise again, it would have seemed superfluous and vain to pray for the dead)

45 And because he considered that they who had fallen asleep with godliness, had great grace laid up for them.

48 It is therefore a holy and wholesome thought to pray for the dead, that they may be loosed from sins.

Antiochus and Lysius again invade Judea. Menetaus is put to death. The king's great army is worsted twice. The peace is renewed.

In the year one hundred and forty-nine, Judas understood that Antiochus upator was coming with a multitude against Judea, 2 And with him Lysias the regent, who had chargeover the affairs of the realm, having with him a hundred and ten thousand footmen, five thousand horsemen, twenty-two elephants, and three hundred chariots armed with hooks.

3 Menelaus also joined himself with them: and with great deceitfulness besought Antio chus, not for the welfare of his country, but is hopes that he should be appointed chief ruler.

4 But the King of kings stirred up the mind of Antiochus against the sinner, and upor Lysias suggesting that he was the cause of all the evils, he commanded (as the custom is with them) that he should be apprehended and put to death in the same place.

5 Now there was in that place a tower fifty cubits high, having a heap of ashes on every side: this had a prospect steep down.

6 From thence he commanded the sacrile. gious wretch to be thrown down into the ashes, all men thrusting him forward unto death.

7 And by such a law it happened that Menelaus the transgressor of the law was put te death: not having so much as burial in the earth.

8 And indeed very justly, for insemuch as he had committed many sins against the altar of God, the fire and ashes of which were holy: he was condemned to die in ashes.

9 But the king, with his mind full of rage, came on to shew himself worse to the Jews than his father was.

10 Which, when Judas understood, he cornmanded the people to call upon the Lord day and night, that as he had always done, so now also he would help them:

11 Because they were afraid to be deprived of the law, and of their country, and of the holy temple: and that he would not suffer the peo-

to pray for the dead. Here is an evident and and eniable proof of the practice of praying for the dead under the old law, which was then triefly observed by the Jews, and consequently could not be introduced at that time by Judas, their chief and high priest, if it had not been always their custom.

CHAP. XIII. Ver. 2. A hunderd and ten thousand &c. The difference between the numbers here set down and those recorded, 1 Mach. iv., is easily accounted for if we consider that such armies a these are liable to be sending away large detachments, or being diminished by sickness; or increased by receiving fresh supplies of troops, according to different axig encises at courrence.

ple, that had of late taken breath for a little while, to be again in subjection to blasphemous nations.

12 So when they had all done this together, and had craved mercy of the Lord with weeping and fasting, lying prostrate on the ground for three days continually, Judas exhorted them to make themselves ready.

13 But he with the ancients determined, before the king should bring his army into Judea, and make himself master of the city, to go out, and to commit the event of the thing to the judgment of the Lord.

14 So committing all to God, the creator of the world, and having exhorted his people to Aght manfully, and to stand up even to death for the laws, the temple, the city, their country, and citizens: he placed his army about Modin.

15 And having given his company for a watchword, The victory of God, with most valiant chosen young men, he set upon the king's quarter by night, and slew four thousand men in the samp, and the greatest of the elephants, with been that had been upon him.

16 And having filled the camp of the enemies with exceeding great fear and tumult, they went off with good success.

17 Now this was done at the break of day, by the pretection and help of the Lord.

18 But the king having taken a tasto of the hardiness of the Jews, attempted to take the strong places by policy:

19 And he marched with his army to Bethonra, which was a strong-hold of the Jews: but he was repulsed, he failed, he lost his men.

20 Now Judas sent necessaries to them that were within.

21 But Rhodocus, one of the Jews' army, disclosed the secrets to the enemies, so he was sought out, and taken up, and put in prison.

22 Again the king treated with them that were in Bethsura : gave his right hand : took theirs :

and went away.

23 He fought with Judas: and was overcome. And when he understood that Philip, who had been left over the affairs, had rebelled at Antioch, he was in a consternation of miud, and entreating the Jews, and yielding to them, he swere to all things that seemed reasonable, and, being reconciled, offered sacrifices, honoured the temple, and left gifts.

24 He embraced Machabeus, and made him governor and prince from Ptolemais unto the Gerrenians.

25 But when he was come to Ptolemais the men of that city were much displeased with the conditions of the peace, being angry for fear they thould break the covenant.

28 Then Lysias went up to the judgmenteat, and set forth the reason, and appeared the scople, and returned to Antioch : and thus maters went with regard to the king's coming and lis return

Demetrius challenges the kingdom. Alsienus applies him to be made high priest: Nicanoris sent into Judet his dealings with Judus: his threats. The history of Razias.

UI * after the space of three years Judas. and they that were with him, understood that Demetrius the son of Seleucus was come up with a great power, and a navy by the haven of Tripolis to places proper for his purpose,

2 And had made himself master of the countries against Antiochus, and his general Lysias.

3 Now one Alcimus, who had been chief priest, but had wilfully defiled himself in the time of mingling with the Heathens, seeing that there was no safety for him, nor access to the 4 Came to king Demetrius in the year † one hundred and fifty, presenting unto him a crown of gold, and a palm, and besides these, some boughs, which seemed to belong to the temple. And that day indeed he held his peace.

5 But having gotten a convenient time to further his madness, being called to counsel by Demetrius, and asked what the Jews relied upon,

and what were their counsels, 6 He answered thereunto: They among the Jews that are called Assideans, of whom Judas Machabeus is captain, nourish wars, and raise seditions, and will not suffer the realm to be in

7 For I also being deprived of my ancestors' glory (I mean of the high priesthood) am now come hither:

8 Principally indeed out of fidelity to the king's interests, but in the next place also to provide for the good of my countrymen : for all our nation suffereth much from the evil proceedings of those men.

9 Wherefore, O king, seeing thou knowest all these things, take eare, I beseech thee, both of the country, and of our nation, according to thy humanity which is known to all men. 10 For as long as Judas liveth, it is not possible that the state should be quiet.

11 Now when this man had spoken to this effect, the rest also of the king's friends, who were enemiesof Judas, incensed Demetrius against him. 12 And forthwith he sent Nicanor, the commander over the elephants, governor into Judea:

13 Giving him in charge, to take Judas himself: and disperse all them that were with him, and to make Alcimus the high priest of the great temple,

14 Then the Gentiles who had fied out of Judea from Judas, came to Nicanor by flocks, thinking the miseries and calamities of the Jews to be the welfare of their affairs.

15 Now when the Jews heard of Nicanor's coming, and that the nations were assembled against them, they east earth upon their heads, and made supplication to him, who chose his people to keep them for ever, and who protected his portion by evident signs.

16 Then at the commandment of their captain, they forthwith removed from the place where they were, and went to the town of Dessan, to meet them.

17 Now Simon the brother of Judes had joined battle with Nicanor : but was frightened with the sudden coming of the adversarios.

18 Nevertheless Nicanor hearing of the valour of Judas's companions, and the groatness of courage, with which thay fought for their caunty was afraid to try the matter by the arond.

19 Wherefore he sent Posidonius, and Theodotins, and Matthias before to present and receive

20 And when there had been a consultation thereupon, and the captain had acquainted the multitude with it, they were all of one mind to consent to covenants.

21 So they appointed a day upon which they might commune together by themseives : and sents were brought out, and set for each one.

22 But Judas ordered men to be ready in convenlent places, lest some mischief might be suddenly practised by the enemies: so they made an agreeable conference.

23 And Nicanor abode in Jerusalem, and did no wrong, but sent away the flocks of t'ie multitudes that had been gathered together

24 And Judas was always dear to him troin the heart, and he was well affected to the man.

25 And he desired him to marry a wife, and b have children. So he married · he lived qui-tly, and they lived in common.

26 But Alcimus seeing the love they had one another, and the covenants, came to Demetrius, and told him that Nicanor assented to the foreign interest, for that he meant to make Judas, who was a traitor to the kingdom, his suc-

27 Then the king being in a rage and provoked with this man's wicked accusations, wrote to Nicanor, signifying, that he was greatly displeased with the covenant of friendship: and that he commanded him nevertheless to send Machabeus prisoner in all haste to Antioch.

28 When this was known, Nicanor was in a onsternation, and took it grievously that he bould make void the articles that were agreed pon, having received no injury from the man.

29 But because he could not oppose the king, le watched an opportunity to comply with the orders.

30 But when Machabeus perceived that Nicanor was more stern to him, and that when they met together as usual he behaved himself in a rough manner; and was sensible that this rough behaviour came not of good, he gathered together a few of his men, and hid himself from Nicanor.

31 But he finding himself notably prevented by the man, came to the great and holy temple: and commanded the priests that were ofering the accustomed sacrifices, to deliver him the man.

32 And when they swore unto him, that they knew not where the man was whom he sought, ho stretched out his hand to the temple,

33 And swore, saying: Unless you deliver Judas prisoner to me, I will lay this temple of God even with the ground, and will beat down the altar, and I will dedicate this temple to Bacchus.

34 And when he had spoken thus, he departed. But the priests stretching forth their hands b heaven, called upon him that was ever the detender of their nation, saying in this manner :

* A.M. 3843, A.C. 161. 1 Mac. 7. 26, which cipnifes a void place, where there is no building.

35 Thon, O Lord of all things, who wantest nothing, wast pleased that the temple of the habitation should be amongst us.

36 Therefore now, O Lord, the holy of all holies, keep this house for ever undefiled, which was lately cleansed.

37 Now Razias, one of the ancients of Jerusalem, was accused to Nicanor, a man that was a lover of the city, and of good report, who for his affection was called the father of the Jews.

38 This man, for a long time, had held fast his purpose of keeping himself pure in the Jews religion, and was ready to expose his body and life, that he might persevere therein.

39 So Nicanor being willing to declare the hatred that he bore the Jews, sent five hundred soldiers to take him.

40 For he thought by insnaring him to hurt

the Jews very much.

41 Now as the multitude sought to rush into his house, and to break open the door, and to set fire to it, when he was ready to be taken, he struck himself with his sword:

42 Choosing to die nobly rather than to fall into the hands of the wicked, and to suffer abuses unbecoming his noble birth.

43 But whereas through haste he missed of giving himself a sure wound, and the crewd was breaking into the doors, he ran boldly to the wall, and manfully threw himself down to the crowd:

44 But they quickly making room for his fail.

he came upon the midst of the neck,

45 And as he had yet breath in him, being inflamed in mind he arose: and while his blood ran down with a great stream, and he was grievously wounded, he ran through the rewd:

46 And standing upon a steep rock, when he was now almost without blood, grasping his bowels with both hands, he cast them upon the throng, calling upon the Lord of life and spirit. to restore these to him again: and so he departed this life.

CHAP. XV.

Judas encouraged by a vision gains a glorious victory over Nicanor. The conclusion.

BUT * when Nicanor understood that Indas was in the places of Samaria, he purposed to set upon him with all violence on the sabbath-day.

2 And when the Jews that were constrained to follow him, said : Do not act so fiercely and barbarously, but give honour to the day that is sanctified: and reverence him that beholdeth all things:

3 That unhappy man asked, if there were mighty One in heaven, that had commanded the sabbath-day to be kept.

4 And when they answered: There is the living Lord himself in heaven, the mighty Oue, that commanded the sabbath-day to be kept.

5 Then he said: And I am mighty upon tha earth, and I command to take arms, and to de the king's business. Nevertheless he prevailed not to accomplish his design.

6 So Nicanor being puffed up with exceeding great pride, thought to set up a public monument of his victory over Judas.

7 But Machabeus ever trusted with all hope that God would help them.

8 And he exhorted his people not to fear the coming of the nations, but to remember ind help they had before received from heaven, and now to hope for victory from the Alraighty

Ver 41. He struck himself, &c. St. Augustin, Epist. A. ad Dulcitium, et lib. 2 cap. 23. ad Epist. 2 Gaud., dispussing this fact of Ravius, says, that the holy scripture flores it, but doth not praise it, as to beadwired or initiated, and that either it was not well done by him, or at sast not voicer in this time of grave.

Ver. 41. He came upon the reidst of the neck. Venis are mediam cervicem. In the Greek it is keyeova, which similars a rold allow there there is no building.

9 And speaking to them out of the law and the prophets, and withal putting them in mind of the battles they had fought before be made them more cheerful:

10 Then after he had encouraged them, he shewed withal the falsehood of the Gentiles, and their breach of oaths.

Il So he armed every one of them, not with defence of shield and spear, but with very good speeches and exhortations, and told them a dream worthy to be believed, whereby he rejoiced them all.

12 Now the vision was in this manner: Onias who had been high priest, a good and virtuous man, modest in his looks, gentle in his manners, and graceful in his speech, and who from a child was exercised in virtues, holding up his hands, prayed for all the people of the Jews:

13 After this there appeared also another man, admirable for age, and glory, and environed with great beauty and majesty:

14 Then Onias answering, said: This is a lover of his brethren, and of the people of Israel: this is he that prayeth much for the people, and for all the holy city, Jeremias the prophet of God.

15 Whereupon Jeremias stretched forth his right hand, and gave to Judas a sword of gold, saying:

16 Take this holy sword a gift from God, wherewith thou shalt overthrow the adversaries of my people Israel.

17 Thus being exhorted with the words of Judas, which were very good, and proper to stir up the courage, and strengthen the hearts of the young men, they resolved to fight and to set upon them manfully : that valour might decide the matter, because the holy city and the temple were in danger.

18 For their concern was less for their wives. and shildren, and for their brethren, and kinsfolks: but their greatest and principal fear was for the holiness of the temple.

19 And they also that were in the city, had no little concern for them that were to be engaged in battle.

20 And now when all expected what judgment would be given, and the enemies were at hand, and the army was set in array, the beasts and the horsemen ranged in convenient places

21 Machabeus considering the coming of the multitude, and the divers preparations of armour, and the fierceness of the beasts, stretching out his hands to heaven, called upon the Lord, that worketh wonders, who giveth victory 50 them that are worthy, not according to the power of their arms, but according as it seemeth good to him.

22 And in his prayer he said after this man-ner: * Thou, O Lord, who didst send thy Angel in the time of Ezechias king of Juda, and didst kill a hundred and eighty five thousand of the army of Senacherib:

23 Send now also, O Lord of heaven, thy good angel before us, for the fear and dread of the greatness of thy arm.

24 That they may be afraid, who come with blasphemy against thy holy people. And thue he concluded his prayer.

25 But Nicanor, and they that were with him came forward, with trumpets and songs.

26 But Judas, and they that were with him, encountered them, calling upon God by prayers: 27 So fighting with their hands, but praying to the Lord with their hearts, they slew no less than five and thirty thousand, being greatly cheered with the presence of God.

28 And when the battle was over, and they were returning with joy, they understood that Nicanor was slain in his armour.

29 Then making a shout, and a great noise, they blessed the almighty Lord in their own language.

30 And Judas, who was aitogether ready, in body and mind, to die for his countrymen, commanded that Nicanor's head, and his hand with the shoulder should be cut off, and carried to Jerusalem.

31 And when he was come thither, having called together his countrymen, and the priests to the altar, he sent also for them that were in the castle.

32 And shewing them the head of Nicanor, and the wicked hand, which he had stretched out, with proud boasts, against the holy house of the almigney God.

33 He commanded also, that the tongue of the wicked Nicanor, should be cut out, and given by pieces to birds, and the hand of the furious man to be hanged up over-against the temple.

34 Then all blessed the Lord of heaven, saying. Blessed be he that hath kept his own place un-defiled.

35 And he hung up Nicanor's head in the top of the castle, that it might be an evident and manifest sign of the help of God.

36 And they all ordained by a common dacree, by no means to let this day pass without solemnity:

37 But to celebrate the thirteenth day of the month of Adar, called, in the Syrian language, the day before Mardochias day.

38 So these things being done with relation to Nicanor, and from that time the city being possessed by the Hebrews, I also will here make an end of my narration.

39 Which if I have dene well, and as it becometh the history, it is what I desired: but # not so perfectly, it must be pardoned me.

40 For as it is hurtful to drink always wine, or always water, but pleasant to use sometimes the one, and sometimes the other: so if the speech be always nicely framed, it will not be grateful to the readers. But here it shall be ended.

East, and are come to adore him.

3 And king Herod hearing this, was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him.

4 And assembling together all the chief pries s and the Seribes of the people, he inquired of them where Christ should be born

5 But they said to him: In Bethlehem of Juda. For so it is written by the prophet:

6 + And thou Bethlehem the land of Juda art not the least among the princes of Juda: for out of thee shall come forth the captain that shall rule my people Israel.

7 Then Herod privately calling the wise men learned diligently of them the time of the star which appeared to them:

8 And sending them into Bethlehem, said: Go and diligently inquire after the child, and when you have found him; bring me word again, that I also may come and adore him.

9 Who having heard the king, went their way; and behold the star which they had seen in the East, went before them, until it came and stood over where the child was.

12 And having received an answer in sleep that they should not return to Herod, they went back another way into their country.

13 And after they were departed, behold an Angel of the Lord appeared in sleep to Joseph, saving: Arise, and take the child and his mother, and fly into Egypt: and be there until I shall tel thee. For it will come to pass that Herod will seek the child to destroy him.

5 11 Then went out to him Jerusalem and all Judea, and all the country about Jordan:

6 And were baptized by him in the Jordan confessing their sins.

7 And seeing many of the Pharisecs and Sadducees §§ coming to his baptism, he said to them: Ye brood of vipers, who hath shewed you to flee from the wrath to come?

8 Bring forth therefore fruit worthy of pe

9 And think not to say within yourselves: We have Abraham for our father. For I tell you that God is able of these stones to raise up children to Abraham.

THEN | JESUS was led by the Spirit into the desert, to be tempted by the devil. 2 And when he had fasted forty days and forty nights, afterwards he was hungry.

3 And the tempter coming, said to him: If thou be the Son of God, command that these stones be made bread.

4 Who answered and said: It is written, Not in bread alone doth man live, but in every word that proceedeth from the mouth of God.

5 Then the devil took him up into the holy city, and set him upon the pinnacle of the temple,

6 And said to hlm: If thou be the Son of God, cast thyself down, for it is written: § That he hath given his Angels charge over thee, and in their hands shall they bear thee up, lest perhaps thou dash thy foot against a stone.

7 JESUS said to him: It is written, again: # Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God.

8 Again the devil took him up into a very high mountain; and shewed him all the kingdoms of the world, and the glory of them

9 And said to him : All these will I give thee, if falling down thou wilt adore me.

10 Then Jesus sai h to him : Begone, Satan : for it is written: ¶ The Lord thy God shalt thou adore, and him only shalt thou serve.

The parable of the sower and the cuckle: of the mustard

MIE same day JESUS going out of the house, sat by the sea side

2 * And great mult tudes were gathered together unto him, so that he went up into a boat and sat: and all the multitude stood on the shore.

3 And he spoke to them many things in parables, saying: Behold the sower went forth

4 And whilst he soweth some fell by the way side, and the birds of the air came and ate them up.

5 And other some fell upon stony ground, where they had not much earth : and they sprung up immediately, because they had no deepness of earth.

6 And when the sun was up they were scorched; and because they had not root, they withered away.

7 And others fell among thorns: and the thorns grew up and choked them.

S And otlers fell upon good ground; and they brought forth fruit, some an hundred fold, some sixty fold, and some thirty fold.

9 He that hath ears to hear, let him hear. 10 And his disciples came and said to him: Why speakest thou to them in parables?

11 Who answered and said to them: Because to you it is given to know the mysteries. of the kingdom of heaven: but to them it is not given.

12 † For he that hath, to him shall be given, and he shall abound; but he that hath not, from him shall be taken away that also which he hath.

13 Therefore do I speak to them in parables: because seeing they see not, and hearing they hear not, neither do they understand.

14 And the prophecy of Is das is fulfilled in them, who saith: By hearing you shall hear, and shall not understand: and sceing you shall see, and not perceive.

15 For the heart of this people is grown gross, and with their ears they have been dull of hearing, and their eyes they have shut: lest at any time they should see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their heart, and be converted, and I should heal them.

16 But ble-sed are your eyes, because they see, and your ears, because they hear.

This was not spoken by way of slighting his mother, but to shew that we are Erver to suffer ourselves to be taken from the sorvice of Lever to suffer ourselves to be taken from the service of Cod, by any inordinate affection for our earthly parents; and that which our Lord chiefly regarded in his mother, was her doing the will of his Father in heaven. It may also further allude to the reprobation of the Jews, and the election of the gentiles.

18 Hear you therefore the parable of the sower.

19 When any one heareth the word of the king tom, and understandethit not, there cometh the wicked one, and catcheth away that which was sown in his heart; this is he that received the seed by the way side.

20 And ne that received the seed upon story ground: this is he that heareth the word, and imme hately receiveth it with joy.

21 Yet hath he not root in himself, but is only for a time; and when there ariseth tribu ation and persecution because of the word, he is presently scandalized.

22 And he that received the seed among thorns: is he that heareth the word, and the care of this wolld and the deceitfulness of ri-hes choketh up the word, and he becometh fruntiess.

23 But he that received the seed upon good ground; this is he that heareth the word, and understand, th, and beareth fruit, an yieldeth the one an humared fold, and another sixty, and another thirty.

24 Another parable he proposed to them, saying: The kingdom of h-aven is likened to a that we go and gather it up?

29 And he said: No, lest perhaps gathering. up the cockle, you root up the wheat also together with it.

3.1 Suffer both to grow until the harvest, and in the time of the harvest I will say to the reapers; Gather parst the cockle, and bind it into bundles to barn, but the wheat gather ye into my barn.

31 4 Another parable he proposed unto them, saying the kingdom of heaven is like to a grain or must ord-seed, which a man took and sowed in his field.

3 Which is the least indeed of all seeds, but when it is grown up, it is greater than al herbs. and becometh a tree, so that the birds of the air come, and dwell in the branches ther of 33 Another parable he spoke to them:  The kingdom of heaven is like to leaven, which a wom in took and hidinthree measures of meal, until the whole was leavened.

34 All these things JESUS spoke in parables to the multitudes; and without parables he did not speak to them.

3; That it might be tulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, aying: † I will open my mouth in parables, I will utter things hidden from the joundation of the world.

40 Even as cockle therefore is gathered up. and burnt with fire: so shall it be at the end of the world.

41 The Son of man shall send his Angels, and they shall gather out of his kingdom all scandals, and them that work iniquity.

42 And shall east them into the furnace of (ire: There shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth. 43 † Then shall the just shine as the sun, in she kingdom of their Father. He that hath, cars to hear, let him hear.

44 The kingdom of beaven is like unto a treasure hidden in a field. Which a man having found, hid it, and for joy the reof goeth and selleth all that he hath, and buyeth that field.

45 Again the kingdom of heaven is like to a merehant seeking goodly pearls.

46 Who when he had found one pearl of great price, went his way, and sold all that he had, and bought it.

47 Again the kingdom of heaven is like to a net cast into the sea, and gathering together of all kind of fishes. 48 Which, when it was filled, they drew out, and sitting by the shore, they ch se out the good into vessels, but the bad they cast forth.

49 So shall it be at the end of the world. The Angels shall go out, and shall separate the wicked from among the just.

50 And shall cast them into the furnace of fire: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

51 Have ye understood all these things?

They say to him: Yes.

52 He said unto him: Therefore every Scribe instructed in the kingdom of heaven, is like to a man that is a householder, who bringeth forth out of his treasure new things and old.

53 And it came to pass: when Jesus had anished these parables, he passed from thence.

54 ! And coming into his own country, he taught them in their synagogues, so that they wondered and said: How came this man by this wisdom and miraeles?

55 § Is not this the carpenter's son? Is not his mother called Mary, and his bre hien James, and Joseph, and Simon, and Jude:

56 And his sisters, are they not all with us? Whence therefore bath he all these things?

57 And they were scandalized in his regard. But JESUS said to them: A prophet is not 37 Who made answer and said to them: He without honour, save in his own country, and in his own house.

58 and he wrought not many miracles there because of their unbelief.

41 Watch ye, and pray that ye enter not into temptation. The spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh weak.

CHAP. XXVII.

The continuation of the history of the passien of Christ. His death and burial.

N D when morning was come, all the chief A priests and ancients of the people took connsel against Jesus, that they might put him to death.

2 §§ And they brought him bound, and delivered him to Pontius Pilate the governor.

3 Then Judas, who betrayed him. seeing that he was condenned; repenting himself, brought back the thirty pieces of silver to the chief priests and ancients,

4 Saying: I have sinned, in betraying inno-cent blood. But they said: What is that to us?

look thou to it.

5 And casting down the pieces of silver in the temple, he departed : | and went and hanged himself with an halter.

6 But the chief priests having taken the pieces of silver, said: It is not lawful to put them into the corbona, because it is the price of blood.

7 And after they had consulted together, they bought with them the potter's field, to be a burying-place for strangers.

8 TT For this cause that field was called haceldama, that is, the field of blood, even to this

9 Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by Jeremias the prophet, saying:  And they took the thirty pieces of silver, the price of him that was prized, whom they prized of the children of Israel.

10 And they gave them unto the potter's field as the Lord appointed to me.

11 And Jesus stood before the governor, ††† and the governor asked him, saying : Art thou the king of the Jews? JESUS saith to him: Thou 12 And when he was accused by the chief priests and ancients, he answered nothing.

- 13 Then Pilate saith to him: Dost not thou hear how great testimonies they allege against thee?
- 14 And he answered him to never a word: so that the governor wondered exceedingly.
- 15 Now upon the solemn day the governor was accustomed to release to the people one prisoner, whom they would.

16 And he had then a notorious prisoner, that was called Barabbas.

17 They therefore being gathered together. Pilate said: Whom will you that I release to you, Barabbas, or Jesus that is called Christ?

18 For he knew that for envy they had de-Livered him.

29 And as he was sitting in the place of judge ment, his wife sent to him, saying : Have thou nothing to do with that just man. For I nave Suffered many things this day in a dream because of him.

20 * But the chief priests and ancients persuaded the people, that they should ask Barabbas, and make Jesus away.

21 And the governor answering, said to them: Whether will you of the two to be released unto you? But they said, Barabbas.

22 Pilate saith to them: What shall I do then with Jesus that is called Christ? They say all: Let him be crucified.

23 The governor said to them: Why what evil hath he done? But they cried out the more, saying: Let him be crucifled.

24 And Pilate seeing that he prevailed nothing : but that rather a tumult was made; taking water washed his hands before the people. saying: I am innocent of the blood of this just man: look you to it.

25 And the whole people answering, said: His blood be upon us, and upon our children.

26 Then he released to them Barabbas, and having scourged Jesus delivered him unto them to be crucified.

27 Then the soldiers of the governor taking JESUS into the hall, † gathered together unto him the whole band:

28 And stripping him, they put a scarlet cloak about him.

29 ‡ And platting a crown of thorns, they put it upon his head, and a reed in his right hand. And bowing the knee before him, they mocked him, saying : Hail, king of the Jews.

30 And spitting upon him, they took the reed, and struck his head.

31 And after they had mocked him, they took off the cloak from him, and put on him his own garments, and led him away to crucify him.

32 § And going out they found a man of Cyrene, named Simon : him they forced to take up his cross.

33 | And they came to the place that is called Golgotha, which is, the place of Calvary.

34 And they gave him wine to drink, mingled with gall. And when he had tasted, he would not drink.

35 ¶ And after they had crucified him, they divided his garments, casting lots; that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, saying .  They divided my garments among them; and upon my vesture they cast lots.

36 And they sat and watched him.

37 And they put over his head his cause written: This is Jesus the King of the Jews.

38 Then were crucified with him two thieves: one on the right hand, and one on the left.

39 And they that passed by, blasphemed him, wagging their heads,

- 40 And saying: †† Vah, thou that destroyest the temple of God and in three days dost rebuild it; save thy own self: if thou be the Son of God, come down from the cross.

61 And there was there Mary Magdalen, and the other Mary sitting over against the sepulchre.

62 And the next day, which followed the day of preparation, the chief priests and the Phatisees came together to Pilate,

63 Saying: Sir, we have remembered, that that seducer said, while he was yet alive: After three days I will rise again.

64 Command therefore the sepulchre to be guarded until the third day: lest perhaps his disciples come, and steel him away, and say to the people, he is risen from the dead : and the last error shall be werse than the first.

65 Pliate said to them : You have a guard : | into Galilee : there you shall see him. Lo, 1 ge, guard it as you know.

3 And his countenance was as lightning, and his raiment as snow.

4 And for fear of him, the guards were struck with terror, and became as dead men.

5 And the angel answering, said to the women: Fear not you: for I know that you seek JESUS who was crucified.

HOLY GOSPEL OF JESUS CHRIST,

ACCORDING TO ST. MARK.

87. MARK, the disciple and interpreter of St. Peter, (saith St. Jerom.) accordin, to what he heard from Peter nimsel, wrote at Rome a brief Gospel at the request of the brethren, about ten years after our Lord's Ascension, which when Peter had heard, he approved of it, and with his authority published it to the church to be read. Euronius and others say, that the original was written in Lotin, but the more general opinion is, that the evangelist wrote it in Greek.

the kingdom of God,

21 § And they entered into Capharnaum, and forthwith upon the Sabbath-days going into the synagogue, he taught them

22 | And they were astonished at his doctrine. For he was teaching them as one having power, and not as the scribes.

23 ¶ And there was in their synagogue, a man with an unclean spirit; and he cried out, 24 Saying: What have we to do with thee, Jesus of Nazareth? art thou come to destroy us? I know who thou art, the Holy one of God.

25 And Jesus threatened him, saying: Speak no more and go out of the man.

26 And the unclean spirit tearing him, and crying out with a loud voice, went out of him.

27 And they were all amazed, insome "that they questioned among themselves, saying; What thing is this? what is this new doctrine? for with power he commandeth even the unclean spirits, and they obey him.

28 And the fame of him was spread forthwith into all the country of Galilee.

29 And immediately going out of the synagogue, they came into the house of Simon and Andrew, with James and John.

30 And Simon's wife's mother lay in a fit of a fever: and forthwith they tell him of her.

Christ healn the sick of the palsy, calls Matthew; and cocuses his disciples.

A ND | again he entered into Capharnauu

2 And it was heard that he was in the house, and many came together, so that there was no room, no not even at the door; and he spoke to them the word.

3 ¶¶ And they came to him bringing one sick of the palsy, who was carried by four

4 And when they could not offer him unto him for the multitude, they uncovered the roof where he was: and opening it they et down the bed wherein the man sick of the palsy lay.

And when Jesus had seen their faith, he saith to the sick of the paisy: Son, thy sins are forgiven thee.

6 And there were some of the scribes sitting there, and thinking in their hearts

7 Why doth this man speak thus? he blas phein th.  Who can forgive sins, but God only?

8 Which Jesus presently knowing in his spirit, that they so thought within themselves, saith to them: Why think you these things in your hearts?

9 Which is easier, to say to the sick of the palsy: Thy sins are forgiven thee or to say:

Arise, take up thy bed, and walk?

10 But that you may know that he son of man hath power on earth to forgive sins (he saith to the sick of the palsy),

11 I say to thee, Arise, take up thy bed, and go into thy house.

12 And immediately ne arose; and taking up his bed, went his way in the sight of all, so that all wondered, and glorified God, caying: We never saw the like.

13 And he went forth again to the sca-side: and all the multitude came to him, and ha taught them.

14 111 and when he was passing by, he saw Levi the son of Alpheus, sitting at the receipt of custom; and he sulth to him; Follow me. And cising up he followed him.

15 And it came to pass, that as he sat at meat in his house, many publicans and sinners sat down together with Jesus and his disciples. For they were many, who also followed him.

16 And the scribes and the Pharisees, seeing that he ate with publicans and sinners said to his disciples: Why doth your master eat and drink with publicans and sinners?

17 * JESUS hearing this, saith to them : They that are well have no need of a physician, but they that are sick. For I came not to call the just, but sinners.

18 And the disciples of John and the Pharisees used to fast and they come, and say to him: Why do the disciples of John and of the Pharisees fast; but thy disciples de not fast?

19 And JESUS saith to them: Can the childryn of the marriage fast, as long as the bridegroom is with them? As long as they have the bridegroom with them, they cannot fast.

20 † But the days will come when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them : and then they shall fast in those days.

21 No man seweth a piece of raw cloth to an old garment: otherwise the new piccing taketh away from the old, and there is made a greater rent.

22 And no man putteth new wine into old bottles: otherwise the wine will barst the bottles, and both the wine will be spilled, and the bottles will be lost. But new wine must be put into new bottles.

23 ‡ And it came to pass again, as the Lord walked through the corn-fields on the sabbath, that his disciples began to go forward and to pluck the ears of corn.

24 And the Pharisees said to him: Behold, why do they on the sabbath-day that which is not lawful ?

- 25 And he said to them: § Have you never read what David did, when he had need, and was hungry himself, and they that were with him?
- 26 How he went into the house of God under Abiathar the high priest, and did eat the loaves of proposition | which was not lawful to eat but for the priests, and gave to them who were with him?

The parable of the sower. Christ stills the tempest at sea. ND * again he began to teach by the sea A side; and a great multitude was gathered together unto him so that he went up into a ship and sat in the sea, and all the multitude was upon the land by the sea side.

2 And he taught them many things in parables, and said unto them in his doctrine:

7 And some fell among thorns: and the thorns grew up, and choked it, and it yielded no fruit.

10 And when he was alone, the twelve that were with him asked him the parable.

11 And he said to them: To you it is given to know the mystery of the kingdom of God: but to them that are without, all things are done in parables: 12 † That seeing they may see, and not perteive: and hearing they may hear, and not understand: lest at any time they should be converted, and their sins should be forgiven them. 13 And he saith to them Are you ignorant of this parable? and how shall you know all parables?

14 He that soweth: soweth the word.

16 And these are they by the way side, where the word is sown, and as soon as they have heard, immediately satan cometh, and taketh away the word that was sown in their hearts.

seeds that are in the earth:

CHAP. IX. Christ is transfigured. He casts out the dumb spirit. He teaches humility and to avoid scandal.

ND TT after six days Jesus taketh with him Peter and James and John and loadeth them up into an high mountain apart by themselves, and was transfigured before them.

2 And his garments became shining and exoreding white as snow, so as no fuller upon earth can make white.

3 And there appeared to them Elias with Moses; and they were talking with Jesus.

4 And Peter answering, said to Jesus : Rabbi, It is good for us to be here; and let us make three tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias.

5 For he knew not what he said; for they were struck with fear :

6 And there was a cloud overshadowing them, and a voice came out of the cloud, saying: This is my most beloved son : hear ye him :

7 And immediately looking about, they saw no man any more but Jesus only with them.

8 * And as they came down from the mountain, he charged them not to tell any man what things they had seen, till the son of man shall be risen again from the dead.

9 And they kept the word to themselves; questioning together what that should mean, when he shall be risen from the dead.

10 And they asked him, saying: † Why then do the Pharisees and scribes say that Elias must 11 Who answering said to them: Elias when he shall come first, shall restore all things, and as ‡ it is written of the son of man, that he must suffer many things and be despised.

12 But I say to you, that Elias also is come (and they have done to him whatsoever they would) as it is written of him.

13 And coming to his disciples, he saw a great multitude about them, and the scribes disputing with them.

14 And presently all the people seeing Jesus, was astonished and struck with fear : and running to him, they saluted him.

15 And he asked them, What do you question about among you?

16 § And one of the multitude answering, said: Master, I have brought my son to thee having a dumb spirit, ciples to cast him out, and they could not.

18 Who answering them, said: O increduous generation, how long shall I be with you? low long shall I suffer you? bring him unto me.

19 And they brought him. And when he had een him, immediately the spirit troubled him; and being thrown down upon the ground, he

- 25 And crying out, and greatly tearing him, he went out of him, and he became as dead, so that many said: He is dead.

26 But Jesus taking him by the hand, lifted him up; and he arose.

27 And when he was come into the house, his disciples secretly asked him: Why could not we cast him out?

28 And he said to them: This kind can go out by nothing but by prayer and fasting.

29 And departing from thence they passed through Galilee, and he would not that any man should know it.

they were afraid to use him.

23 But they held their peace, for in the way they had disputed among themselves I which of them should be the greatest.

34 And sitting down, he called the twelve, and saith to them: If any man desire to be first, he shall be the last of all, and the minister of all.

35 And taking a child, he set him in the callst of them. Whom when he had embraced, he sait's to them:

CHAP. XIL

The parable of the rineyard and husbandmen. Cesar's right to tribute. The Sadducees are confuted. The first ermandment. The widow's mits.

ND * he began to speak to them in parables: A certain man planted a vineyard and made a hedge about it, and dug a place for the wine fat, and built a tower, and let it to husbandmen; and went into a far country.

2 And at the season he sent to the husbandmen a servant to receive of the husbandmen, of the fruit of the vineyard.

3 Who having laid hards on him, beat him, and sent him away empty.

4 And again he sent to them another servant; and him they wounded in the head, and used him reproachfully.

5 And again he sent another, and him they killed: and many others, of whom some they beat, and others they killed.

6 Therefore having yet one son most dear to him; he also sent him unto them the last of all, saying: They will reverence my son. 7 But the husbandmen said one to another: This is the heir; come let us kill him; and the mheritance shall be ours.

8 And laying hold on him they killed him, and cast him out of the vineyard.

9 What therefore will the lord of the vineyard do? He will come and destroy those husbandmer; and will give the vineyard to others.

10 And have you not read this scripture, † The stone which the builders rejected, the same is made the head of the corner:

11 By the Lord has this been done, and it is sanderful in our eyes?

12 And they sought to lay hands on him, but they feared the people. For they knew that he spoke this parable to them. And leaving him they went their way.

13 ‡ And they send to him some of the Pharisees and of the Herodians; that they should catch him in his words.

14 Who coming, say to him: Master, we know that thou art a true speaker, and carest not for any man; for thou regardest not the person of men, but teachest the way of God in truth. Is it lawful to give tribute to Cesar; or chall we not give it?

15 Who knowing their wiliness, saith to them: Why tempt you me? bring me a penny that I may see it.

16 And they brought it him. And he saith to them: Whose is this image, and inscription?

They say to him, Cesar's.

17 And Jesus answering, said to them: § Render therefore to Cesar the things that are Cesar's, and to God the things that are God's. And they marvelled at him.

18 And there came to him the Sadducees, who say there is no resurrection; and they isked him, saying:

19 Master, Moses wrote unto us, T that if any man's brother die, and leave his wife behind him, and leave no children, his brother should take his wife and raise up seed to his brother.

20 Now there were seven brethren; and the first took a wife, and died leaving no issue.

21 And the second took her and died: and neither did he leave any issue. And the third in like manner.

22 And the seven all took her in like manner; and did not leave issue. Last of all the woman also died.

23 In the resurrection therefore, when they shall rise again, whose wife shall she be of them? for the seven had her to wife.

24 And Jesus answering saith to them ye not therefore err, because you know not the Scriptures, nor the power of God?

25 For when they shall rise again from the dead, they shall neither marry, nor be married, but are as the angels in heaven.

26 And as concerning the dead that they rise again, have you not read in the book of Moses, how in the bush God spoke to him, say ing:  I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob?

27 He is not the God of the dead, but of the living. You therefore do greatly err.

28 † And there came one of the scribes that had heard them reasoning together, and seeing that he had answered them well, asked him which was the first commandment of all.

29 And Jesus answered him: The first commandment of all is, II Hear, O Israel: the Lord thy God is one God.

30 And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with thy whole heart, and with thy whole soul, and with thy whole mind, and with thy whole strength. This is the first commandment.

31 §§ And the second is like to it: Thou shall love thy neighbour as thyself. There is no other commandment greater than these.

32 And the scribe said to him: Well, master, thou hast said in truth, that there is one God, and there is no other besides him. 33 And that he should be loved with the whole heart, and with the whole understanding, and with the whole soul, and with the whole strength: and to leve one's neighbour as oneself, is a greater thing than all holocausts and sacrifices. 34 And Jesus seeing that he had answered wisely, said to him: Theu art not far from the kingdom of God. And no man after that durst ask him any question.

35 And Jesus answering said, teaching in the temple: How do the scribes say, that Chris is the son of David?

36 For David himself saith by the Holy Ghost: | The Lord said to my Lord, Sit on my right hand, until I make thy enemies thy footstool.

37 David therefore himself calleth him Lord and whence is he then his son? And a great multitude heard him gladly.

38 And he said to them in his doctrine: ¶¶ Beware of the scribes, who love to walk in long robes, and to be saluted in the market-place,

39 And to sit in the first chairs in the synagogues, and to have the highest places at suppers:

Christ foretels the illustruction of the temple, and the stone that shall forerun the day of judgment.

A ND * as he was going out of the temple,

A one of his disciples saith to him: Master, behold what manner of stones, and what buildings are here.

2 And Jesus answering, said to him: Seest thou all these great buildings? † There shall not be left a stone upon a stone, that shall not be thrown down.

3 And as he sat on the mount of Olivet over against the temple, Peter and James and John and Andrew asked him apart:

4 Tell us, when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign when all these things shall begin to be fulfilled?

5 And Jesus answering, began to say to them,

Take heed lest any man deceive you.

6 For many shall come in my name saying, I am he; and they shall deceive many.

7 And when you shall hear of wars and rumours of wars, fear ye not. For such things must needs be, but the end is not yet.

8 For nation shall rise again nation, and kingdom against kingdom, and there shall be earthquakes, in divers places, and famines. These things are the beginning of sorrows.

9 But look to yourselves. For they shall deliver you up to councils, and in the synagogues you shall be beaten, and you shall stand before governors and kings for my sake, for a testimony unto them.

10 And unto all nations the gospel must first be preached.

11 & And when they shall lead you and deliver you up, be not thoughtful beforehand what you shall speak; but whatsoever shall be given you in that hour, that speak ye. For it is not you that speak, but the Holy Ghost.

12 And the brother shall betray his brother unto death, and the father his son; and children shall rise up against the parents, and shall work their death.

13 And you shall be hated by all men for my name's sake. But he that shall endure unto the end, he shall be saved.

14 And when you shall see the abominaion of desolation, standing where it ought not:

waste of the ointment made?

5 For this ointment might have been sold for more than three hundred pence, and given to the poor. And they murmured against her.

38 III And behold a man among the crowd cried out, saying: Master, I beseech thee, look upon my son, because he is my only one.

39 And lo, a spirit seizeth him, and he sud denly crieth out, and he throweth him down and teareth him so that he foameth, and bruising him he hardly departeth from him.

40 And I desired thy disciples to cast hir out, and they could not.

41 And Jesus answering said : O faithless an perverse generation, how long shall I be wit you and suffer you? Bring hither thy son.

42 And as he was coming to him, the devil threw him down and tore him.

43 And Jesus rebuked the unclean spirit, and cured the boy, and restored him to his father.
44 And all were astonished at the mighty power of God: but while all wondered at all the things he did, he said to his disciples : Lay you up in your hearts these words, for it shall come to pass that the son of man shall be delivered into the hands of men.

45 But they understood not this word, and it was hid from them, so that they perceived it not. And they were afraid to ask him concerning this word.

46 TT And there entered a thought into them, which of them should be greater.

47 But Jesus seeing the thoughts of their heart, took a child and set him by him.

48 And said to them, Whosoever shall receive this child in my name, receiveth me; and whosoever shall receive me, receiveth him that sent me. For he that is the lesser among you all, he is the greater.

49 And John answering, said : Master, we saw a certain man casting out devils in thy name, and we forbade him, because he followeth not with us.

50 And Jesus said to him : Forbid him not : for he that is not against you, is for you.

62 JESUS said to him : No man putting his hand to the plough, and looking back, is fit for the kingdom of God.

16 And others tempting, asked of him a sig: from heaven.

18 And if satan also be divided against himself, how shall his kingdom stand? because you say, that through Beelzebub I cast out devils.

19 Now if I cast out devils by Beelzebuh; by whom do your children cast them out? Thero-

Christ warns us against hypocrisy, the fear of the world, and covetousness: and admonishes all to watch.

ND when great multitudes stood about him, so that they trod one upon another, he began to sa to his disciples: §§ Beware ye of the leaver of the Pharisees, which is hypocrisy.

4 And I say to you, my friends: Be not a fraid of them who kill the body, and after that have no more that they can do.

The assessity of penance. The harren Agires. The come of the snarm woman, 20.

A ND there were present at that very time some that told him of the Galileans, whose blood Pilate had mingled with their sacrifices.

4 Or those eighteen upon whom the tower fell in Siloe, and slew them: think you that they also were debtors above all the men that dwelt in Jerusalem?

5 No, I say to you: but except you do pen-

7 And he said to the dresser of the vineyard: Behold for these three years I come seeking fruit on this fig-tree, and I find none. Cut it iown therefore; why cumbereth it the ground?

8 But he answering said to him: Lord, let it alone this year also, until I dig about it, and dung it.

9 And if happily it bear fruit': but if not, then after that then shalt cut it down.

10 And he was teaching in their synagogue in their sabbath.

11 And behold there was a woman who had a spirit of infirmity eighteen years: and she was bowed together, neither could she look upwards at all.

12 Whom when Jesus saw, he called her anto him, and said to her: Woman, thou art delivered from thy infirmity.

13 And he laid his hands upon her, and immediately she was made straight, and glorified God.

14 And the ruler of the synagogue, (being angry that Jesus had healed on the sabbath) answering said to the multitude : Six days there are wherein you ought to work. In them therefore come, and be healed: and not on the sabbath-day.

15 And the Lord answering him, said: Ye hypocrites, doth not every one of you on the sa:bath-day loose his ox or his ass from the manger, and lead them to water?

16 And ought not this daughter of Abraham, whom satan hath bound, lo, these eighteen years, be loosed from this bond on the subbathday?

17 And when he said these things, all his adversaries were ashamed : and all the people rejoiced for all the things that were gloriously done by him.

19 * It is like to a grain of mustard seed, which 'a man took and east into his garden, and it grew, and became a great tree, and the birds of the air lodged in the branches thereof.

15 When one of them that sat at table with him, had heard these things, he said to him: Blessed is he that shall eat bread in the king-me excused.

20 And another said, I have married a wife,

21 And the servant returning told these things to his lord. Then the master of the house being angry, said to his servant: Go out quickly into the streets and lanes of the city, and bring in hither the poor and the feeble and the blind and the lame.

22 And the servant said: Lord, it is done as thou hast commanded, and yet there is room.

5 And when he hath found it, lay it upon his

6 And coming home call together his friends and neighbours, saying to them: Rejoice with me, because I have found my sheep that was lost?

8 I say to you that he will quickly revenge But yet the son of man when he cometh, shall he find, think you, faith on earth?

9 And to some who trusted in themselves as just : and despised others, he spoke also this parable:

10 Two men went up into the temple to pray: the one a Pharisee, and the other a publican.

11 The Pharisce standing prayed thus with himself: O God, I give thee thanks that I am not us the rest of men, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, as also is this publican.

12 I fust twice in a week : I give tithes of all that I possess.

13 And the publican standing afar off would not so much as lift up his eyes towards heaven; but struck his breast, saying: 0 God, be merciful to me a sinner.

14 I say to you, this man went down into his house justified rather than the other: † because every one that exalteth himself, shall be humbled; and be that humbleth himself, shall be exalted disciples saw, they rebuked them.

16 But Jusus, calling them together, said: Suffer children to come to me, and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of God.

17 Amen I say to you : Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a child, shall not enter into it.

18 § And a certain ruler asked him, saying: Good master, what shall I do to possess ever-from my youth.

22 Which when JESUS had heard, he said to him: Yet one thing is wanting to thee: sell all whatever thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven : and come, allow me.

23 He having heard these things, became sorrowful: for he was very rich.

24 And Jesus seeing him become sorrowful, said: How hardly shall they that have riches enter into the kingdom of God.

25 For it is easier for a camel to pass through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God.

23 And they that heard it said: Who then can be saved?

27 He said to them: The things that are im possible with men, are possible with God.

29 § And It came to pass, when he was come nigh to Bethphage and Bethania unto the mount called Olivet, he sent two of his disciples, 30 Saying: Go into the town which is overagainst you, at your entering into which, you shall find the colt of an ass tied, on which no man ever hath sitten: loose him, and bring him hither.

31 And if any man shall ask you: Why do you loose him? you shall say thus unto him? Because the Lord hath need of his service.

32 And they that were sent went their way, and found the colt standing, as he had said unto them.

33 And as they were loosing the colt, the owners thereof said to them : Why loose you the colt?

34 But they said: Because the Lord hath need of him.

35 | And they brought him to Jesus. casting their garments on the colt, they set Jesus thereon.

36 And as he went, they spread their clothes underneath in the way.

37 And when he was now coming near the descent of mount Olivet, the whole multitude of his disciples began with joy to praise God. with a loud voice, for all the might; works

ND * it came to pass that on one of the ; days as he was teaching the people in the temple and preaching the gospel, the chief priests and the scribes with the ancients met together, was a prophet.

7 And they answered that they knew not whence it was.

3 And Jesus said to them: Neither do I tell you by what authority I do these things.

9 And he began to speak to the people this parable: † A certain man planted a vineyard, and let it out to husbandmen: and he was abroad for a long time.

10 And at the season he sent a servant to the husbandmen, that they should give him of the fruit of the vineyard. Who beating him sent him away empty.

11 And again he sent another servant. But they beat him also, and treating him reproachfully, sent him away empty.

12 And again he sent the third · and they wounded him also, and east him out.

13 Then the lord of the vineyard said: What shall I do? I will send my beloved son : it may 18 Whosoever shall fall upon that stone, shall bruised : and upon whomseever it shall fall, at will grind him to powder.

19 And the chief priests and the scribes sought to lay hands on him the same hour ; but they feared the people, for they knew that he spoke this parable to them.

20 § And being upon the watch, they sent spies, who should feign themselves just, that they might take hold of him in his words, that they aught deliver him up to the authority and pow-

21 And they asked him, saying : Master, we know that thou speakest and teachest rightly; and thou dost not respect any person, but teachcat the way of God in truth.

33 In the resurrection therefore, whose wife of them shall she be? For all the seven had her to wife.

34 And Jesus said to them: The children of this world marry, and are given in marriage:

35 But they that shall be accounted worthy of that world and of the resurrection from the dead, shall neither be married, nor take wives. 36 Neither can they die any more: for they are equal to the angels, and are the children of Christ's resurrection; and manifestation of himself to his Cisciples.

ND ton the first day of the week very early in the morning they came to the sepulchre, bringing the spices which they had prepared.

2 And they found the stone rolled back from the sepulchre.

3 And going in, they found not the body of the Lord JESUS.

them in shining apparel.

10 And it was Mary Magdalen, and Joanna, and Mary of James, and the other women that were with them, who told these things to the apostles.

11 And these words seemed to them as idle tales: and they did not believe them.

12 But Peter rising up ran to the sepulchre, and stooping down he saw the linen cloths laid by themselves, and went away wondering in himself at that which was come to pass.

13 | And behold, two of them went the same day to a town which was sixty furlongs from Jerusalem, named Emmaus.

14 And they talked together of all these things which had happened.

15 And it came to pass, that while they talked and reasoned with themselves, Jesus himself also drawing pear went with them.

15 but their eyes were held that they should not know him.

17 And he said to them: What are these discourses that you hold one with another as you walk, and are sad?

18 And the one of them, whose name was Cleophas, answering, said to him: Art thou only a stranger in Jerusalem, and hast not known the things that have been done there in these days?

19 To whom he said: What things? And they said: Concerning Jesus of Nazareth, who was a prophet, mighty in work and word before God and all the people.

phets have spoken.

27 And beginning at Moses and all the propliets, he expounded to them in all the scriptures the things that were concerning him.

would go farther.

32 And they said one to the other: Was not our heart burning within us, whilst he spoke in the way, and opened to us the scriptures?

THE

HOLY GOSPEL OF JESUS CHRIST

ACCORDING TO ST. JOHN.

St. John the Apostle and Evangelist, was the son of Zibedee and Salome, and brother to James the Greater. He was called the BRLOVED DISCIPLE OF CHILST, and stond by at his crucificion. He wrote the Gospel after the other Brangelists, about strict-three years after our Lord's ascension. Many things that they had omitted were supplied when he toss earnessly requested by the brethen to write the Gospel, he answered he would do it, if hy ordering with the cheurest and fullest revelation, coming from Heaven, he burst forth into that preface: In the beginning was the Word, &c.

CHAP. I.

The Divinity and Incarnation of Christ. John bears witness of him. He begins to call his disciples.

N the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. 2 The same was in the beginning with God.

3 All things were made by him : and without clin was made nothing that was made.

. Mat. 2 1. Mark 1. 2.

- 4 In him was life, and the life was the light or men:
- 5 And the light shineth in darkness, and the darkness did not comprehend it.

6 * There was a man sent from God. whose name was John.

7 This man came for a witness, to give restimony of the light, that all men night believe Percuet him.

6 He was not the light, our was to give testi- ! wony of the light.

9 * That was the true light, which enlightengui every man that cometh into this world.

10 He was in the world + and the world was made by him, and the world knew him not.

11. He came unto his own, and his own received him not

12 But as many as received him, he gave them lower to be made the sons of God, to them that believe in his name. 13 Who are born, not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God.

14 # And the Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us (and we saw his g'ory, the glory as it were of the only-begotten of the Father) full of grace and truth.

15 John beareth witness of him, and crieth out, saying: This was he of whom I spoke: He that shall come after me, is preferred before me:

because he was before me.

16 § And of his fulness we all have received, and grace for grace.

17 For the law was given by Moses, grace and truth came by Jesus Christ.

18 | No man hath seen God at any time : the only-begotten Son who is in the bosom of the Father, he hath declared him.

19 And this is the testimony of John, when the Jews sent from Jerusalem priests and levites to him, to ask him: Who art thou?

20 And he confessed, and did not deny : and he confessed: I am not the CHRIST.

21 And they asked him: What then? Art thou Elias? And he said: I am not. Art thou the prophet? And he answered: No.

22 They said therefore unto him: Who art thou, that we may give an answer to their that gent '18? what sayest thou of thyself?

23 He said: ¶ I am the voice of one crying it the wilderness, Make straight the way of the Lord, as said the prophet Isaias.

24 And they that were sent, were of the Pha-

25 And they asked him, and said to him: Why then dost thou baptize, if thou be not

Christ, nor Elias, nor the prophet? 26 John answered them, saying:  I baptize with water; but there hath stood one in the nidst of you, whom you know not. 27 # The same is he that shall come after me. «vho is preferred before me: the latchet of whose shoe I am not worthy to loose.

28 These things were done in Bethania beyond the Jordan, where John was baptizing.

29 The next day John saw Jesus coming to im, and he saith: Behold the lamb of God, behold him who taketh away the sin of the world.

30 This is ho of whom I said: After me there cometh a man, who is preferred before me: because he was before me.

31 And I knew him not, but that he may be ade manifest in Israel, therefore am I come captizing with water.

32 And John gave testimony, saying: ## I saw the Spirit coming down as a dove from heaven, and he remained upon him.

33 And I knew him not : but he, who sent, me to baptize with water, said to me: He upon whom thou shalt see the Spirit descending and remaining upon him he it is that baptizet! with the Holy Ghost.

34 And I saw; and I gave testimony, that this is the Son of God.

35 The next day again John stood, and two of his disciples. 36 And beholding Jesus walking, he saith:

Behold the lamb of God.

37 And the two disciples heard him speak, and they followed Jesus.

38 And Jesus turning, and seeing then.

following him, said to them: What seek you? Who said to him: Rabbi, (which in to say, being interpreted, Master) where dwellest thon?

39 He saith to them: Come and see. They came, and saw where he abode, and they staid with him that day: now it was about the tent.

40 And Andrew the brother of Simon Peter was one of the two who had heard of John, and followed him.

41 He findeth first his brother Simon, and saith to him: We have found the MESSIAS, which is, being interpreted, the CHRIST.

42 And he brought him to Jesus. And Jesus looking upon him, said: Thou art Simon the son of Jona : thou shalt be called Cephas, which is interpreted Peter.

43 On the following day he would go forth into Galilee, and he findeth Phillp. And JESUS saith to him: Follow me.

44 Now Philip was of Bethsalda, the city of Andrew and Peter.

45 Philip findeth Nathanael, and saith to him: We have found him of whom $$ Moses in the law, ||| and the prophets did write, Jesus the son of Joseph of Nazareth.

46 And Nathanael said to him: Can any thing of good come from Nazareth? Philip saith to him: Come and see.

47 JESUS saw Nathanael coming to him, and he saith of him: Behold an Israelite indeed, in whom there is no guile.

48 Nathanael saith to him: Whence knowest thou me? Jusus answered and said to him: Before that Phillp called thee, when thou wast under the fig-tree, I saw thee.

49 Nathanael answered him, and said: Rabbi, thou art the Son of God, thou art the king of Israel.

50 Jesus answered, and said to him: Becausa I said unto thee, I saw thee under the fig-tree, thou believest: greater things than these shalt thon see.

51 And he saith to him: Amen, amen I say to you, you shall see the heaven opened, and the Angels of God ascending and descending upon the son of man.

CHAP. II. Christ changes water into wine: He casts the sellers aut; of the temple.

6 Now there were set there six water-pots of stone, according to the manner of the purifying of the Jews, containing two or three measures a piece.

7 Jesus saith to them: Fill the water-pots with water. And they filled them up to the brim.

8 And Jesus saith to them: Draw out now, and carry to the chief steward of the feas; and they carried it.

9 And when the chief steward had tasted the water made wine, and knew not whence it was, but the waiters knew who had drawn the water; the chief steward calleth the bridegroom,

10 And saith to him: Every man at first setteth forth good wine, and when men have well drank, then that which is worse. But thou hast kept the good wine until now.

11 This beginning of miracles did Jesus in Cana of Galilee: and manifested his glory, and his disciples believed in him.

12 After this he went down to Capharnaum, he and his mother, and his brethren, and his dissiples: and they remained there not many days.

13 And the pasch of the Jews was at hand.

and Jesus went up to Jerusalem:

14 And he found in the temple them that sold oxen and sheep and doves, and the changers of money sitting.

15 And when he had made as it were a scourge of little cords, he drove them all out of the temple, the sheep also and the oxen, and the money of the changers he poured out, and the tables he overthrew.

16 And to them that sold doves he said : Fake these things hence, and make not the nouse of my father, a house of traffic.

17 And his disciples remembered that it was written: * The zeal of thy house hath eaten me up. 18 The Jews therefore answered, and said to kim: What sign dost thou shew unto us, seeing thou dost these things.

19 JESUS answered and said to them: † Destroy this temple, and in three days I will raise it up.

20 The Jews then said: Six and forty years was this temple in building, and wilt thou raise it up in three days?

21 But he spoke of the temple of his body. 22 When therefore he was risen again from the dead, his disciples remembered that he had Baid this, I and they believed the scripture, and the word that Jesus had said.

23 Now when he was at Jerusalem at the pasch, upon the festival day, many believed in his name, seeing his signs which he did.

CHAP. III.

Christ's discourse with Nicodemus. John's testimony

ND there was a man of the Pharisees named Nicodemus, a ruler of the Jews.

This man came to Jesus by night, and said.

to him: Rabbi, we know that thou art come a teacher from God; for no man can do these signs which thou dost, unless God be with him.

3 Jesus answered, and said to him: Amer. amen I say to thee, unless a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God.

4 Nicodemus saith to him : How can a maz be born when he is old? can he enter a second time into his mother's womb, and be born again?

5 Jesus answered : Amen, amen I say to thee, unless a man be born again of water and the Holy Ghost, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God.

6 That which is born of the flesh, is flesh: and that which is born of the Spirit, is spirit.

7 Wonder not, that I said to thee, you must be born again.

8 The Spirit breatheth where he will; and thou hearest his voice, § but thou knowest not whence he comelh and whither he goeth : 50 is every one that is born of the Spirit.

9 Nicodemus answered, and said to him !

How can these things be done?

10 Jesus answered, and said to him: Arv thou a master in Israel, and knowest not these Ulings?

11 Amen, amen I say to thee, that we speak what we know, and we testify what we have seen, and you receive not our testimony.

12 If I have spoken to you earthly things, and you believe not: how will you believe if I shall speak to you heavenly things?

13 And no man hath ascended into heaven, but he that descended from heaven, the son of man who is in heaven.

14 | And as Moses lifted up the serpont in the desert, so must the son of man be lifted up: 15 That whosoever believeth in him, may not perish, but may have life everlasting.

16 T For God so loved the world, as to give his only begotten Son; that whosoever be-lieveth in him, may not perish, but may have life everlasting.

17 For God sent not his Son, into the world, to judge the world, but that the world may be saved by him.

18 He that believeth in him is not judged. But he that doth not believe, is already judged : because he believeth not in the name of the only begutten Son of God.

19 And this is the judgment:  because the light is come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than the light: for their works were evil.

20 For every one that doth evil hateth the words indicating anger in one tone of roice, would be words indicating anges in one tone of roice, would be understood quite the reverse in another.

CHAP, 11. Ver. 5. Unises a man be born again, &c. By these words our Saviour hath declared the necessity of Bassism; and by the word water, it is evident that the application of it is necessary with the words, Male xviii. 18.

Ver. 18. Is not judged. He that believeth, riz. by a faith working through charity, is not inaged, that is, is not condensed; but the obstinute unbeliever is judged that is, condensed altroidy, by retrenching himself from the society of Christ and his church.

But he that doth truth, cometh to the light, that his works may be made manifest, occause they are done in God.

22 After these things JESUS and his disciples orme into the land of Judea; and there he abode with them & and baptized.

23 And John also was baptizing in Ennon near Salim; because there was much water there, and they came, and were baptized.

24 For John was not yet cast into prison.

25 And there arose a question between some of John's disciples and the Jews concerning purification :

26 And they came to John, and said to him: Rabbi, he that was with thee beyond the Jordan, to whom thou gavest testimony, behold he baptizeth, and all men come to him. 27 John answered and sild: A man cannot receive any thing, unless it be given lum from beaven.

23 You yourselves do beer me witness, ‡ that I said I am not Christ, but that I am sent before him.

29 He that both the bride, is the bridegroom: but the friend of the bridegroom, who standeth and heareth him, rejoiceth with joy necause of the bridegroom's voice. This my joy therefore is iulalled.

30 He must increase but I must decrease.

31 He that cometh from above, is above all He that is of the earth, of the earth he is, and of the earth he speaketh. He that cometh from sceven, is above all.

7 There comech a woman of Samuria to draw water. Jesus saith to her: Give me to drink.

3 For his disciples were gone into the city to bny meats.

9 Then that Samaritan woman saith to him; How dost thou, being a Jew, ask of me to drink, who am a Samaritan woman? For the Jeves do not communicate with the Samaritans.

10 Jesus answered, and said to her: If there didst know the gift of God, and who he is that saith to thee, Give me to drink; then perhaps wouldst have asked of him, and he would have given thee living water.

11 The woman saith to him: Sir, thou has! nothing wherein to draw, and the well is deep: from whence then hast thou living water?

12 Art thou greater than our father Jacob, who gave us the well, and drank thereof himself, and his children, and his cattle?

13 Jesus answered, and said to her: Whoso ever drinketh of this water, shaft thirst again: but he that shall drink of the water that I will give him, shall not thirst for ever :

14 But the water that I will give him, shall become in him a fountain of water springing up into life everlasting.

15 The woman saith to him: Sir, give und this water, that I may not thirst, nor conic hither to draw.

16 Justs saith to her: Go, call thy husband, and come hither.

17 The woman answered, and said: I have no husband. Jesus said to her: Thou hast said well, i have no husband:

18 For thou hast had five husbands: and he whom thou now hast, is not thy husband. This thou hast said truly.

19 The woman saith to him: Sir, I perceivo that thou art a propliet.

20 Our fathers adored on this mountain, and you say, if that at Jerusalem is the place where men must adore.

21 JESUS saith to her: Woman, believe me that the hour cometh, when you shall neither on this mountain, nor in Jerusalem adore the

22 11 You adore that which you know not: we adore that which we know; for salvation is of the Jews.

23 But the hour cometh, and now is, when the true adorers shall adore the Father in spirit and in truth. For the Father also seeketh such to adore him.

24 §§ God is a spirit, and they that adore him, must adore him in spirit and in truth.

25 The woman saith to him: I know that the Messias cometh (who is called Christ) therefore when he is come, ho will tell us all things.

26 JESUS saith to her: I am he who am speaking with thee.

27 And immediately his disciples came: and they wondered that he talked with the woman. Yet no man said: What seekest thou, or wny talkest thou with her?

28 The woman therefore left her waterpo; and went her way into the city, and saith to the men there:

29 Come, and see a men who has told me all things whatsoever I have done. Is not he the CURIST?

so They went therefore out of the city, and came muo mm.

31 In the meantime the disciples prayed htm, saying: Rabbi, eat.

22 But he said to them: I have meat to cat which you know not.

33 The disciples therefore said one to another: Hath any man brought him to eat?

34 JESUS saith to them: My meat is to do the will of him that sent me, that I may perfect his work.

35 Donot you say, there are yet four months and then the harvest cometh? Behold I say to you, lift up your eyes, and see the countries, * for they are white already to harvest.

26 And he that reapeth receiveth wages, and gathereth fruit unto life everlasting : that both he that soweth, and he that reapeth, may rejoice together.

37 For in this is the saying true: that it is one man that soweth, and it is another that reapeth.

38 I have sent you to reap that in which you did not labour: others have laboured, and you have entered into their labours.

39 Now of that city many of the Samaritans believed in him, for the word of the woman giving testimony: He told me all things whatsoever I have done.

40 So when the Samaritans were come to him, they desired him that he would tarry there. And he abode there two days.

41 And many more believed in him because of his own word.

42 And they said to the women: We now believe, not for thy saying : for we ourselves have heard him, and know that this is indeed the Saviour of the world.

43 Now after two days he departed thence;

and went into Galilee.

44 † For Jesus himself gave testimony that a prophet hath no hononr in his own country.

45 ‡ And when he was come into Galilee, the Galileans received him, having seen all things he had done at Jerusalem on the festival day: for they also went to the festival day.

46 He came again therefore into Cana of Galilee, Swhere he made the water wine. And there was a certain ruler whose son was sick at Capharnaum.

47 He having heard that Jesus was come from Judea into Galilee, went to him, and prayed him to come down and heal his son: for he was at the point of death.

48 Jesus therefore said to him: Unless you see signs and wonders you believe not.

49 The ruler saith to him: Lord, comedown that his son lived.

3 In these lay a great multitude of sick, of blind, of lame, of withered, waiting for the moving of the water.

4 And an Angel of the Lord descended at certain times into the pond; and the water was moved. And he that went down first into the pond after the motion of the water, was made whole of whatsoever infirmity he lay under.

5 And there was a certain man there, that had been eight and thirty years under his infirmity.

6 Him when JESUS had seen lying, and knew that he had been now a long time, he saith to mim: Wilt thou be made whole?

7 The infirm man answered him: Sir, I have no man, when the water is troubled, to pur me into the pond. For whilst I am coming, another goeth down before me.

8 JESUS saith to him: Arise, take up thy bed, and walk.

9 And immediately the man was made whole: and he took up his bed and walked. And it was the sabbath that day.

16 The Jews therefore said to him that was healed: I it is the sabbath, it is not lawful for thee to take up thy bed.

11 Heanswered them: He that made me whole. he said to me: Take up thy bed, and walk, 12 They asked him therefore: Who is that man who said to thee: Take up thy bed, and walk?

13 But he who was healed, knew not who it was. For Jesus went aside from the multitude standing in the place.

14 Afterwards Jesus findeth him in the temple, and saith to him: Behold thou art made whole; sin no more, lest some worse thing happen thee.

15 And the man went his way, and told the Jewsthatit was Jesus who had made him whole. 16 Therefore did the Jews persecute Justs, because he did these things on the sabbath.

17 But Jesus answered them: My Father worketh until now; and I work.

18 Hereupon therefore the Jews sought the more to kill him, because he did not only break the sabbath, but also said God was his Father making himself equal to God. 19 Then JESUS answered, and said to them Amen, amen, I say unto you: the Son cannot do anything of himself, but what he seeth the Father doing : for what thing soever he doth, these the Son also doth in tike manner.

39 Now this he said of the spirit which they should receive who believed in him: for as yet the spirit was not given, because JESUS was not yet glorified.

41 Others said: This is the Christ. But some said. Doth the Christ come out of Galilee?

20 These words Jesus spoke in the treasury, teaching in the temple: and no man laid hand: on him, because his hour was not yet come.

21 Again therefore Jesus said to them : I go and you shall seek me, and you shall die in you. Whither I go, you cannot come.

22 The Jews therefore said : Will he kill him self, because he said: Whither I go, you canno. come?

31 Then Justs said to those Jews who believed him: if you continue in my word, you shall be my disciples indeed.

32 And you shall know the truth, and the truth shell make you free.

33 They answered him; We are the seed of Abraham, and we hars never been slaves to any man: how sayest thon: You shall be free?

34 Jesus answered them: Amen, amen, I say unto you: * that whosoever committeth sin, is the servant of sin.

35 Now the servant abideth not in the house for ever : but the son abideth for ever.

26 If therefore the son shall make you free, you shall be free indeed.

37 I know that you are the children of Abraham: but you seek to kill me, because my word hath no place in you.

38 I speak that which I have seen with my Father: and you do the things that you have seen with your father.

39 They answered, and said to him: Abraham is our father. Jesus saith to them: If you be the children of Abraham, do the works of Abraham.

40 But now you seek to kill me, a man who have spoken the truth to you, which I have heard of God. This Abraham did not.

41 You do the works of your father.

They said therefore to him: We are not born of for-nication: we have one Father even God. 42 Jesus therefore said to them: If God were

N D Jesus passing by, saw a man who was blind from his birth;

2 And his disciples asked him: Rabbi, who hath sinned, this man, or his parents, that be should be born blind?

3 Jesus answered: Neither hath this man sinued, nor his parents; but that the works of God should be made manifest in him.

4 I must work the works of him that sent me, whilst it is day: the night cometh when no man can work.

5 As long as I am in the world, I am the light of the world.

6 When he had said these things, he spat on the ground, and made clay of the spittle, and spread the clay upon his eyes,

7 And said to him: Go, wash in the pool of Siloe, which is interpreted, Sent. He went therefore, and washed, and he came seeing.

8 The neighbours therefore, and they who had seen him before that he was a beggar, said: Is not this he that sat, and begged? Some said: This is he.

9 But others said: No, but he is like him.

But he said: I am he.

10 They said therefore to him. How were thy eyes opened?

11 He answered: That man that is called JESUS, made clay, and anointed my eyes, and said to me: Go to the pool of Siloe, and wash. And I went, I washed, and I see.

12 And they said to him: Where is he? He saith: I know not.

13 They bring him that had been blind to the Pharisees.

14 Now it was the sabbath when Jesus made the clay and opened his eyes.

15 Again therefore the Pharisees asked him, how he had received his sight. But he said to them : He put clay upon my eyes, and I washed, and I see.

16 Some therefore of the Pharisees said: This man is not of God, who keepeth not the sabbath. But others said: How can a man that is a sinner do such miracles? And there was a division among them.

17 They say therefore to the blind man again ; What sayest thou of him that hath opened thy eyes? And he said: He is a prophet.

18 The Jews then did not believe concerning him, that he had been blind and had received his sight, until they called the parents of him that had received his sight,

19 And asked them, saying: Is this your sen, who you say was born blind? How then doth he now see?

20 His parents answered them, and said: We know that this is our son, and that he was born blind;

21 But how he now seeth, we know not: or who hath opened his eyes, we know not: ask himself; he is of age, let him speak for himself.

22 These things his parents said, because they feared the Jews: For the Jews had already | hear his voice: and he calleth his own shows agreed among themselves, that if any man should confess him to be Christ, he should be put out of the synagogue.

23 Therefore did his parents say: He is of age, ask him.

24 They therefore called the man again that nad been blind, and said to him: Give glory to We know that this man is a sinner. God.

25 He said therefore to them: If he be a sinnet, I know not: one thing I know, that whereas 26 They said then to him: What did he to hee? How did he open thy eyes?

27 He answered them: I have told you already, and you have heard: why would you hear it gain? will you also become his disciples?
28 They reviled him therefore, and said: Be hou his disciple; but we are the disciples of Moses. 29 We know that God spoke to Moses: but s to this man, we know not from whence he is. 30 The man answered, and said to them: Why, erein is a wonderful thing that you know not 34 Jesus answered them : Is it not written in your law . * I said, you are gods?

35 If he called them gods, to whom the word of God was spoken, and the scripture cannot be broken;

36 Do you say of him, whom the Father hath cancufied and sent into the world : Thou blasphemest, because I said, I am the Son of Gou?

37 If I do not the works of my Father, believe me not.

38 But if I do, though you will not believe me, believe the works: that you may know and believe that the Father is in me, and I in the Father.

39 They sought therefore to take him; and be escaped out of their hands.

40 And he went again beyond the Jordan into that place where John was baptizing first: and there he abode.

41 And many resorted to him, and they said:

John indeed did no sign.

42 Put all things whatsoever John said of his man, were true. And many believed in lim.

CHAP. XI. hrist raises Lazarus to tife. The rulers resolve to put him to death.

OW there was a certain man of Mary and zarus, of Bethania, of the town of Mary and of Martha her sister.

2 (And Mary was she that anointed the Lord with ointment and wiped his feet with her hair: whose brother Lazarus was siek.)

3 His sisters therefore sent to him, saying:

Lord, behold, he whom thou lovest is sick. 4 And Jesus hearing it, said to them: This sickness is not unto death, but for the glory of God: that the Son of God may be glorified by it.

5 Now Jusus leved Martha, and her sister

Mary, and Lazarus.

6 When he had heard therefore that he was sick, he still remained in the same place two days:

7 Then after that he said to his disciples: Let us go into Judea again.

8 The disciples say to him: Rabbi, the Jews but now sought to stone theo: and goest thou thither again?

9 JESUS answered: Are there not twelve lours of the day? If a man walk in the day, he stumbleth not, because he seeth the light of this world:

10 But if he walk in the night he stumbleth, because the light is not in him.

11 These things he said: and after that he said to them : Lazarus our friend sleepeth; but I go that I may awake him out of sleep.

12 His disciples therefore said: Lord if he deep, he shall do well.

13 But JESUS spoke of his death; and they hought that he spoke of the repose of sleep.

14 Then therefore JESUS sald to them plainly: Lazarus is dead;

15 And I am glad for your sakes, that I was not there, that you may believe : but let us go to him.

16 Thomas therefore, who is called Didymus, said to his fellow-disciples : Let us also go, that we may die with him.

17 Jesus therefore came and found that he had been four days already in the grave.

18 (Now Bethania was near Jerusalem, about fifteen furlongs off.) 19 And many of the Jews were come to Martha and Mary, to comfort them concerning their brother. 20 Martha therefore, as soon as she heard that Janus was come, went to meet him; but Mary sat at home.

21 Martha therefore said to Jesus: Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died.

22 But now also I know that whatsoever thou will ask of God. God will give it thee.

23 Jesus saith to her: Thy brother shall rise again.

24 Mariha saith to him: I know that he shall rise again $ in the resurrection at the last day.

25 Justs said to her: I am the resurrection and the life : § he that believeth in me although he be dead, small live:

26 And every one that liveth, and believeth in me, shall not die for ever. Believest theu this?

27 She saith to him : Yea, Lord, I have believed that thou art Curist the Son of the living God, who art come into this world.

28 And when she had said these things, she went, and called her sister Mary secretly, saying: The master is come and calleth for thee.
29 She, as soon as sne heard this, riseth quickly and cometh to him.

80 For Jesus was not yet come into the tower but he was still in that place where Martha had met him.

31 The Jews therefore who were with her in the house and comforted her, when they saw Mary that she rose up speedily and went out followed her, saying: She goeth to the grave, to ween there.

32 When Mary therefore was come where Jrsus was, seeing him she fell down at his feet, and saith to him: Lord, if thou hadst been here my brother had not died.

33 JE-us therefore, when he saw her weeping and the Jews that were come with her. weep ing, groaned in the spirit, and troubled himself

34 And said: Where have you laid him?

They say to him : Lord, come and see.

35 And Justs wept. 36 The Jews therefore said: Behold how h. loved him.

37 But some of them said: | Could not le that opened the eyes of the man born blind, have caused that this man should not die?

58 Jesus therefore again groaning in himself, cometh to the sepulchre: Now it was a cave, and a stone was laid over it.

39 Jesus saith: Take away the stone. Martha, the sister of him that was dead, saith to him : Lord, by this time he stinketh, for he is now of four days.

40 Jesus saith to her : Did not I say to thee. that if thou believe, thou shalt see the glary of 41 They took therefore the stone away. And Jesus lifting up his eyes said : Father, I give whee thanks that thou hast heard me.

42 And I knew that thou hearest the always, and because of the people who stand about have I said it; that they may believe that thou hast cent me.

43 When he had said these things, he cried with a loud voice : Lazarus, come forth.

44 And presently he that had been dead came orth, bound feet and hands with winding-bands, nd his face was bound about with a napkin.

TESUS said to them: Loose him and let him go.

45 Many therefore of tho Jews who were ne to Mary and Martha, and had seen the hings that Jesus did, believed in him.

46 But some of them went to the Pharisces, nd told them the things that Jesus had done. 47 The chief priests therefore and the Pharises gathered a council, and said : What do we, or this man doth many miracles?

48 If we let him alone so, all will believe in im, and the Romans will come, and take away ar place and nation.

49 * But one of them named Caiphas, being e high-priest that year, said to them : You now nothing.

50 Neither do you consider that it is expeent for you that one man should die for the ople, and that the whole nation perish not

51 And this he spoke not of himself: but beg the high-priest of that year, he prophesied at Jesus should die for the nation.

52 And not only for the nation, but to gather gether in one the children of God, that were persed.

53 From that day therefore they devised to t him to death.

54 Wherefore Jesus walked no more openly ong the Jews, but he went into a country or the desert, unto a city that is called Ephn, and there he abode with his disciples.

55 And the pasch of the Jews was at hand: I many from the country went up to Jerusabefore the pasch, to purify themselves.

6 They sought therefore for Jesus; and they coursed one with another, standing in the iple: What think you, that he is not come he festival day? And the chief priests and Pharisees had given a commandment, that ny man knew where he was, he should tell, t they might apprehend him.

5 Why was not this ointment sold for three hundred pence, and given to the poor?

6 Now he said this, not because he cared for the poor; but because he was a thief, and having the purse, carried the things that were put therein.

7 JESUS therefore said. Let her alene, that she may keep it against the day of my burial.

8 For the poor you have always with you; but me you have not always.

9 A great multitude therefore of the Jews knew that he was there; and they came, not for Jesus's sake only, but that they might see

Lazarus, whom he had raised from the dead. 10 But the chief priests thought to kill Lazarns also :

11 Because many of the Jews by reason of him went away, and believed in Jesus.

12 And on the next day a great multitude, that was come to the festival day, when they had heard that Jesus was coming to Jerusalem, 13 Took branches of paim trees, and went forth to meet him, and cried : Hosanna, blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord, the king of Israel.

14 ‡ And Jesus found a young ass, and sat upon it, as it is written;

15 Fear not, daughter of Sion: behold, the king cometh sitting on an ass's colt.

16 These things his disciples did not know at the first, but when JESUS was glorified, then they remembered that these things were written of him, and that they had done these things to 18 For which reason also the people came to meet him: because they heard that he had done this miracle, 19 The Pharisecs therefore said among themselves: Do you see that we prevail nothing? behold, the whole world is gone after him.

20 Now there were a certain gentiles among them who came up to adore on the festival day.

21 These therefore came to Philip, who was of Bethsaida of Galilee, and desired him, saying: Sir. we would see Jesus.

22 Philip cometh and telleth Andrew. Again Andrew and Philip told Jesus.

23 But Justs answered them, saying: The hour is come, that the son of man should be glorified.

24 Amen, amen, I say to you, unless the grain of wheat falling into the ground, die; 25 Itself remaineth alone. But if it die, it bringeth forth much fruit. § He that loveth his life shall lose it: and he that hateth his life in this world, keepeth it unto life eternal.

26 If any man minister to me, let him follow me: and where I am, there also shall my my nister be. If any man minister to me, him will my Father honour.

27 Now is my soul troubled. And what shall I say? Father, save me from this hour. But for this cause I came unto this bour.

28 Father, glorify thy name. A voice therefore came from heaven : I have both giorified it and will glorify it again.

29 The multitude therefore that stood and beard, said that it thundered. Others said, Ag angel spoke to him.

ST. JOHN.

30 JESUS answered, and said: This voice came | not because of me, but for your sakes.

31 Now is the judgment of the world : now shall the prince of this world be east out.

32 And I. if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all things to myself.

33 (Now this he said, signifying what death he should die.)

34 The multitude answered him: We have heard * out of the law, that CHRIST abideth for ever; and how sayest thoa: The son of man must be lifted up? Who is this son of man?

35 Jesus therefore said to them : Yet a little while, the light is among you. Walk whilst you have the light, that the darkness overtake you not. And he that walketh in darkness knoweth not whither he goeth.

36 Whilst you have the light, believe in the light, that you may be the children of light. These things Jesus spoke, and he went away, and hid himself from them.

37 And whereas he had done so many miracles before them, they believed not in him :

38 That the saying of Isaias the prophet might be fulfilled, which he said : † Lord, who hath believed our hearing s and to whom hath the arm of the Lord been revealed?

39 Therefore they could not believe, because Isaias said again :

41 These things said Isaias, when he saw his glory and spoke of him.

42 However many of the chief men also be-lieved in him: but because of the Pharisees they aid not confess him, that they might not ze cast out of the synagogue.

43 For they leved the glory of men, more

CHAP. XVI.

The conclusion of Christ's last discourse to his disciples. HESE things have I spoken to you, that you may not be scandalized.

2 They will put you out of the synagogues': yea, the hour cometh, that whosoever killeth you, will think that he doth a service to God.

3 And these things will they do to you, because they have not known the Father, nor me.

4 But these things I have told you, that when the hour shall come, you may remember that I told you of them.

5 But I told you not these things from the beginning, because I was with you. And now I go to him that sent me, and none of you asketh me: Whither goest thou?

6 But because I have spoken these things to-you, sorrow hath filled your heart.

7 Dut I tell you the truth : it is expedient to you that I go: for if I go not, the Paraclete will not come to you: but if I go, I will send him to you.

8 And when he is come, he will convince the world of sin, and of justice, and of judgment.

9 Of sin: because they believed not in me.

God he could not die. And therefore as he was both God and man, it must follow that according to his humanity he was to die, which the apostles were soon to see and telieve, as he expresses, ver. 29. And now have told you before it come to pass: that when it shall come to pass you may believe.

CHAP. XV. Ver 26. Whom I will send. This proves, against the modern Greeks, that the Holy Ghost proceeded from the Son, as well as from the Father: otherwise he could not be sent by the Son.

10 And of instice: because I go to the Father; and you shall see me no longer.

11 And of judgment: because the prince of this world is already judged.

12 I have yet many things to say to you: but you cannot bear them now.

13 But when he, the Spirit of truth, is como he will teach you all truth. For he shall not speak of himself: but what things soever he shall hear, he shall speak; and the things that ere to come he shall shew you.

14 He shall glorify me; because he shall re-celve of mine, and shall shew it to you.

15 All things whatsoever the Father hath, are mine. Therefore I said, he shall receive of mine, and shaw it to you.

16 A little while, and now you shall not see me: and again a little while, and you shall see me: because I go to the Father.

17 Then some of his disciples said one to another: What is this that he saith to us: A little while, and you shall not see me: and again a little while, and you shall see me, and because I go to the Father?

18 They said therefore: What is this that he saith, A little while? we know not what he speaketh.

19 And Jesus knew that they had a mind to ask him; and he said to them: Of this do you inquire among yourselves, because I said: A little while, and you shall not see me : and again a little while, and you shall see me?

20 Amen, amen, I say to you, that you shall lament and weep, but the world shall rejoice: and you shall be made sorrowful, but your sor-cow shall be turned into joy.

21 A woman, when she is in labour, hath sorrow, because her hour is come: but when she hath brought forth the child, she remembereth no more the anguish, for joy that a man is born into the world.

22 So also you now indeed have sorrow, but I will see you again, and your heart shall rejvice; and your joy no man shall take from you.

23 And in that day you shall not ask me any *Amen, amen, I say to you: if you ask thing. the Father any thing in my name, he will give it you.

24 Hitherto you have not asked any thing in my name. Ask, and you shall receive: that your joy may be full.

25 These things I have spoken to you in proverbs. The hour cometh when I will no more peak to you in proverbs, but will shew you plainly of the Father.

26 In that day you shall ask in my name: and I say not to you, that I will ask the Father for you:

27 For the Father himself loveth you, because you have loved me, and have believed that I came out from God.

28 I came forth from the Father, and am come into the world : again I leave the world, and I go to the Father.

32 † Behold the hour cometh, and it is now come, that you shall be scattered every man to his own, and shall leave me alone: and yet am not alone, because the Father is with me.

33 These things I have spoken to you, that in me you may have peace. In the world you shall have distress: but have confidence, I have overcome the world.

Christ's prayer for his disciples.

THESE things Jesus spoke, and lifting up liseyes to heaven, he said: Father, the heut is come, glorify thy Son, that thy Son may glorify thee.

2 $ As then hast given him power over all flesh, that he may give eternal life to all whom thou hast given him.

3 Now this is eternal life: That they may know thee, the only true God, and Jesus CHRIST, whom thou hast sent.

4 I have glorified thee on the earth : I have finished the work which thou gavest me to do.

5 And now glorify thou me, O Father, with thyself, with the glory which I had, before the world was, with thee.

6 I have manifested thy name to the mer whom thou hast given me out of the world Thine they were, and to me thou gavest them: and they have kept thy word.
7 Now they have known that all things which thou hast given me are from thee:

8 Because the words which thou gavest me, I have given to them: and they have received them, and have known in very deed that I came out from thee, and they have believe? that thou didst send me.

9 I pray for them: I pray not for the world but for them whom thou hast given me: because they are thine:

10 And all my things are thine, and thine are mine: and I am glorified in them.

11 And now I am not in the world, and these are in the world, and I come to thee. Iloly Father, keep them in thy name, whom thou hast given me: that they may be one, as we also are 12 While I was with them, I kept them it rhy name. § Those whom thou gavest have I kept: and none of them is lost, but he son of perdition, # that the scripture may be fulfilled.

13 And now I come to thee : and these things I speak in the world, that they may have my joy filled in themselves.

14 I have given them thy word, and the work hath hated them, because they are not of the world; as I also am not of the world.

15 I pray not that thou shouldst take them out of the world, but that thou shouldst keep them from evil 16 They are not of the world : as I also are not of the world.

17 Sanctify them in truth. Thy word is truth. 18 As thou hast sent me into the world, I also have sent them into the world.

19 And for them do I sanctify myself: that I try also may be sunctified in truth.

20 And not for them only do I pray, but for them also who through their word shall believe a me: 21 That they all may be one, as thou, Father, n me, and I in thee: that they also may be one n us: that the world may believe that thou aast sent me.

22 And the glory which thou hast given me, I have given to them: that they may be one, as we also are one.

23 I in them, and thou in me: that they may so made perfect in one; and the world may snow that thou hast sent me, and hast loved hem, as thou hast also loved me.

24 Father, I will that where I am, they also whom thou hast given me may be with me: 24 Father, I will that where I am, they also that they may see my glory which thou hast eiven me, because thou hast loved me before the reation of the world.

25 Just Father, the world hath not known hee: but I have known thee: and these have Mown, that thou hast sent me.

26 And I have made known thy name to them, and will make it known; that the love, wherewith thou hast loved me, may be in them, and in them.

CHAP. XVIII.

The history of the passion of Christ.

VIEN * Jesus had said these things, he went forth with his disciples over the brook Cedron, where there was a garden, into which he entered with his disciples.

2 And Judas also, who betrayed him, knew he place: because Jesus had often resorted hither together with his disciples.

3 † Judas therefore having received a band f soldiers, and servants from the chief priests ad the Pharisees, cometh thither with lauterns mi torches and weapons.

4 JESUS therefore knowing all things that a desure upon him, went forth, and said to hem: Whom seek yo?

5 They unswered him: Jesus of Nazareth.

Esus saith to them: I am he. And Judas also, vino betrayed him, stood with them.

6 As soon therefore as he had said to them: am he: they went backward, and fell to the round. 7 Again therefore he asked them: Whom eek ye? And they said : Jesus of Nazareth. 8 Jesus answered, I have told you, that I am ervant was Malchus,

11 JESUS therefore said to Peter: Put up thy word into the scabbard. The chalice which by Father hath given me, shall I not drink it? 12 Then the band and the tribune, and the Frants of the Jews, took Jesus, and bound him:

14 Now Caiphas was he, i who had given the counsel to the Jews, that it was expedient that one man should die for the people.

15 And Simon Peter followed Jesus, and so did another disciple. And that disciple was known to the high-priest, and went in with JEsus into the court of the high-priest.

16 But Peter stood at the door without The other disciple therefore who was knewn to the high-priest, went out, and spoke to the portress, and brought in Peter.

17 The maid therefore that was portress, saith to Peter: Art not thou also one of this man'n disciples? He saith: I am not.

18 Now the servants and ministers stood at a fire of coals, because it was cold, and warmed themselves. And with them was Peter also standing, warning himself.

19 The high-priest therefore asked JESUS of his disciples, and of his doctrine.

20 Jesus answered him: I have spoken openly to the world: I have always taught in the synagogue, and in the temple, whither all the Jews resort; and in secret I have spoken

21 Why askest thou me? ask them who have heard what I have spoken unto them; behold they know what things I have said.

22 And when he had said these things, one of the servants standing by, gave Jesus a blow, saying: Answerest thou the high-priest so?

23 JESUS answered him: If I have spoken evil, give testimony of the evil: but if well, why strikest thou me?

24  And Annas sent him bound to Caiphas the high-priest.

25 And Simon Peter was standing, and warming himself. †† They said therefore to him: Art not thou also one of his disciples? He denied it and said: I am not.

26 One of the servants of the high-priest (2 kinsman to him whose ear Peter cut off) saith to him: Did I not see thee in the garden with 27 Again therefore Peter denied; and immediately the cock crew.

28 ‡‡ Then they ied Jesus from Caiphas to the governor's hall. And it was morning: and they went not into the hail, §§ that they might not be defiled, but that they might eat the pasch.

29 Pilate therefore went out to them, and said: What accusation bring you against this man?

30 They answered and said to him: If he were not a malefactor, we would not have delivered him up to thee.

31 Pilate therefore said to them: Take him you, and judge him according to your law. The Jews therefore sail to him: It is not lawful for us to put any man to death.

32 || That the word of Jesus might be ful filled which he sail, signifying what death he should die.

33 ¶¶ Pilate therefore went into the hall again, and called Jesus, and said to him: Act thou the king of the Jews?

34 Jesus answered : Sayest thou this thing or thyself, or have others told it thee of me?

55 Pilate answered: Am I a Jew? Thy own nation, and the chief priests have delivered that up to me: What hast thou done?

36 Jesus answered: My kingdom is not of l this world. If my kingdom were of this world, my servants would certainly strive that I should not be delivered to the Jews: but now my kingdom is not from hence.

37 Pilate therefore said to him: Art thou a king then? Jesus answered: Thou sayest, that I am a king. For this was I born, and for this came I into the world : that I should give testimony to the truth. Every one that is of the truth, heareth my voice.

38 Pilate saith to him: What is truth? And when he said this he went out again to the Jews, and saith to them: I find no cause in him.

39 * But you have a custom that I should release one unto you at the pasch : will you therefore that I release unto you the king of the Jews?

40 Then cried they all again, saying: Not this man, but Barabbas. Now Barabbas was a robber.

CHAP. XIX.

The continuation of the history of the passion of Christ.

THEN † therefore Pilate took JESUS, and scourged him.

2 And the soldiers platting a crown of thorns, put it upon his head: and they put on him a purple garment.

3 And they came to him, and said: Hail, king of the Jews: and they gave him blows.

4 Pilate therefore went forth again, and saith to them: Behold I bring him forth unto you, that you may know that I find no cause in him.

5 (JESUS therefore came forth bearing the crown of thorns, and the purple garment.) And he saith to them : Behold the Man.

6 When the chief priests therefore and the servants had seen him, they cried out, saying: Crucify him, crucify him. Pilate saith to them: Take him you, and cracify him: for I find no cause in him.

The Jews answered him: We have a law; and according to the law he ought to die, because he made himself the Son of God.

8 When Pilate therefore had heard this saying, he feared the more.

9 And he entered into the hall again, and he raid to Jesus: Whence art thou? But Jesus gave him no answer.

1.0 Pilate therefore saith to him: Speakest thou not to me? knowest thon art that I have hower to crucify thee, and I have power to relesse thee?

11 JESUS answered: Thou shouldst not have my power against me, unless it were given thee them above. Therefore he that hath delivered me to thee, hath the greater sin.

12 And from thenceforth Pilate sought to release him. But the Jews cried out, saying: If theu release this man, thou art not Cesar's triet d. For whosoever maketh himself a king, speake'h I gainst Cesar.

13 Now when Pilate had heard these words, he brought Jesus forth; and sat down in the judgment seat, in the place that is called Lithostrotos, and in Hebrew Gabbatha.

14 And it was the parasceve of the pasen, about the sixth hour, and he saith to the Jews: Behold your king.

15 But they eried out: Away with him, away with him, crucify him. Pilate saith to them: Shall I crucify your king? The chief priests answered: We have no king but Cesar.

16 Then therefore he delivered him to them to be crucified. And they took Jesus, and led him forth.

17 ‡ And bearing his own cross he went forth to that place which is called Calvary, but in Hebrew Golgotha,

18 Where they crucified him, and with him two others, one on each side, and Jesus in the

19 And Pilate wrote a title also: and he put it upon the cross. And the writing was, Jesus OF NAZARETH THE KING OF THE JEWS.

20 This title therefore many of the Jews did read : because the place where Jesus was cruci fied, was nigh to the city: and it was written in Hebrew, in Greek, and in Latin.

21 Then the chief priests of the Jews said to Pilate: Write not, the king of the Jews; but that he said: I am the king of the Jews.

22 Pilate answered: What I have written, I have written.

23 The soldiers therefore when they had crucified him, § took his garments (and they made four parts, to every soldier a part) and also his coat. Now the coat was without seam, woven from the top throughout.

24 They said then one to another: Let us not cut it, but let us cast lots for it whose it shall be; that the scripture might be fulfilled, saying: | They have parted my garments among them: and upon my vesture they have cast tot. And the soldiers indeed did these things.

25 Now there stood by the cross of Jesus, his mother, and his mother's sister, Mary of Cleo-phas, and Mary Magdalen.

26 When Jesus therefore had seen his mother and the disciple standing, whom he loved, ha saith to his mother: Woman, behold thy son.

27 After that, he saith to the disciple: Behold thy mother. And from that hour the disciple took her to his own

28 Afterwards Jesus knowing that all thing: were now accomplished, I that the scripture might be fulfilled, said: I thirst.

29 Now there was a vessel set there full of vinegar. And they putting a sponge full of vinegar about hyssop, put it to his mouth.
30 Jesus therefore when he had taken the vinegar, said : It is consummated. And bowing his head, he gave up the ghost.

31 Then the Jews (because it was the parageceve) that the bodies might not remain upon the cross on the sabbath-day (for that was a great sabbath-day) besought Pilate that their legs might be broken, and that they might be taken away

32 The soldiers therefore came; and they broke the legs of the first, and of the other than was crucified with him.

33 But after they were come to Jesus, when they saw that he was already dead, they did not break his legs.

34 But one of the soldiers with a spear openet his side, and immediately there came out ble d and water.

and his testimony is true. And he knoweth that he saith tree; that you also may believe.

36 For these things were done that the scripture might be tulfilied: * You shall not break a bone of him.

37 And again another scripture saith : † They shall look on him whom they pierced.

38 1 After these things Joseph of Arimathea, (because he was a disciple of Jesus, but secretly for fear of the Jews) besought Filate that he might take away the body of Jesus. And Pi-late gave leave. He came therefore and took away the body of Jesus.

29 And Nicodemus also came, & he who at first came to Jesus by night, bringing a mixfare of myrrh and aloes, about an hundred pound weight.

40 They took therefore the body of Jesus, and bound it in liner cloths with the spices, as the manner of the Jews is to bury.

41 Now there was in the place, where he was crucified, a garden: and in the garden, a new sepulcire, wherein no man yet had been laid. 42 There therefore because of the parasceve

e! the Jews, they laid JESUS, because the sepulchre was nigh at hand.

Christ's resurrection, and manifestation to his disciples.

ND | on the first day of the A ND | on the first day of the week, Mary Magdalen cometh early, when it was yet dark unto the sepulchre: and she saw the stone raken away from the sepulchre.

2 She ran therefore, and cometh to Simon Peter, and to the other disciple whom Jesus loved, and saith to them: They have taken avay the Lord out of the sepulchre, and we Thow not where they have laid him. 3 Peter therefore went out, and that other disciple, and they came to the sepulchre.

4 And they both ran together, and that other disciple did out-run Peter and came first to the sepulchre.

5 And when he stooped down, he saw the linen cloths lying: but yet he went not in.
6 Then cometh Simon Peter, following him, and went into the sepulchre, and saw the linen cloths lying,

7 And the napkin that had been about his head, not lying with the linen cloths but apart, wrapt up into one place.

8 Then that other disciple also went in, who came first to the sepulchre: and he saw and believed. 9 For as yet they knew not the scripture, that he must rise again from the dead.

10 The disciples therefore departed again to their home.

II & But Mary stood at the sepulchre without, weeping. Now as she was weeping, she stooped down, and looked into the sepulchre: 12 And she saw two angels in white, sitting, one at the head, and one at the feet, where the body of Jesus had been laid.

13 They say to her: Woman, why weepest thou? She saith to them: Because they have taken away my Lord: and I know not where they have laid him.

16 Jesus saith to her : Mary. She turning. saith to him: Rabboni (which is to say, Master.)

17 Justs saith to her : Do not touch me, for I am not yet ascended to my Father : but go to my brethren, and say to them; I ascend to my Father and to your Father, to my God and your God.

18 Mary Magdalen cometh and telleth flic disciples: I have seen the Lord, and these things he said to me.

19  Now when it was late that same day, the first of the week, and the doors were shut, where the disciples were gathered together for fear of the Jews, Jesus came and stood in the midst, and said to them: Peace be to you.

20 And when he had said this, he shewed them his hands, and his side. The disciples therefore were glad, when they saw the Lord.

21 He said therefore to them again : Peace be to you. As the Father hath sent me, I also send you.

22 When he had said this, he breathed on them; and he said to them: Receive ye the Holy Ghost:

26 And after eight days, again his disciples were within, and Thomas with them. JESUS cometh, the doors being shut, and stood in the midst, and said : Peace be to you.

27 Then he saith to Thomas: Put in thy finger hither, and see my hands, and bring hither thy hand and put it into my side; and be not faithless, but believing.

28 Thomas answered, and said to him: My Lord, and my God.

29 Jesus saith to him: because thou has seen me, Thomas, thou hast believed: blessed are they that have not seen, and have believed.

30 ‡ Many other signs also did Jesus in the sight of his disciples, which are not written in this book.

FTER this Jesus showed himself again to the disciples at the sea of Tiberias. And he showed himself after this manner.

2 There were together Simon Peter, and Thomas who is ealled Didymus, and Nathanael who was of Cana in Galilee, and the sons of Zebedee, and two others of his disciples. 3 Simon Peter saith to them: I go a fishing. They say to him: We also come with thee. And they went forth and entered into the ship: and that night they caught nothing.

4 But when the morning was come, Jesus otood on the shore: yet the disciples knew not that it was JESUS.

5 JESUS therefore said to them: Children, have you any meat? They answered him: No.

6 He saith to them : Cast the net on the right side of the ship; and you shall find. They cast therefore: and now they were not able to draw it for the multitude of fishes.

7 That disciple therefore whom JESUS loved, said to Peter: It is the Lord. Simon Peter, when he heard that it was the Lord, girt his coat about him (for he was naked) and cast himself into the sea.

8 But the other disciples came in the ship for they were not far from the land, but as it were two hundred cubits) dragging the net with Cahes.

9 As soon then as they came to land, they saw hot coals lying, and a fish laid thereon, and bread.

10 JESUS saith to them: Bring hither of the fishes which you have now caught.

11 Simon Peter went up, and drew the net to land, full of great fishes, one hundred fifty three. And although there were so many, the net was not broken.

12 Jesus saith to them: Come, and dine. And none of them who were at meat, durst ask him: Who art thou? knowing that it was the Lord.

13 And Jesus cometh and taketh bread, and giveth them, and fish in like manner.

CHAP. XXI. Ver. 17. Feed my sheep. Our Lord had promised the spiritual supremacy to St. Feter: St. Matt. xvi. 19.; and here he fulfis that promise, by charging him with the superintendency of all hit sheep, without exception; and consequently of his whole flock, that is, of his whole church.

14 This is now the third time that Jesus was manifested to his disciples, after he was risen from the dead.

15 When therefore they had dined, Jesus saith to Simon Peter: Simon son of John, loves: thou me more than these: He saith to him : Yea Lord, thou knowest that I love thee. He saith to him: Feed my lambs.

16 He saith to him again: Simon son of John. lovest thou me? He saith to him : Yea, Lord, thou knowest that I love thee. He saith to him .

Feed my lambs.

17 He said to him the third time: Simon son of John, lovest thou me? Peter was grieved, because he had said to him the third time, Levest thou me? And he said to him: Lord, thou knowest all things: thou knowest that I love thee. He said to him : Feed my sheep.

18 Amen, amen, I say to thee: * when thou wast younger, thou didst gird thyself, and didst walk where thou wouldst. But when thou shalt be old, thou shalt stretch forth thy hands, and another shall gird thee, and lead thee winther thou wouldst not.

19 And this he said, signifying by what death he should glorify God. And when he had said this, he saith to him: Follow me.

20 Peter turning about, saw that disciple whom Jesus loved following, † who also leaned on his breast at supper, and said : Lord, who is he that shall betray thee?

21 Him therefore when Peter had seen, he eaith to Jesus: Lord, and what shall this man

22 Jesus saith to him: So I will have him to remain till I come, what is it to thee? follow

23 This saying therefore went abroad among the brethren, that that disciple should not die, And Jesus did not say to him: He should not die; but, So I will have him to remain till I come, what is it to thee?
24 This is that disciple who giveth testinony of these things, and hath written these things:

and we know that his testimony is true.

25 $ But there are also many other things which Jesus did : which if they were written every one, the world itself, I think, would not be able to contain the books that should be written.

ACTS OF THE APOSTLES.

This Book, which from the first ages hath been called, TAE ALTS OF THE APOSTLER, is not to be considered as a history of what was done by all the Apostles, who were dispersed into different nations; but only a short view of the first establishment of the Christian Church. A part of the preaching and actions of St. Peter are reluted in the twelve first chapters; and a particular account of St. Paul's Apostorical labours in the subsequent chapters. But was written by St. Luke the Evangelist, and the original in Green. Its history commences from the Accession of Christo our Lord, and ends in the year sixty-three, being a brief account of the Church for the space of about thirty year.

y mouth:

any days hence.

6 They therefore who were come tugether, sked him, saying : Lord, wilt thou at this time store again the kingdom to Israel?

7 Pat he said to them: It is not for you to now the times or moments, which the Father ath put in his own power:

8 ‡ But you shall receive the power of the oly Ghost coming upon you, $ and you shall witnesses unto me in Jerusalem, and in all udea, and Samaria, and even to the uttermost art of the earth.

9 And when he had said these things, while ney looked on, he was raised up: and a cloud ceived him out of their sight.

10 And while they were beholding him going p to heaven, behold two men stood by them in hite garments.

11 Who also said: Ye men of Galilee, why and you looking up to heaven? This Jesus ho is taken up from you into heaven, shall so ome as you have seen him going into heaven.

12 Then they returned to Jerusalem, from the count that is called Olivet, which is nigh Jeruilem, within a sabbath-day's Jurney.

13 And when they were come in, they went p into an upper room, where abode Peter and ohn, James and Andrew, Philip and Thomas, artholoniew and Matthew, James of Alpheus nd Simon Zelotes, and Jude the brother of ames.

14 All these were persevering with one mind prayer with the women, and Mary the mother

CHAP. II.

The disciples receive the Holy Ghose. Peter's serve the people. The prety of the first converts. Peter's sermon to the prople. The prety of the first converts. N D when the days of the pentecost were

A accomplished, they were all together in one place:

2 And suddenly there came a sound from heaven, as of a mighty wind coming, and it tilled the whole house where they were sitting.

3 And there appeared to them parted tongues as it were of fire, and it sat upon every one of them:

4 ‡‡ And they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and they began to speak with divers tongues, according as the Holy Ghost gave them to speak.

5 Now there were dwelling at Jerusalem Jews, devout men out of every nation under heaven.

6 And when this was noised abroad, the multitude came together, and were confounded in mind, because that every man heard them speak in his own tongue.

7 And they were all amazed and wondered, saying: Behold are not all these, that speak, Galileans?

8 And how have we heard, every man our own tongne wherein we were born?

9 Parthians, and Medes, and Elamites, and inhabitants of Mesopotamia, Judea, and Cappadocia, Pontus and Asia,

10 Phrygia, and Pamphilia, Egypt, and the parts of Lybia about Cyrene, and strangers of 11 Jews also, and proselytes, Cretes and Arabians: we have heard them speak in our own tongues the wonderful works of God.

12 And they were all astonished, and wondered, saying one to another: What meaneth this?

13 But others mocking said: These men are full of new wine. 14 But Peter standing up with the eleven, lifted up his voice, and spoke to them: Ye men of Judea, and all you that dwell in Jerusalem, be this known to you, and with your ears receive my words.

15 For these are not drunk, as you suppose. seeing it is but the third hour of the day :

16 But this is that which was spoken of by the prophet Joel:

17 §§ And it shall come to pass, in the last days, (saith the Lord) I will pour out of my Spirit upon all flesh: and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, and your young men shall see visions, and your old men shall dream dreams.

18 And upon my servants indeed, and upon my Spirit, and they shall prophesy.

19 And I will shew wonders in the heaven giove, and signs on the earth beneath; blood and fire, and vapour of smoke.

20 The sun shall be turned into darkness, and the moon into blood, before the great and manifest day of the Lord come.

21 * And it shall come to pass, that whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord, shall be saved

22 Ye men of Israel, hear these words: Jesus of Nazareth, a man approved of God among you, by miracles and wonders and signs, which God did by him in the midst of you, as you also know ;

23 This same being delivered up, by the defarminate counsel and foreknowledge of God you by the hands of wicked men have crucified and slain.

24 Whom God hath raised up, having loosed the sorrows of hell, as it was impossible that he should be holden by it.

25 For David saith concerning him: † I forewaw the Lord before my face: because he is at my right hand that I may not be moved.

26 For this my heart buth been glad, and my tongue hath rejoiced: moreover my flesh also shall rest in hope.

27 Because thou will not leave my soul in hell, nor suffer thy Holy one to see corruption.

28 Thou hast made known to me the ways of Vity: Thou shall make me full of joy with thy countenance.

29 Ye men brethren, let me freely speak to you of the patriarch David : I that he died, and was buried; and his sepulchre is with us to this present day.

30 Whereas therefore he was a prophet, and knew & that God had sworn to him with an oath, that of the fruit of his loins one should sit upon his throne;

31 Foreseeing this, he spoke of the resurrection of Christ. | For neither was he left in hell, neither did his flesh see corruption.

32 This Jesus hath God raised again, whereof all we are witnesses.

33 Being exalted therefore by the right hand of God, and having received of the Father the promise of the Holy Ghost, he hath poured forth this which you see and hear.

34 For David ascended Lot into heaven; but he himself said : The Lord said to my Lord, sit thou on my right hand, 35 Until I make thy enemies thy footstool.

36 Therefore let all the house of Israel know most certainly, that God hath made both Lord, 2nd Christ, this same Jesus, whom you have ucified.

37 Now when they had heard these things, they had compunction in their heart, and said to Peter and to the rest of the apostles: What shall we do, men and orethren?

38 But Peter said to them: Do penance, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ, for the remission of your sins:

* Joel 2, 32, Rom. 10, 13, -+ Ps. 15, 8, -- 3 Kings 2, 10, -- $ Ps. 131, 11, -- || Ps. 25, 10, Infra, 13, 35, -- ¶ I's, 109, 1, --  A, D, 33,

CHAP, II. Ver. 23. By the determinate, &c. God de-livered up his Son; and his Son delivered up himself, for the love of us, and for the sake of our salvation; and to Christ's being delivered up was holy, and was God's swn determination. But they who betrayed and cruci-

> 39 For the promise is to you, and to you children, and to all that are far off, whomso ever the Lord our God shall call.

> 40 And with very many other words did he testify and exhort them, saying: Save yourselves from this perverse generation.

41 They therefore that received his word were baptized: and there were added in that day about three thousand souls.

42 And they were persevering in the doctrino of the apostles, and in the communication of the breaking of bread, and in prayers.

43 And fear came upon every soul: many wonders also and signs were done by the apostles in Jerusalem, and there was great fear in all

44 And all they that believed, were together, and had all things common.

45 Their possessions and goods they sold, and divided them to all, according as every one had need.

46 And continuing daily with one accord in the temple, and breaking bread from house to house, they took their meat with gladness and simplicity of heart:

47 Praising God and having favour with all the people. And the Lord increased daily together such as should be saved.

CHAP. III.

The miracle upon the lame man, followed by the conver-

TOW Peter and John went up into the temple, at the ninth hour of prayer.

2 And a certain man who was lame from his mother's womb, was carried; whom they laid every day at the gate of the temple, which is called Beautiful, that he might ask alms of them that went into the temple.

3 He,  when he bad seen Peter and John about to go into the temple, asked to receive an alins.

4 But Peter with John fastening his eyes upon him, said: Look upon us. 5 But he looked earnestly upon them, hoping that he should receive something of them. 6 But Peter said: Silver and gold I have none: but what I have, I give thee: In the name of JESUS CHRIST of Nazareth, arise, and 7 And taking him by the right hand, he lifted him up, and forthwith his feet and soles received strength.

8 And he leaping up stood, and walked and went in with them into the temple, walking, and leaping, and praising God.

9 And all the people saw him walking and praising God.

10 And they knew him, that it was he who sat begging alms at the Beautiful gate of the temple: and they were filled with wonder and amazement at that which had happened to him.

11 And as he held Peter and John, all the people ran to them to the porch which is called Solomon's, greatly wondering.

12 But Peter seeing, made answer to the fied him, did wickedly, following therein their own mance and the instigation of the devil; not the will and determination of God, who was by no means the author of their wickedness; though he permitted jit; because he could, and did draw out of it so great a good, wie,

the salvation of man.

Ver. 24. Having loosed the sorrous, &c. Having overcome the grissous pains of death, and all the power 13 The God of Abraham, and the God of Ignat; and the God of Jacob, the God of our stners, both glorified his Son ests, whom you in leed delivered up and denied before the face of l'ilate, when he judged he should be releared.

14 * But you denied the Holy one and the Just, and desired a murderer to be granted unto you.

15 But the author of life you killed, whom God hath raised from the dead, of which we are Witnesses.

16 And in the faith of his name, this man Thom you have seen and know, hath his name strengthened; and the faith which is by him, tath given this perfect soundness in the sight er you all.

17 And now, brethren, I know that you did it through ignorance, as did also your rulers.

18 But those things which God before had shewed by the mouth of all the prophets, that his Christ should suffer, he hath so faltilled.

19 be penitent, therefore, and be converted,

that your sins may be blotted out.

20 That when the times of refreshment shall come from the presence of the Lord, and ha shall send him who hath been preached unto you, JESUS CHRIST,

21 Whom heaven indeed must receive until the times of the restitution of all things, which God hath spoken by the mouth of his holy prophets from the beginning of the world.

22 For Moses said: † A prophet shall the Lord your God raise up unto you of your bre-weren, tike unto me: him you shall hear according to all things whatsoever he shall speak to you.

23 And it shall be, that every soul which will not hear that prophet, shall be destroyed from among the people.

24 And all the prophets from Samuel and afterwards, who have spoken, have told of these vert himself from his wickedness.

their princes, and ancients, and scribes were gathered together in Jerusalem:

6 And Annas the high-priest, and Caiphan and John, and Alexander, and as many as were of the kindred of the high-priest.

7 And setting them in the midst, they asked: By what power, or by what name have you done this?

8 Then Peter, filled with the Holy Ghost, said to them: Ye princes of the people and ancients, hear: 9 If we this day are examined concerning the good deed done to the infirm man, by what means he hath been made whole,

10 Be it known to you all, and to all the people of Israel, that by the name of our Lord JESUS CHRIST of Nazareth, whom you crucified, whom God hath raised from the dead, even by him this man standeth here before you whole.

11 | This is the stone which was rejected by you the builders : which is become the head of the corner:

12 Neither is there salvation in any other. For there is no other name under heaven given to men, whereby we must be saved.

13 Now seeing the constancy of Peter and of John, understanding that they were illiterate, and ignorant men, they wondered; and they knew them that they had been with JESUS:

14 Seeing the man also who had been healed, standing with them, they could say nothing against it.

15 But they commanded them to go aside out of the council: and they conferred among themselves, 16 Saying: What shall we do to these men? for indeed a known miracia hath been done by them, to all the inhabitants of Jerusalem: it is manifest, and we cannot deny it.

17 But that it may be no farther spread among the people, let us threaten them, that they speak no more in this name to any man.

13 And calling them, they charged them not to speak at all, nor teach in the name of Jesus. 19 But Peter and John answering, said to them: If it be just in the sight of God, to hear you rather than God, judge ye.

20 For we cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard.

21 But they threatening, sent them away: not finding how they might punish them, because of the people: for all men glorified wha, had been done, in that which had come to pass. 22 For the man was above forty years old, in whom that miraculous care had been wrought. 23 And being let go they came to their own company, and related all that the chief priests and uncients had said to them.

24 Who having heard it, with one accord lifted up their voice to God, and said: Lord thou art he that didst make heaven and earth, the sea, and all things that are in them.

25 Who by the Holy Ghost, by the mouth of our father David thy servant hast said, Why did the gentiles rage, and the people meditate vain things?

26 The kings of the earth stood up, and the princes assembled together against the Lord, and against his CHRIST.

27 For of a truth there assembled together in this city against thy holy child Jesus whom thou hast anointed, Herod, and Pontius Pilata, with the gentiles and the people of Israel,

28 To do what thy hand and thy counsel de- | many signs and wonders wrought among the creed to be done.

29 And now, Lord, behold their threatenings, and grant unto thy servants, that with all con-Edence they may speak thy word,

30 By stretching forth thy hand to cares and signs and wonders, to be done by the name of thy holy Son Jesus.

31 And when they had prayed, the place was moved wherein they were assembled; and they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and they spoke the word of God with confidence.

32 And the multitude of believers had but one heart and one soul : neither did any one say that aught of the things which he possessed was his own, but all things were common unto them.

23 And with great power did the apostles give estimony of the resurrection of JESUS CHRIST our Lord : and great grace was in them all.

34 For neither was there any one needy among them. For as many as were owners of lands or houses sold them, and brought the price of the things they sold, 35 And laid it down before the feet of the apostles. And distribution was made to every one according as he had need.

83 And Joseph, who by the apostles was surnamed Barnabas (which is by interpretation, the son of consolation) a levite, a Cyprian born,

37 Having, land, sold it, and brought the price, and laid it at the feet of the aposites

CHAP. V.

The judgment of God upon Ananias and Saphira. The apostle are cast into prison.

BUT * a certain man named Ananias, with Saphira his wife, sold a piece of land.

2 And by fraud kept back part of the price of the land, his wife being privy thereunto: and bringing a certain part of it, laid it at the feet of the apostles.

3 But Peter said: Ananias, why hath satan tempted thy heart, that thou shouldst lie to the Holy Ghost, and by fraud keep part of the price of the land?

4 Whilst it remained, did it not remain to thee? and after it was sold, was it not in thy ower? Why hast thou conceived this thing in thy heart? Thou hast not lied to men, but God.

5 And Ananias hearing these words, fell lown, and gave up the ghost. And there came great fear upon all that heard it.

6 And the young men rising up, removed him, and carrying him out buried him.

7 And it was about the space of three hours after, when his wife, not knowing what had happened came in.

8 And Peter said to her: Tell me, woman, whether you sold the land for so much? And she said: Yea, for so much

9 And Peter said unto her: Why have you agreed together to tempt the Spirit of the Lord? Behold the feet of them who have buried thy ausband are at the door, and they shall carry thee out.

10 lmmediately she fell down before his feet, and gave up the ghost. And the voung men soming in, found her dead : and carried ner out, and buried her by her husband.

11 And there came great fear upon the whole church, and upon all that heard these things.

13 And by the hands of the apostles were people. And they were all with ore accord in Solomon's porch.

13 But of the rest no man durst join himself unto them; but the people magnified them.

14 And the multitude of men and women who believed in the Lord was more increased:

15 Insomuch that they brought forth the sick into the streets, and laid them on beds and conches, that when Peter came, his shadow at the least might overshadow any of them, and they might be delivered from their infirmities.

16 And there came also together to Jerusalem a multitude out of the neighbouring cities, bringing sick persons, and such as were troubled with unclean spirits; who were all healed.

17 Then the high-priest rising up, and all they that were with him (which is the heres) of the Sadducees,) were filled with envy.

18 And they laid hands on the apostles, and put them in the common prison.

19 But an Angel of the Lord by night opening the doors of the prison, and leading them out, said:

20 Go, and standing speak in the temple to the people all the words of this life.

21 Who having heard this, early in the morning entered into the temple, and taught. And the high-priest coming, and they that were with him, called together the council, and all the ancients of the children of Israel: and they sent to the prison to have them brought.

22 But when the ministers came, and opening the prison, found them not there; they re-tarned and toid,

25 Saying : The prison indeed we found shut with all dlligence, and the keepers standing before the doors; but opening it, we found no man within.

24 Now when the officer of the temple, and the chief priests heard these words, they were in doubt concerning them, what would come to pass.

25 But one came and told them: Behold the men whom you put in prison, are in the temple standing, and teaching the people.

26 Then went the officer with the ministers, and brought them without violence : for they feared the people, lest they should be stoned.

27 And when they had brought them, they set them before the council. And the high-priest asked them,

28 Saying: Commanding we commanded you that you should not teach in this name . and bohold you have filled Jerusalem with your doctrine, and you have a mind to bring the bloc! of this man upon us.

29 But Peter and the apostles answering, said:

We ought to obey God rather than men.

30 The God of our fathers bath raised up Jasus, whom you put to death, hanging him upca a tree.

31 Him hath God exalted with his right hand, to be prince and saviour, to give repent unce to Israel, and remission of sins.

32 And we are witnesses of these things, and the Holy Ghost, whom God hath given to all that obey him.

33 When they had heard these things, they were cut to the heart, and they thought to put them to death.

34 But one in the council rising up, a Pharisee, named Gamaliel, a doctor of the law, we he pur forth & little while.

23 And he said to them : Ye men of Israel, take heed to yourselves what you intend to do, as touching these men persed.

28 And now therefore I say to you, refrain from these men, and let them alone: for if this counsel or this work bo of meu, it will come to nought.

39 But if it be of God, you cannot everthrow it; lest perhaps you be found even to fight against God. And they consented to him.

40 And calling in the apostles, after they had sconred them, they charged them that they should not speak at all in the name of Jesus, and they dismissed them.

41 And they indeed went from the presence of the council rejoicing, that they were accounted worthy to suffer repreach for the name of Jasos. 42 And every day they ceased not, in the tomrle, and from house to house, to teach and preach Christ JESUS.

Stephen's speech before the council: his martyrdom. MIEN t the high-priest said: Are these things so?

2 Who said: Ye men, brethren and fathers, hear. The God of glory appeared to our father Abraham when he was in Mesopotamia, before Le dwelt in Charan.

3 And said to him: # Go forth out of thy country and from thy kindred, and come into the land which I shall show thee.

4 Then he went out of the land of the Chaldeans, and dwelt in Charan. And from thence, after his father was dead, he removed him into this land, wherein you now dwell.

5 And he gave him no inheritance in it, no not the pace of a foot : but ne promised to give it him in possession, and to his seed after him.

when as yet he had no child.

6 And God said to him, § That his seed should soj zen in a strange country, and that they should being them under bondage, and treat them evil four hundred years:

Joseph in Egypt; and God was with him,

11 Now there came a famine upon all Egypt, and Canaan, and great tribulation : and our fathers found no food.

12 | But when Jacob had heard that there was corn in Egypt : he sent our fathers first :

13 TY And at the second time Joseph was known by his prethren, and his kindred was made known to Pharao.

14 And Joseph sending, called thither his father Jacob, and all his kindred in seventy-five souis.

54 Now hearing these things they were cut to the heart, and they gnashed with their teeth at him.

55 But he being full of the Holy Ghost, looking up steadfastly to heaven, saw the glory of God, and Jesus standing on the right hand of God. And he said: Behold I see the heavens

Philip converts the Samaritans, and baptizes the eunuch. ND * at that time there was raised a great PA persecution against the church, which was at Jerusalem, and they were all dispersed through the countries of Judea and Samaria, except the apostles.

2 And devont men took orders for Stephen's funeral, and made great mourning over him.

3 But Saul made havock of the church, entering in from house to house, and dragging away men and women, committed them to prison.

4 They therefore that were dispersed, went

8 And many taken with the palsy and that were lame, were healed.

9 There was therefore great joy in that city. Now there was a certain man named Simon, who before had been a magician in that city, seducing the people of Samaria, giving out that he was some great one:

10 To whom they all gave ear, from the least to the greatest, saying: This man is the power of God, which is called great.

11 And they were attentive to him, because for a long time he had bewitched them with his magical practices.

12 But when they had believed Philip preaching of the kingdom of God, in the name of Je-SUS CHRIST they were baptized both men and women.

13 Then Simon himself believed also: and being baptized he stuck close to Philip. And being astonished wondered to see the signs and exceeding great miracles which were done.

14 Now when the apostles, who were in Jerusalem, had heard that Samaria had received the word of God; they sent unto them Peter and John.

15 Who when they were come, prayed for them, that they might receive the Holy Ghost.

Ver. 37. If thou believest with all thy heart. The Scripture many times mentions only one disposition, as here belief, when others equally necessary are not expressed, viz., a sorrow for sins, a firm hope, and the ove of God. Moreover, believing with the whole heart works as belief of every thing necessary for salvation.

16 For he was not as yet come upon any of them: but they were only baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus.

17 Then they laid their hands upon them, and they received the Holy Ghost.

18 And when Simon saw that by the imposi tion of the hands of the apostles the Hol" Ghor was given, he offered them money,

19 Saying: Give me also this power, that or whomsever I shall lay my hands, he may receive the Holy Ghost. But Peter sald to him: 20 Keep thy money to thyself, to perish with thee, because thou hast thought that the gift of God may be purchased with money.

21 Thou hast no part, nor lot in this matter For thy heart is not right in the sight of God.

22 Do penance therefore from this thy wick edness: and pray to God, if perhaps this though of thy heart may be forgiven thee.

23 For I see thou art in the gall of bitternes and in the bonds of iniquity.

24 Then Simon answering, said: Pray yo for me to the Lord, that none of these thing which you have spoken, may come upon me.

25 And they indeed having testified an presched the word of the Lord: returned t Jerusalem, and preached the gospel to man countries of the Samaritans.

26 Now an Angel of the Lord spoke to Phili saying: Arise, go towards the south, to the wa that goeth down from Jerusalem into Gaza this is desert.

Jews consulted together to kill him.

25 But the disciples taking him in the night, conveyed him away by the wall, letting him down in a basket.

26 And when he was come into Jerusalem, he essayed to join himself to the disciples, and they all were afraid of him, not believing that he was a disciple.

27 But Barnabas took him and brought him to the apostles, and told them how he had seen the Lord, and that he had spoken to him, and how in Damascus he had dealt confidently in the name of Jesus.

28 And he was with them coming in and going out in Jerusalem, and dealing confidently in the name of the Lord.

29 He spoke also to the gentiles, and disputed with the Greeks: but they sought to kill him.

30 Which when the brethren had known, they brought him down to Cesarea, and sent him away to Tarsus.

31 Now the church had peace throughout all Judea and Galilee and Samaria, and was edified, walking in the fear of the Lord, and was filled with the consolation of the Holy Ghost.

32 And it came to pass, that Peter, as he passed through visiting all, came to the saints who dwelt at Lydda.

33 And he found there a certain man named Eneas, who had kept his bed for eight years, who was ill of the palsy.

35 And all that dwelt at Lydda and Saron saw him: who were converted to the Lord.

36 And in Joppe there was a certain disciple named Tabitha, which by interpretation is called Dorcas. This woman was full of good works and alms-deeds which she did.

37 And it came to pass in those days, that she was sick and died. Whom when they had washed, they laid her in an upper chamber.

44 But the next sabbath-day the whole city almost came together to hear the word of God.

45 And the Jews seeing the multitudes, filled with envy, and contradicted those things which were said by Paul, blaspheming.

brethren.

3 A long time therefore they abode there, dealing confidently in the Lord, who gave testimony to the word of his grace, granting signs and wonders to be done by their hands.

4 And the multitude of the city was divided. and some of them indeed held with the Jews,

10 And when the multitude had seen what Paul had done, they lifted up their voice in the Lycaonian tongue, saying: The gods are come down to us, in the likeness of men;

16 Nevertheless he left not himself without testimony, doing good from heaven, giving rains, and fruitful seasons, filling our hearts with food and gladness.

17 And speaking these things, they scarce restrained the people from sacrificing to them.

18 Now there came thither certain Jews from Antioch and Iconium: and persuading the multitude, and stoning Paul, drew him out of the city, thinking him to be dead.

19 But as the disciples stood round about him, he rose up and entered into the city, and tho next day he departed with Barnabas to Derbe.

20 And when they had preached the gospel to that city, and had taught many, they returned again to Lystra and to Iconium, and to Antioch:

21 Confirming the souls of the disciples, and exhorting them to continue in the faith: and that through many tribulations we must enter into the kingdom of God.

22 And when they had ordained to them priests in every church, and had prayed with fasting, they commended them to the Lord, in whom they believed.

5 And when Silas and Timothy were come from Macedonia, Paul was earnest in preachlng, testifying to the Jews that Jesus is the CHRIST.

6 But they galnsaving and blaspheming, he shook his garments, and said to them: Your blood be upon your own heads: I am clean; from henceforth I will go unto the gentiles.

7 And departing thence, he entered into the house of a certain man, named Titus Justus. one that worshipped God, whose house was adjoining to the synagogue.

8 And Crispus the ruler of the synagogue bolieved in the Lord with all his house: and many of the Corinthians hearing believed, and were baptized.

9 And the Lord said to Paul in the night by a vision: Do not fear, but speak, and hold not thy peace.

10 Because I am with thee; and no map shall set upon thee to hurt thee; for I have much people in this city.

11 And he stayed there a year and six months, teaching among them the word of God.

12 But when Gallio was proconsul of Achaia, the Jews with one accord rose up against Paul, and brought him to the judgment-seat,

13 Saying: This man persuadeth men to worship God contrary to the law.

14 And when Paul was beginning to open his mouth, Gallio said to the Jews: If it were some matter of injustice, or an heinous deed, O you Jews, I should with reason bear with you.

15 But if they be questions of word and names, and of your law, look you to it: I will 18 But Paul when he had stayed yet many days, taking his leave of the brethren, sailed thence into § Syria, (and with him Priseilla and Aquila,) ¶ having shorn his head in Cenchra. For he had a vow.

19 And he came to Ephesus, and left there there. But he himself entering into the synagogue, disputed with the Jews.

20 And when they desired him, that he would tarry a longer time, he consented not. 21 But taking his leave and saying: I will return to you again, God willing, he departed from Ephesus.

22 And going down to Cesarea, he went up to Jerusalem, and saluted the church, and so came down to Antioch.

23 And after he had spent some time there. he departed, and went through the country of Galatia and Phrygia, in order, confirming all the disciples.

24 Now a certain Jew, named Apollo, born 🚯 Alexandria, an eloquent man, came to Ephesus Faul establishes the church at Ephesus. The sumult of the silversmiths.

ND * it came to pass while Apollo was at Corinth, that Paul having passed through the upper coasts, came to Ephesus, and found certain disciples:

2 And he said to them: Have you received the Holy Ghost since ye believed? But they said to him: We have not so much as heard whether there be a Holy Ghost.

3 And he said: In what then were you baptized? Who said: In John's baptism.

4 Then Paul sald: † John baptized the people with the baptism of penance, saying: That they should believe in him who was to come after him, that is to say, in Jesus.

5 Having heard these things, they were baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus.

6 And when Paul had imposed his hands on them, the Holy Ghost came upon them, and they spoke with tongues and prophesled.

And all the men were about twelve. 8 And entering into the synagogue, he spoke boldly for the space of three months, disputing and exhorting concerning the kingdom of Ged. 9 But when some were hardened, and befieved not, speaking evil of the way of the Lord before the multitude, departing from them, he separated the disciples, disputing daily in the school of one Tyrannus.‡

10 And this continued for the space of two years, so that all they who dwelt in Asia heard the word of the Lord, both Jews and gentiles. 11 And God wrought by the hand of Paul more than common miracles.

12 So that even there were brought from his body to the sick handkerchiefs and aprons, and the diseases departed from them, and the wicked spirits went out of them.

13 § Now some also of the Jewish exorcists, who went about attempted to invoke, over them that had evil spirits, the name of the Lord JEsus, saying: I conjure you by Jesus whom Paul preacheth.

14 And there were certain men, seven sons of Sceva a Jew, a chief priest, that did this. 15 But the wicked spirit answering, said to them: Jesus I know, and Paul I know: but who are you?

16 And the man in whom the wicked spirit was, leaping upon them, and mastering them both, prevailed against them, so that they fled out of that house naked and wounded.

17 And this became known to all the Jews and the gentiles that dwelt at Ephesus : and fear ell on them all, and the name of the Lord JEwas magnified.

confirmed.

21 And when these things were ended, Paul purposed in the spirit, when he had passed through Macedonia and Achaia, to go to Jerusalem, saying : After I have been there I must see Rome also.

22 And sending Into Macedonia two of them that ministered to him, Timothy and Erastus, he himself remained for a time in Asia.

23 Now at that time there arose no small disturbance about the way of the Lord.

24 For a certain man named Demetrius, a sil versmith, who made silver temples for Dlana trought no small gain to the craftsmen,

25 Whom he calling together, with the work-men of like occupation, said: Sirs, you know that our gain is by this trade;

26 And you see and hear, that this Paul by persuasion hath drawn away a great multitude. not only of Ephesus, but almost of all Asia, saying: They are not gods which are made by hands.

27 So that not only this our craft is in danger to be set at nought, but also the temple of great Diana shall be reputed for nothing, yea and her majesty shall begin to be destroyed, whom all Asia and the world worshippeth.

28 Having heard these things they were full of anger, and cried out, saying : Great is Diana of the Ephesians.

29 And the whole city was filled with confu sion, and having caught Gaius and Aristarchus, men of Macedonia, Paul's companious, they rushed with one accord into the theatre.

30 And when Paul would have entered in unto the people, the disciples suffered him not.

31 And some also of the rulers of Asia, who were his friends, sent unto him, desiring that he would not venture himself into the theatre.

32 Now some cried one thing, some another For the assembly was confused, and the greater part knew not for what cause they were come together.

33 And they drew forth Alexander out of the multitude, the Jews thrusting him forward. And Alexander beckoning with his hand for si lence would have given the people satisfaction.

34 But as soon as they perceived him to be a Jew, all with one voice, for the space of about two hours, cried out: Great is Diana of the Ephesians.

35 And when the town-clerk nad appeased the multitudes, he said: Ye men of Ephesus, what man is there that knoweth not that the city of the Ephesians is a worshipper of the great Diana, and of Jupiter's offspring.

36 For as much therefore as these things can not be gainsayed, you ought to be quiet, and to do nothing rashly.

37 For you have brought hither these men, who are neither guilty of sacrilege, nor of blaspliemy against your goddess.

38 But if Demetrius and the craftsmen that are with him, have a matter against any man, the courts of justice are open, and there are proconsuls; let them accuse one another.

Paul passes through Macedonia and Greece: he raises a dead man to life at Troas. His discourse to the clergy of Ephesse.

ND after the tumult was ceased, Paul calling to him the disciples, and exhorting them, took his leave, and set forward to go into Macedonia.

2 And when he had gone over those parts, and had exhorted them with many words, he came into Greece:

3 Where when he had spent three months, the Jews laid wait for him, as he was about to sail into Syria: * so he took a resolution to return through Macedonia. 4 And there accompanied him Sopater the on of Pyrrhus, of Berea : and of the Thessalonians, Aristarchus, and Secundus, and Gaius of Derbe, and Timothy: and of Asia, Tychicus and Trophimus,

5 These going before, stayed for us at Troas.6 But we sailed from Philippi after the days of the azymes, and came to them to Troas in five days, where we abode seven days.

7 And on the first day of the week, when we were assembled to break bread, Paul discoursed with them, being to depart on the morrow: and he continued his speech until midnight.

8 And there were a great number of lamps in the upper chamber where we were assembled.

9 And a certain young man named Eutychus, sitting on the window, being oppressed with a deep sleep, (as Paul was long preaching,) by occasion of his sleep fell from the third loft down, and was taken up dead.

10 To whom when Paul had gone down, he laid himself upon him; and embracing him, said: Be not troubled, for his soul is in him.

were not a little comforted.

18 But we going aboard the ship, sailed to Assos, being there to take in Paul; for so he had appointed, himself purposing to travel by land

14 And when he had met with us at Assos, we took him in and came to Mitylene.

15 And sailing thence, the day following we came over against Chios: and the next day we arrived at Samos: and the day following we came to Miletus.

16 For Paul had determined to sail by Ephesus, lest he should be stayed any time in Asia. For he hasted, if it were possible for him, to keep the day of pentecost at Jerusalem.

17 And sending from Miletus to Ephesus, he called the ancients of the church.

after them.
31 Therefore watch, keeping in memory, that for three years I ceased not with tears to ad-

37 And there was much weeping among them all; and fallingen the rack of Paul, they kissed him, 38 Being grieved most cf all for the word which he had said, that they should see his face no more. And they brought him on his way to the ship.

4 And finding disciples, we tarried there seven days: who said to Paul through the Spirit, that he should not go up to Jerusalem.

5 And the days being expired, departing we went forward, they all bringing us on our way, with their wives and children, till we were out of the city: and we kneeled down on the shore, and we prayed.

6 And when we had bid one another farewell.

we took ship; and they returned home.

7 But we having finished the voyage by sea, from Tyre came down to Ptolemais: and salut-

12 Which when we had heard, both we and they that were of that place, desired him that he would not go up to Jerusalem.

- 13 Then Paul answered, and said: What do you mean weeping and afflicting my heart? For I am ready not only to be bound, but to die also in Jerusalem, for the name of the Lord JESUS.

22 What is it therefore? the multitude must needs come together; for they will hear that

23 Do therefore this that we say to thee. We have four men, who have a vow on them.

24 Take these and sanctify thyself with them: and bestow on them, † that they may shave their heads: and all will know that the things which they have heard of thee, are false: but that thou thyself also walkest keeping the law.

25 But as touching the gentiles that believe. t we have written decreeing that they should only refrain themselves from that which has been offered to idols, and from blood, and from things strangled, and from fornication.

26 Then Paul took the men, and the next day being purified with them entered into the temple, giving notice of the accomplishment of the days of purification, until an oblation should be offered for every one of them.

27 But when the seven days were drawing to an end, those Jews that were of Asia, when they saw him in the temple, stirred up all the people, and laid hands upon them, crying out:

28 Men of Israel, help: This is the man that teacheth all men every where against the people, and the law, and this place : and moreover hath brought in gentiles into the temple, and hath violated this holy place.

29 (For they had seen Trophimus the Ephesian in the city with him, whom they supposed that Paul had brought into the temple.)

30 And the whole city was in an uproar: and the people ran together. And taking Paul, they drew him out of the temple, and immediately the doors were shut.

31 And as they went about to kill him, it was told the tribune of the band, That all Jerusalem was in confusion.

- 32 Who forthwith taking with him soldiers and centurions, ran down to them. And when they saw the tribune and the soldiers, they left off beating Paul.
- 33 Then the tribune coming near took him, and commanded him to be bound with two chains: and demanded who he was, and what he had done.

cause of the violence of the people.
26 For the multitude of the people followed after, crying: Away with him.

6 And it came to pass, as I was going, and drawing nigh to Damascus at mid-day, that suddenly from heaven there shone round about

7 And falling on the ground, I heard a voice saying to me: Saul. Saul, why persecutest thou

29 Immediately therefore they departed from him that were about to torture him. The tribune also was afraid after he understood that he was a Roman citizen, and because he had bound him.

30 But on the next day meaning to know more diligently, for what cause he was accused by the Jews, he loosed him, and commanded the priests to come together and all the council: and bringing forth Paul, he set him before them.

revile the high-priest of God?

5 And Paul said: I knew not, brethren, that he is the high-priest. For it is written: ## Thou shalt not speak evil of the prince of thy people.

6 And Paul knowing that the one part were Sadducees, and the other Pharisees, cried ontin the conneil: Men brethren. §§ I am a Phari see, the son of Pharisces: concerning the hope and resurrection of the dead I am called in question.

7 And when he had so said, there aroso a dissension between the Pharisees and the Sadducees; and the multitude was divided.

10 And when there arese a great dissension, the tribune fearing lest Paul should be pulled in pieces by them, commanded the soldiers to go down, and to take him by force from among them, and to bring him into the castle.

11 And the night following the Lord standing by him, said: Be constant; for as thou hast testified of me in Jerusalem, so must thou bear

12 And when day was come, some of the Jews gathered together, and bound themselves ander a curse, saying, that they would neither eat nor drink, till they killed Paul.

3 And they were more than forty men that had made this conspiracy.

14 Who came to the chief priests and the ancients, and said: We have bound ourselves under a great curse that we will cat nothing till we have slain Paul.

15 Now therefore do you with the council signify to the tribune, that he bring him forth to you, as if you meant to know something more certain touching him. And we, before he come near, are ready to kill num.

16 Which when Paul's sister's son had heard, of their lying in wait, he came, and entered into

And I indeed did formerly think that I ought to do many things contrary to the name of JESUS of Nazareth.

10 † Which also I did at Jerusalem, and many of the saints did I shut up in prison, having received authority of the chief priests; and when they were put to death, I brought the entence.

23 That Curist should suffer, and that he should be the first that should rise from the dead, and should show light to the people and to the gentiles.

24 As he spoke these things and made his answer, Festus said with a loud voice: Paul, thou art beside thyself; much learning doth make thee mad.

25 And Paul said: I am not mad, most excellent Festus, but I speak words of truth and soberness.

26 For the king knoweth of these things, to whom also I speak with confidence. For lam persuaded that none of these things are hidden from him. For neither was any of these things done in a corner.

to Rome.

15 And from thence when the brethren had heard of us, they came to meet us as far as Appli forum and the three taverns, whom when Paul saw, he gave thanks to God, and took wurage.

16 And when we were come to Rome, Paul was suffered to dwell by himself with a soldier

EPISTLE OF ST. PAUL THE APOSTLE TO THE ROMANS.

🛣. PAUL wrote this Epistle at Corinth, when he was preparing to go to Jerusalem with 🕄 charitable contributions collected in Achaia and Macedonia for the relief of the Christian in Judea; which was about twenty-four years after our Lord's Ascension. It was written Greek, but at the same time translated into Latin for the benefit of those who did not understand that language. And though it is not the first of his Epistles in the order of time yet it is first placed on account of the sublimity of the matter contained in it, of the propension of the place to which it was sent, and in representation of the Church ominence of the place to which it was sent, and in veneration of the Church.

Ver. 8. Eleened is the man to whom the Lord hath not imputed sin. That is, blessed is the man who hath retained his baptismal innocence, that no grievous sin can be imputed to him. And likewise, blessed is the man, who after falling into sin, hath done penance and leads a virtuous life by frequenting the secrements necessary for obtaining the grace to prevent a relapse, that in is no more imputed to him.

saved from wrath through him.

11 And not only so: but also we glory in God, through our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom we have now received reconciliation.

12 Wherefore as by one man sin entered into this world, and by sin death: and so death passed upon all men in whom all have sinned.

13 For until the law sin was in the world: but sin was not imputed, when the law was not.

14 But death reigned from Adam unto Moses, wen over them also who have not sinned after the similitude of the transgression of Adam, who is a figure of him who was to come.

15 But not as the offence, so also the gift. For if by the offence of one many died: much more the grace of God and the gift, by the grace of one man Jesus Christ, hath abounded unto many.

16 And not as it was by one sin, so also is the gift. For judgment indeed was by one unto condemnation: but grace is of many offences, anto justification.

17 For if by one man's offence death reigned through one: much more they who receive abundance of grace, and of the gift, and of justice, shall reign in life through one Jesus Christ.

21 That as ain hath reigned to death : so also grace might reign by justice unto life everlast ing, through Jueus Christ our Lord.

CHAP. VL The Christian must die to sin, and live to God. WHAT shall we say then? shall we con tinue in sin that grace may abound? tinue in sin that grace may abound? 2 God forbid. For we that are dead to sin how shall we live any longer therein?

3 Know ye not that all we, who are baptized in Christ Justa are baptized in his death? 4 T For we are buried together with him by baptism into death: that as Christ is risen from the dead by the glory of the Father,  so we also may walk in newness of life.

5 For if we have been planted together in the likeness of his death, we shall be also in the likeness of his resurrection.

6 Knowing this, that our old man is crucified with him, that the body of sin may be destroyed, to the end that we may serve sin no longer.

7 For he that is dead, is justified from sin. 8 Now if we be dead with Christ, we believe that we shall live also together with Christ:

9 Knowing that Christ rising again from the dead, dieth now no more, death shall no mor have dominion over him.

10 For in that he died to sin, he dieth once but in that he liveth, he liveth unto God:

11 So do you also reckon that you are dead to sin, but alive unto God in Christ Jesus our Lord.

12 Let not sin therefore reign in your mortal body, so as to obey the lusts thereof.

13 †† Neither yield ye your members as instruments of iniquity unto sin: but present yourselves to God as those that are alive from the dead, and your members as instruments of justice unto God.

14 For sin shall not have dominion over you: for you are not under the law, but under grace.

15 What then? Shall we sin, because we are not under the law, but under grace? God forbid.

16 $$ Know you not, that to whom you yield yourselves servants to obey, his servants you are whom you obey, whether it be of sin, unto death, or of obedience, unto justice.

17 But thanks be to God, that you were the servants of sin, but have obeyed from the heart, unto that form of doctrine, into which you have been delivered.

18 Being then free from sin, we have been made servants of justice.

19 I speak an human thing, because of the infirmity of your flesh. For as you have yielded your members to serve uncleanness and iniquity, unto iniquity; so now yield your members to serve justice, unto sanctification.

20 For when you were the servants of sin

you were free men to justice.

21 What fruit therefore had you then in those things, of which you are now ashamed? For the end of them is death.

22 But now being made free from sin, and become servants to God, you have your fruit unto sanctification, and the end life everlesting.

23 For the wages of sin, is death. But the grace of God, life everlasting, in Christ Jesus our Lord.

NOW you not, brethren, (for I speak to them that know the law) that the law hath Mominion over a man, as long as it liveth?

2 * For the woman that hath an husband, whilst her husband liveth is bound to the law. But if her husband be dead, she is loosed from the law of her husband.

3 Therefore, whilst her husband liveth, she shall be called an adulteress, if she be with another man: but if her hasband be dead, she is delivered from the law of her husband: so that she is not an adulteress if she be with another man.

4 Therefore, my brethren, you also are become dead to the law by the body of Christ; that you may belong to another, who is risen again from the dead, that we may bring forth ruit to God.

5 For when we were in the fissh, the passions of hins which were by the law, did work in our nembers, to bring forth fruit unto death.

6 But now we are loosed from the law of leath, wherein we were detained: so that we bould serve in howness of spirit, and not in the 7 What shall we say then? Is the law sin? and forbid. But I did not know sin, but by the aw: for I had not known concupiscence, if the aw did not say: † Thou shall not covet.

ence. For without the law sin was dead.

13 Was that then which is good, made death nto me? God forbid. But sin, that it may appear sin, by that which is good, wrought death me: that sin by the commendment might beme sinful above measure.

14 For we know that the law is spiritual, but am carnal, sold under sin.

to them that are in Christ Jesus, who walk

That the justification of the law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not according to the flesh, but according to the spirit.

5 For they that are according to the flesh mind the things that are of the flesh; but they that are according to the spirit, mind the things that are of the spirit.

6 For the wisdom of the flesh is death: but the wisdom of the spirit is life and peace.

7 Because the wisdom of the flesh is an enemy to God: for it is not subject to the law of God, neither can it be. 8 And they who are in the flesh, cannot 9 But you are not in the flesh, but in the spirit, if so he that the Spirit of God dwall in you. Now if any man have not the Spirit of Christ, he is none of his.

our spirit, that we are the sons of God.

17 And if sons, heirs also: heirs indeed of God, and joint heirs with Christ: yet so if we suffer with him, that we may be also glorified with him.

18 For I recken, that the sufferings of this time are not worthy to be compared with the glory to come, that shall be revealed in us.

19 For the expectation of the creature waitath for the revelation of the sons of God.

20 For the creature was made subject to vanity, not willingly, but by reason of him that made it subject, in hopo:

21 Because the creature also itself shall be delivered from the servitude of corruption, into the liberty of the glory of the children of God.

22 For we know that every creature groaneth, and travaileth in pain even till now.

23 And not only it, but ourselves also, who have the first fruits of the spirit, even we ourselves groan within ourralves, waiting for the adoption of the sons of God, the redemption of our body.

24 For we are saved by hope. But hope that is seen, is not hope. For what a man seeth, why doth he hope for?

25 But if we hope for that which we see not:

we wait for it with patience.

The end of the law is fuith in Christ: which the Jews, refuring to submit to, cannot be fustified.

RETHREN, the will of my heart, indeed, and my prayer to God, is for them unto sal-

3 For they not knowing the justice of God, and seeking to establish their own, have not submitted themselves to the justice of God.

4 For the end of the law is Christ, unto justice to every one that believeth.

5 For Moses wrote, that, the justice which is of the law, If the man that shall do it, shall live by it. 6 But the justice which is of faith, speaketh thus: Say not in thy heart, Who shall ascend into heaven? that is, to bring Christ down :

10 Let their eyes be darkened, that they may not see: and bow down their back always.

11 I say then, have they so stumbled, that they should fall? God forbid. But by their offence, salvation is come to the gentiles, that they may be emulous of them.

12 Now if the offence of them be the riches of the world, and the diminution of them, the riches of the gentiles; how much more the ful-ness of them.

13 For I say to you gentiles;  as long indeed as I am the apostle of the gentiles, I will honour my ministry, 16 For if the first fruit be holy, so is the lump also: and if the root be holy, so are the branches.

CHAP. XIV. Ver. 2. Eat all things. Viz., without observing the distinction of clean and unclean meats, prescribed by the law of Moses: which was now no longer obligatory. Some weak Christians, converted from among the Jews, as we here gather from the apostele, made a scruple of eating such meats as were deemed unclean by the law; such as swine's fless, &c., which cronger sort of Christians did eat without scruple.

14 I know, and am confident, in the Lord Jr. sus, that nothing is unclean of itself; but to him that esteemeth any thing to be unclean, to him it is nuclean.

15 For if, because of thy ment, thy brother be grieved, thou walkest not now according to charaty. ! I estroy not him with thy meat, for whom Christ died.

16 Let not then our good be evil spoken of.

17 For the kingdem of God is not meat and drink; but justice, and reace, and joy in the Holy Ghost.

18 For he, that in this serveth Christ, pleaseth

God, and is approved of men.

19 Therefore let us follow after the things that are of peace : and keep the things that are of edification one towards another.

22 Hast thou faith? Have it to thyself before God. Blessed is he that condemneth not himself in that which he alloweth.

23 But he that discerneth, if he eat, is condemned; because not of faith. For all that is not of faith is sin.

15 But I have written to you, brethren, more boldly in some sort, as it were putting you in mind: because of the grace which is given me from God.

16 That I should be the minister of Christ Jusus among the gentiles; sanctifying the gospel of God, that the oblation of the gentiles may be made acceptable and sanctified in the Holy Ghost.

17 I have therefore glory in Christ Jesus towards God.

18 For I dare not to speak of any of those things which Christ worketh not by me, for the obcdience of the gentiles, by word and deed.

19 By the virtue of signs and wonders, in the I power of the Holy Ghost: so that from Jerusalem found about as far as unto Illyricum, I have ceplenished the gospel of Christ.

20 And I have so preached this gospel, not where Christ was named, lest I should build ipon another man's foundation. 21 But as it is written: ‡ They to whom he vas not spoken of, shall see, and they that wave not heard shall understand.

26 For it hath pleased them of Macedonia nd Achaia to make a contribution for the oor of the saints that are in Jerusalem.

27 For it hath pleased them; and they are heir debtors. For if the gentiles have been nade partakers of their spiritual thing; they ught also in carnal things to minister to thein. 28 When ther fore I shall have accomplished

29 And I know, that when I come to you, I hall come in the abundance of the blessing of 30 I beseech you, therefore, brethren, through ur Lord Jesus Christ, and by the charity of ie Holy Ghost, that you may help me in your rayers for me to God.

31 That I may be delivered from the unbeevers that are in Judea, and that the oblation of my service may be acceptable in Jamasti to the saints.

the innocent.

FIRST EPISTLE OF ST. PAUL TO THE CORINTHIANS.

PAUL having planted the faith in Corinth, where he had preached a year and a half, and converted a great many ween to Ephenn. After being there three years, he wrote this first Entitle to the Corinthians, and sent it by the same persons: Stephanes, Fortunates, and Achaeves, who had brought their letter to him. It was written about twenty-four years after our Lord's Accession, and contains everal matters appertaining to faith and morals, and also is occlesiastical discipline.

CHAP. I.

He remarks their dissensions about their teachers: the world was to be saved by preaching of the cross, and not by human wisdom or eloquence.

PAUL called to be an apostic of Jesus Christ, by the will of God, and Sosthenes a brother,

2 To the church of God that is at Corinth, to them that are sanctified in Christ Jesus, called to be saints, with all that invoke the name of mir Lord Jesus Christ in every place of theirs and ours.

3 Grace to you, and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus CHRIST.

4 I give thanks to my God always for you for he grace of God that is given you in Christ ESUS

5 That in all things you are made rich in him, in ali atterance, and in all knowledge;

6 As the testimony of Christ was confirmed in you,

7 So that nothing is wanting to you in any grace, walting for the manifestation of our Lord JESUS CHRIST.

8 Who also will confirm you unto the end without crime, in the day of the coming of our Lord JESUS CHRIST

9 God is faithful: by whom you are called unto the fellowship of his Son Jesus Christ our Lord.

10 Now I beseech you, brethren, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that you all speak the same thing, and that there be no schisms among you: but that you be perfect in the same mind and in the same judgment.

11 For it nath been signified unto me, my brethren, of you, by them that are of the house of Chloe, that there are contentions among you.

12 Now this I say, that every one of you saith: I indeed am of Paul: and I am † of Apollo: and I of Cephas: and I of Christ.

13 Is Christ divided? Was Paul then cruci-

14 I give God thanks, that I baptized none of you, ‡ but Crispus and Caius:

15 Lest any should say that you were bap tized in my name.

16 And I baptized also the household of Stephanas: besides, I know not whether I baptized any other.

17 For Christ sent me not to baptize, but te preach the gospel: § not in wisdom of speech, lest the cross of Christ should be made void-18 For the word of the cross, to them indeed that perish, is foolishness; but to them that are saved, that is, to us, | it is the power of God. 19 For it is written: ¶ I will destroy the wisdom of the wise; and the prudence of the prudent I will reject.

20  Where is the wise? Where is the scribe? Where is the disputer of this world? Hath not God made foolish the wisdom of this world?

21 For seeing that in the wisdom of God the world by wisdom knew not God; it pleased God by the foolishness of our preaching to save them that believe.

22 For both the Jews require signs, and the Greeks seek after wisdom:

23 But we preach Christ crucified, unto the Jews indeed a stumbling-block, and unto the gentiles, foolishness:

24 But unto them that are called, both Jews and Greeks, Christ the power of God and the wisdom of God.

25 For the foolishness of God, is wiser than men: and the weakness of God, is stronger than 26 For see your vocation, brethren, that there are not many wise according to the flesh, not many mighty, not many noble:

27 But the foolish things of the world hath God chosen, that he may confound the wise: and the weak things of the world bath God chosen, that he may confound the strong:

28 And the base things of the world, and the things that are contemptible hath God choser, and things that are not, that he might bring to neight things that are:

29 That no flesh should glory in his sight.

30 But of him are you in Christ Jesus, who of God is made unto as wisdom, * and justice, and sanctification, and redemption:

31 That, as it is written, † He that glorieth, may glory in the Lord.

CHAP. II.

His preaching was not in loftiness of words; but in spirit and power. And the wisdom he taught was not to be understood by the worldly wise or sensual man, but only by the spiritual man.

A ND I, brethren, when I came to you, t came not in loftiness of speech or of wisdom; declaring unto you the testimony of Christ.

- 2 For I judged not myself to know any thing among you, but Jesus Christ; and him crucified.
- 3 $ And I was with you in weakness, and in fear, and in much trembling:
- 4 | And my speech and my preaching was not in the persuasive words of human wisdom, but in shewing of the spirit and power:

5 That your faith might not stand on the windom of men, but on the power of God.

6 Howbeit we speak wisdom among the perfect: yet not the wisdom of this world, neither of the princes of this world, that come to nought:

7 But we speak the wisdom of God in a mystery, a wisdom which is midden, which God ordained before the world, unto our glory : 8 Which none of the princes of this world knew: for if they had known it, they would paver have crucified the Lord of glory.

9 But, as it is written: That eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither hath it entered into the heart of man, what things God hath prepared for them that love him.

10 But to us God hath revealed them, by his I irit. For the Spirit searcheth all things, yea the deep things of God.

11 For what man knoweth the things of a man, but the spirit of a man that is in him? So the things also that are of God no man knoweth, but the Spirit of God.

12 Now we have received not the spirit of this world, but the Spirit that is of God: that we may know the things that are given us from God.

13  Which things also we speak, not in the learned words of human wisdom; but in the doctrine of the Spirit, comparing spiritual things with spiritual.

14 But the sensual man perceiveth not these Things that are of the Spirit of God: for it is foolishness to him, und he cannot understand: because it is spiritually examined.

15 But the spiritual man judgeth all things: and he himself is judged of no man.

ap with sensual pleasures, with carnal and worldly afections; or he who measureth divine mysteries by naman has little or no notion of the things of God, whereas the spiritual man, who, in the mysteries of rodgion, takes not human sense for his guide; but submits his judgmen? to the decisions of the church, which he se commanded to near and ovey. For Christ bath cruth.

CHAP, 112. Ver. 12. Upon this foundation. The Coundation is Christ and his doctrine; or the true faith 16 th For who hath known the mind of the Lord, that he may instruct him? But we have the mind of Christ.

A N D I, brethren, could not speak to you as unto spiritual, but as unto carnal. As unto little ones in Christ.

2 I gave you milk to drink, not meat: for you were not able as yet. But neither indeed are you now able; for you are yet carnal.

3 For whereas there is among you envying and contention, are you not carnal, and walk

according to man?

4 For while one saith, I indeed am of Paul; and another, I am of Apollo; are you not men?

What then is Apollo, and what is Paul?

5 The ministers of him whom you have believed: and to every one as the Lord hath giver.

6 I have planted, Apollo watered, but God gave the increase.

7 Therefore neither he that planteth is any thing, nor he that watereth; but God that giv . eth the increase. 8 Now he that planteth, and he that watereth, are one. ## And every man shall receive his own reward according to his own labour. 9 For we are God's coadjutors: you are God's husbandry, you are God's building.

10 According to the grace of God, that is given to me, as a wise architect, I have laid the foundation: and another buildeth thereon. But let every man take heed how he buildeth thereupon.

11 For other foundation no man can lay, but that which is laid; which is CHRIST JESUS.

- 12 Now if any man build upon this foundstion, gold, silver, precious stones, wood, hay, stubble:
- 13 Every man's work shall be manifest: for the day of the Lord shall declare it, because it shall be revealed in fire : and the fire shall try every man's work, of what sort it is.

14 If any man's work abide, which he hath built thereupon: he shall receive a reward.

15 If any man's work burn, he shall suffer loss: but he himself shall be saved, yet so as by fire.

16 Know you not that you are the temple e3 God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in

you

17 But if any man violate the temple of God; him shall God destroy. §§ For the temple of God is holy: which you are.

Is Let no man deceive himself: if any man in him, working through charity. The building upoe this foundation, gold, silver, and precious stones, signifies, the more perfect preaching and practice of the geopel: the wood, hay and stubble, such preaching as that of the Corinthian teachers, (who affected the pomp of words and human eloquence) and such practice as its mixed with much imperfection, and many lesser sins. Now the day of the Lord, and his farry trial (in the particular judgment immediately after death) shall make manylest of what sort every man's work has been; of which, during this life, it is hard to make a judgment. For then the fire of God's judgment shall try every man's work. And they, whose works, like mood, hay, and stubble, cannot abide the 2re, shall suffer loss; these works being found to be of no value; yet they them selves, have and uying and to be of no value; yet they them selves, have go built upon the right foundation, (by living and uying a the true faith, and in the state of grace, though with some imperfection) shall be saved, yet so as by jire; being liable to this purnishment, by reason of the wood, hay and stubble which was mixed with their building.

among you seem to be wise in this world, let | him become a fool that he may be wise.

19 For the wisdom of this world is foolishness For it is written: * I will catch the with God. wiss in their own craftiness.

20 And again: † The Lord knoweth the Foughts of the wise, that they are vain.

21 Let no man therefore glory in men. -

22 For all things are yours, whether it be Paul, or Apollo, or Cephas, or the world, or ette, or death, or things present, or things to some: for all are yours:

23 And you are Christ's: and Christ is God's.

CAAP. IV.
Cod's ministers are not to be judged. He reprehends their boasting of their preachers; and describes the treatment the apostles every where met with.

ETta man so account of us as of the ministers of Christ, and the dispensers of the mysteries of God.

2 Here now it is required among the dispensers, that a man be found faithful.

3 But to me it is a very small thing to be indged by you or by man's day; but neither ao I judge my own self.

4 For I am not conscious to myself of any thing, yet am I not hereby justified: but he that judgeth me, is the Lord.

5 Therefore judge not before the time; until the Lord come, who both will bring to light the hidden things of darkness, and will make maniiest the counsels of the hearts: and then shall every man have praise from God.

6 But these things, brethren, I have in a agure transferred to myself and to Apollo, for cur sakes; that in us you may learn, that one be not puffed up against the other for another, above that which is written.

7 For who distinguisheth thee? Or what hast thou that thou hast not received? And if thou bast received; why dost thou glory, as if thou hadst not received it?

8 You are now full: you are now become cich: you reign without us; and I would to God you did reign, that we also might reign with you.

9 For I think that God hath set forth us aposties, the last, as it were men appointed to death: we are made a spectacle to the world, and to Angels, and to men.

10 We are fools for Christ's sake, but you are rise in Christ : we are weak, but you are strong: you are honourable, but we without honour.

11 Even unto this hour we both hunger, and thirst, and are naked, and are buffeted, and have no fixed abode,

12 § And we labour working with our own nands: we are reviled, and we bless: we are persecuted, and we suffer it. 13 We are blasphemed, and we entreat: we are made as the refuse of this world, the offscouring of all even until now.

14 I write not these things to confound you; out I admonish you as my dearest children :

15 For if you have ten thousand instructors in Christ, yet not many fathers. For in Christ JESUS by the gospel I have begotten you:

of me, as I also am of Christ.

but in power.

power of our Lord Jesus:

7 Purge out the old leaven, that you may be a new paste; as you are unleavened. For Christ our pasch, is sacrificed.

8 Therefore let us feast, not with the old leaven, nor with the leaven of malice and wickedness, but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth.

9 I wrote to you in an epistle, not to keep company with fornicators.

10 I mean not with the fornicators of this world, or with the covetous, or the extortioners, or the servers of idols: otherwise you must needs go out of this world.

11 But now I have written to you, not to keep company, if any man that is named a brother, be a fornicator, or covetous, or a server of idols, or a railer, or a drunkard, or an extortioner: with such an one not so much as to eat.

12 For what have I to do to judge them that are without? Do not you judge them that are within?

how much more things of this world.

4 If therefore you have judgments of things pertaining to this world, set them to judge, who and the most despised in the church.

5 I speak to your shame. Is it so that there is not among you any one wise man, that is able to judge between his brethren?

6 But brother goeth to law with brother: and that before unbelievers?

7 * Already indeed there is plainly a fault among you, that you have lawsnits one with another. Why do you not rather take wrong? way do you not rather suffet yourselves to be defrauded?

8 But you do wrong and defraud: and that to your brethren.

9 Know you not that the unjust shall not possess the kingdom of God? Do not err: Neither fornicators, nor idolaters, nor adulterers,

10 Nor the effeminate, nor liers with mankind, nor thieves, nor covetous, nor drunkards, nor railers, nor extortioners shall possess the kingdom of God.

11 And such some of you were; but you are washed, but you are sanctified, but you are justified in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, and the Spirit of our God.

12 All things are lawful to me, but all things are not expedient. All things are lawful to me, but I will not be brought under the power of any.

13 Meat for the belly, and the belly for the meats: but God shall destroy both it and them: tut the body is not for fornication, but for the Lord, and the Lord for the body.

14 Now God hath both raised up the Lord, and will raise us up also by his power.

15 Know you not, that your bodies are the members of Christ? Shall I then take the members of Christ, and make them the members of an hariot? God forbid.

16 Or know you not, that he who is joined to a harlot, is made one body? † For they shall be, saith he, two in one flesh.

17 But he, who is joined to the Lord, is one

- 18 Fly fornication. Every sin that a man doth, is without the body : but he that committeth fornication, sinneth against his own body.
- 19 Or know you not, I that your members are the temple of the Holy Ghost, who is in you, whom you have from God; and you are not your OWD ?

And much less would it be expedient to be enslaved by an irregular affection to any thing, how indifferent soever.

CHAP. VII. Ver. 2. Have his own wife: That is, keep to his wife, which he hath. His meaning is not to exhort the unmarried to marry; on the contrary, he would have them rather continue as they are. Ver. 8. But he excess bere to there that are already married; who must 8 But I say to the unmarried, and to the widows: it is good for them if they so continue, even as I.

9 But if they do not contain themselves, let them marry. For it is better to marry than to be burnt.

10 But to them that are married, not I, but the Lord commandeth, I that the wife depart not from her husband.

11 And if she depart, that she remain unmarried, or be reconciled to her husband. And lot not the husband put away his wife.

12 For to the rest I speak, not the Lord. If any brother have a wife that believeth not, and she consent to dwell with him; let him not put her away.

13 And if any woman have a husband that believeth not, and he consent to dwell with her; let her not put away her husband.

14 For the unbelieving husband is sanctified by the believing wife; and the unbelieving wife is sanctified by the believing husband: otherwise your children should be unclean; but now they are holy.

15 But if the unbeliever depart, let him depart. For a brother or sister is not under servitude in such cases. But God hath called us in peace.

16 For how knowest thou, O wife, whether thou shalt save thy husband? Or how knowest thou, O man, whether thou shalt save thy wife?
17 But as the Lord hath distributed to every one, as God hath called every one, so let him walk : and so in all churches I teach.

Ver. 9. If they do not contain, &c. This is spoken of such as are free, and not of such as, by yow, have given their first faith to God; to whom, if they will use proper means to obtain it, God will never refuse the gift of continency. Some translators have corrupted this text, by rendering it, if they cannot contain.
Ver. 12. I speak, not the Lord. Viz., by any express commandment, or ordinance.
Ver. 14. Is sanctified. The meaning is not, that the faith of the husband or the wife is of itself sufficient to put the unbelieving party, or their childred, in the turnof grace and calvation but that it is very often an excasion of their sanctification, by bringing there to Div true faith.

cision is nothing: but the observation of the commandments of God.

20 Let every man abide in the same calling n which he was called.

21 Wast thou called, being a bond-man? care not for it: but if thou mayest be made free, use it rather.

22 For he that is called in the Lord, being a bond-man, is ti a reeman of the Lord. Likewise he that is called, being free, is the bond-man of Christ.

23 † You are bought with a price, be not made the bond slaves of men-

24 Brethren, let every man wherein he was called, therein abide with God, 25 Now concerning virgins. I have no commandment of the Lord : but I give counsel, as baving obtained mercy of the Lord to be withful.

26 I think therefore that this is good for the present necessity, that it is good for a man of

to be.

27 Art thou bound to a wife? seek not to be bosed. Art thou loosed from a wife, seek nor wife.

28 But if thou take a wife, thou hast not sinned. And if a virgin marry, she hath not sinned: nevertheless, such shall have tribulalion of the flesh. But I spare you.

29 This therefore I say, brethren: the time is short: it remaineth, that they also who have wives, be as if they had mone:

30 And they that weep, as though they wept not: and they that rejoice, as if they rejoiced not: and they that buy, as though they possessed not:

31 And they that use this world, as if they used it not: for the fashion of this world passeth away.

82 But I would have you to be without solicitude. He that is without a wife, is solicitous for the things that belong to the Lord, how he n ay please God.

33 But he that is with a wife, is solicitous for the things of the world, how he may please his wife: and he is divided.

34 And the numarried woman and the virgin thinketh on the things of the Lord: that she may be holy both in body and in spirit. But she that is married thinketh on the things of the world, how she may please her husband.

35 And this I speak for your profit: not to east a snare upon you, but for that which is decent, and which may give you power, to attend upon the Lord, without impediment.

36 But if any man think that he seemeth dishonoured with regard to his virgin, for that she is above the age, and it must so be . let him do what he will : he sinneth not, if she marry.

37 For he that hath determined being steadfast in his heart, having no necessity, but having power of his own will; and hath judged this in his heart, to keep his virgin, doth well.

38 Therefore both he that give their virgin in marriage doth well : and he that garath her not, doth better.

I also have the Spirit of God.

CHAP. VIII.

Though an idol be nothing, yet things offered up to idols are not to be eaten, for fear of scandal.

OW concerning those things that are sacrificed to idols, we know that we all have knowledge. Knowledge puffeth up: but charity edifieth.

2 And if any man think that he knoweth any thing, he hath not yet known, as' e ought to know.

3 But if any man love God, the ame is known by him.

4 But as for the meats the are sacrificed to idols, we know that an idol is nothing in the world, and that there is no God, but one.

For although there be that are called geds, citner in heaven, or on earth (for there bo gods many, and lords many,,

6 Yet to us there is but one God, the Father of whom are all things, and we unto him: an one Lord Jesus Christ, by whom are all things, and we by him.

7 But there is not knowledge in every one. For some until this present with conscience on the idol, eat as a thing sacrificed to an idol: and their conscience, being weak, is defiled.

8 But meat doth not commend us to God. For neither, if we eat, shall we have the more: nor, if we eat not, shall we have the less.

9 But take heed lest perhaps this your liberty become a stumbling-block to the weak.

10 For if a man see him that hath knowledge sit at meat in the idol's temple; shall not his conscience, being weak, be emboldened to eat those things which are sacrificed to idols?

11 § And through thy knowledge shall the brother perish, for whom Christ hath weak died?

12 Now when you sin thus against the brethren, and wound their weak conscience, you sin against Christ.

13 | Wherefore if meat scandalize my brother, I will never eat flesh, lest I should scandalize my brother.

The apostle did not make use of his power, of being maintained at the charges of those to whom he practical, that he may a give no hinderance to the gospel. Of running in the race, and striving for the mastery.

Al not I free? Am not I an apostle? Have not I seen Christ Jesus our Lord?

CliAP, IX. Ver. 5. A woman a sister. Some erro necess translators have corrupted this text, by rendering it, a sister, a wife; whereas, it is certain, 5t. Paul had no wife [Chap. "" 2 8.] and that he only speaks of a sister, as well as the rest of the apostles, and | the brethren of the Lord, and Cephas?

6 Or I only and Barnabas have not we power to do this?

7 Who serveth as a soldier at any time, at his own charges? Who planteth a vineyard, and eateth not of the fruit thereof? Who feedoth a flock, and exteth not of the milk of the Bock?

8 Speak I these things according to man? Or doth not the law also say these things?

9 For it is written in the Law of Moses: * Thou shalt not muzzle the mouth of the ox that treadeth out the corn. Doth God take care for oxen?

10 Or doth he say this indeed for our sakes? For these things are written for our sakes; that he that ploweth should plow in hope: and he 2) at thrasheth, in hope to receive fruit.

11 † If we have sown unto you spiritual things, is it a great matter if we reap your carn il things?

13 ‡ Know you not, that they who work in the holy place, eat the things that are of the boly place: and they that serve the altar partake with the altar?

14 So also the Lord ordained that they who preach the gospel, should live by the gospel.

15 But I have used none of these things. Nei-ther have I written these things, that they should be so done unto me; for it is good for me to die, rather than that any man should make my glory void.

16 For if I preach the gospel: it is no glory to me: for a necessity lieth upon me: for wo is unto me if I preach not the gospel.

17 For if I do this thing willingly, I have a reward: but if against my will, a dispensation is committed to me.

18 What is my reward then? That preaching the gospel, I may deliver the gospel without charge, that I abuse not my power in the gospil.

head of every man is Christ: and the head of the woman is the man: and the head of Chris? is God.

4 Every man praying or prophesying with his head covered, disgraceth his head.

5 But every woman praying or prophesying with her head not covered, disgraceth her head: for it is all one as if she were shaven.

6 For if a woman be not covered; let her be shorn. But if it be a shame to a woman to be shorn or made bald, let her cover her head.

7 The man indeed ought not to cover his head, because he is the | image and glory of God; but the woman is the glory of the man.

8 For the man is not of the woman, but the woman of the man.

9 T For the man was not created for the woman, but the woman for the man.

10 Therefore ought the woman to have s power over her head because of the Angels. II But yet neither is the man without the woman, nor the woman without the man, in the Lord.

12 For as the woman is of the man, so also is the man by the woman : but all things of God.

13 You yourselves judge: doth it become a woman, to pray unto God, uncovered?

14 Doth not even nature itself teach you, that a man indeed, if he nourish his hair, it is a shame unto him:

15 But if a woman nourish her hair, it is a glory to her, for her hair is given to her for a covering.

16 But if any man seem to be contentious, we have no such custom, nor the church of God.

17 Now this I ordain: not praising you, that you come together not for the better, but for the worse.

18 For first of all I hear that when you come together in the church, there are schisms among you, and in part I believe it.

19 For there must be also heresies: that they also, who are reproved, may be made manifest among you.
20 When you come therefore together into one place, it is not now to eat the Lord's supper. 21 For every one taketh before his own supper to eat. And one indeed is hungry, and another is drunk.

22 What, have you not houses to eat and to drink in? Or despise ye the church of God : and put them to shaine that have not? What shall I say to you? Do I praise you? In this I praise

23 For I have received of the Lord that which also I delivered unto you, that the Lord Jesus, the same night in which he was betrayed, took bread,

24 And giving thanks, broke, and said:  Take ye and eat: this is my body which shall we are formed into one mystical body; and made, as it were, one bread, compounded of many grains of corn, closely united together.

CHAP. XI. Ver. 10. A power: That is, a veil or covering, as a sign that she is under the power of heabusband: and this, the apostle adds, because of the Angels, who are present in the assemblies of the faithful.

Ver, 19. There must be also heresies. By reason of the price and perversity of man's heart; not by God's will or appointment; who nevertheless draws good out of this evil, manifesting, by that occasion, who are the good and firm Christians, and making their faith more remarkable. remarkable.

Ver. 20. The Lord's supper. So the apostle here call the charity feasts observed by the primitive Christians and reprehends the abuses of the Corinthians, on these be delivered for you: this do for the commemoration of mo.

25 In like manner also the chalice, after he had supped, saying: This chalice is the new testament in my blood: this do ye, as often as you shall drink, for the commemoration of me.

26 For as often as you shall eat this bread, and drink the chalice, you shall shew the death of the Lord, until he come.

27 * Therefore whosever shall eat this bread, or drink the chalice of the Lord unworthily, shall be guilty of the body and of the blood of the Lord.

28 † But let a man prove himself: and so let him eat of that bread, and drink of the chalice.

29 For he that eateth and drinketh unworthily, eateth and drinketh judgment to himself, not discerning the body of the Lord. 30 Therefore are there many infirm and weak among you, and many sleep.

51 But if we would judge ourselves, we should not be judged.

32 But whilst we are judged, we are chastised by the Lord: that we be not condemned with this world.

33 Wherefore, my brethren, when you come together to eat, wait for one another.

34 If any man be hungry, let him eat at home; that you come not together unto judgment. And the rest I will set in order, when I come.

Of the diversity of spiritual offer. The members of the ray-tical body, like those of the natural body, must suitually cherish one another.

NOW concerning spiritual things, my bre-thren, I would not have you ignorant.

You know that, when you were heathens, you went to dumb idols, according as you were led.

3 Wherefore I give you to understand, I that ao man, speaking by the Spirit of God, saith Anathema to Jesus. And no man can say, the Lord Jesus, but by the Holy Ghost.

4 Now there are diversities of graces, but the same Spirit:

5 And there are diversities of ministries, but the same Lord.
6 And there are diversities of operations, but the same God, who worketh all in all.

7 And the manifestation of the Spirit is given to every man unto profit.

8 To one indeed, by the Spirit, is given the word of wisdom: and to another, the word of knowledge, according to the same Spirit .

9 To another, faith in the same Spirit: to another, the grace of healing in one Spirit:

10 To another, the working of miracles: to another, prophecy: to another, the discerning of spirits: to another. diverse kinds of tongues: to another, interpretation of speeches.

occasions; which were the more criminal, because these cocasions; which were the more criminal, occause these beats were accompanied with the celebrating the eucharistic sacrifice and sacrament.

Ver. 27. Or drink. Here erroneous translators corrupted the text, by putting and drink (contrary to the original, η πίγη) instead of or drink.

Ver. 27, 29. Guilty of the body, &c., not discerning the brdy, &c. This demonstrates the real presence of the body and blood of Christ, even to the unworthy communicant; who otherwise could not be guilty of the body and blood of Christ, or justly condemned for not discerning the Card's body.

Ver. 28. Drink of the chalice. This is not said by way of command, but by way of allowance, viz., where end when it is agreeable to the practice and discipline of the church.

11 § But all these things one and the same Spirit worketh, dividing to every one according as he will.

12 For as the body is one, and hath many members; and all the members of the body whereas they are many, yet are one body; so also is Christ.

13 For in one Spirit were we all baptized into one body, whether Jews, or gentiles, whether bond, or free: and in one Spirit we have all been made to drink.

14 For the body also is not one member, but many.

15 If the foot should say, because I am not the hand, I am not of the body: is it therefore not of the body?

16 And if the ear should say, because I am not the eye, I am not of the body: is it therefore not of the body?

17 If the whole body were the eye: where would be the hearing? If the whole were hearing: where would be the smelling?

18 But now God hath set the members every one of them in the body as it hath pleased him.

19 And if they all were one member, where would be the body?

20 But now there are many members indeed, yet one body.

21 And the eye cannot say to the hand : need not thy help; nor again the head to the fcet: I have no need of you.

22 Yea much more those that seem to be the more feeble members of the body, are more necessary:

23 And such as we think to be the less tonourable members of the body, about these we put more abundant honour : and those that are our ancomely parts, have more abundant comeliness.

24 But our comely parts have no need: but God hath tempered the body together, giving to that which wanted the more abundant honour.

25 That there might be no schism in the body, but the members might be mutually careful one for another.

26 And if one member suffer any thing, all the members suffer with it : or, if one member glory, all the members rejoice with it.

27 Now you are the body of Christ, and members of member.

28 | And God indeed hath set some in the church, first apostles, secondly prophets, thirdly doctors, after that miracles, then the graces of healings, helps, governments, kinds of tongues, interpretations of speeches.

29 Are all apostles? Are all prophets? Are all doctors?

30 Are all workers of miracles? Have all the grace of healing? Do all speak with tongues? Do all interpret?

31 But be zealous for the better gifts. And I shew unto you yet a more excellent way.

CHAP. XIII.

Charity is to be preferred before all other gifts.

If I speak with the today I am become angels, and have not charity, I am become F I speak with the tongues of men, and as sounding brass or a tinkling cymbal.

2 And if I should have prophecy, and shoul know all mysteries, and all knowledge, and if I should have all faith, so that I could remove mountains, and have not charity, I am nothing. 3 And if I should distribute all my goods to thed the poor, and if I should deliver my body to be burned, and have not charity, it profiteth me nothing.

4 Charity is patient, is kind : charity envieth not, dealeth not perversely: is not pushed up, 5 Is not ambitious, seeketh not her own, is not provoked to unger, thinketh no evil,

6 Rejolceth not in iniquity, but rejoiceth with the truth:

7 Beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.

8 Charity never falleth away: whether pro-phecies shall be made void, or tongues shall cease, or knowledge shall be destroyed.

9 For we know in part, and we prophesy in art.

10 But when that which is perfect is come. that which is in part shall be done away.

11 When I was a child, I spoke as a child, I understood as a child, I thought as a child. But when I became a man, I put away the things of a child.

12 We see now through a glass in a dark manner: but then face to face. Now I know in part : but then I shall know even as I am known.

13 And now there remain, faith, hope, charity, these three: but the greater of these is charity.

CHAP. XIV.

The gift of prophesying is to be preferred before that of speaking strange tongues.

POLLOW after charity, be zealous for spiritual gifts: but rather that pluesy.

2 For he that speaketh in a tongue, speaketh and unto men, but unto God : for no man hearof. Yet by the Spirit he speaketh mysteries.

3 But he that prophesieth, speaketh to men crite edification and exhortation and comfort. 4 He that speaketh in a tongue, edifieth him-orlf; but he that prophesieth, edifieth the church. 5 And I would have you ail to speak with longues, but rather to prophesy. For greater is as that prophesieth, than he that speaketh with longues: unless perhaps he interpret, that the church may receive edification.

6 But now, brethren, if I come to you, speaking with tongues, what shall I profit you, unless I speak to you either in revelation, or in knowtedge, or in prophecy, or in doctrine?

7 Even things without life that give sound, whether pipe or harp, except they give a dis-Cinction of sounds, how shall it be known what as piped or harped?

8 For if the trumpet give an uncertain sound, who shall prepare himself to the battle?

9 So likewise you, except you utter by the tongue plain speech, how shall it be known what is said? For you shall be speaking into the 10 There are, for example, so many kinds of tongues in this world; and none is without voice.

11 If then 1 know not the power of the voice, I shall be to him, to whom I speak, a barbarian, and he, that speaketh, a barbarian to me.

CHAP. XIV. Ver. 1. Probey. That is, declare or expound the mysteries of foith.

VCr. 2. Not unto men. Viz., so as to be heard, that eo as to be understood by them.

Ver. 12. Of spirits. Of spiritual gifts.

Vor. 16. Amen. The unlearned, not knowing that you use then blessing, will not be qualified to join with you by taying Amen to your blessing. The are or abuse gettings tongues, of which the apostle know speaks, 12 So you also, forasmuch as you are zealous of spirits, seek to abound unto the edifying of the church.

13 And therefore he that speaketh by a tongue, let him pray that he may interpret.

11 For if I pray in a tongue, my spirit pray. eth, but my understanding is without fruit.

15 What is it then? I will pray with the spirit, I will pray also with the understanding: I will sing with the spirit, I will sing also with the understanding.

16 Eise if thou shalt bless with the spirit, how shall he that holdeth the place of the unlearned say. Amen, to thy blessing? because he knoweth not what thou sayest.

17 For thou indeed givest thanks well, but the other is not edified.

18 I thank my God I speak with all your tongues.

19 But in the church I had rather speak five words with my understanding, that I may instruct others also; than ten thousand words in a tongue.

20 Brethren, do not become children in sense. but in malice be children, and in sense be perfect.

21 In the law it is written: * In other tongues and other lips, I will speak to this people: and neither so will they hear me, saith the Lord.

22 Wherefore tongues are for a sign, not to believers, but to unbelievers: but prophecies, not to unbelievers, but to believers.

23 If therefore the whole church come together into one place, and all speak with tongues, and there come in unlearned persons or infidels, will they not say that you are mad?

24 But if all prophesy, and there come in one that believeth not, or an unlearned person, he is convinced of all, he is judged of all.

25 The secrets of his heart are made manifest, and so, falling down on his face, he will adore God, affirming that God is among you in-

26 How is it then, brethren? When you come together, every one of you hath a psalm, hath a doctrine, hath a revelation, hath a tongue, hath an interpretation : let all things be done to edification.

27 If any speak with a tongue, let it be by two, or at the most by three, and in course, and let one interpret, 28 But if there be no interpreter, let him hold his peace in the church, and speak to himself and to God.

29 And let the prophets speak, two or three: and let the rest judge.

30 But if any thing be revealed to another sitting, let the first hold his peace.

31 For you may all prophesy one by one; that all may learn, and all may be exherted:

32 And the spirits of the prophets are subject to the prophets.

33 For God is not the God of dissension, but of peace: as also I teach in all the churches of does not regard the public liturgy of the church, (in which strange tongues wore never used) but certain conforences of the faithful, ver. 26. Sec., in which, meeting together, they discovered to one another their various miraculous gifts of the Spirit, common in those primitive times; amongst which the apostle prefers that of prophesying before that of speaking strange tongues, because it was more to the public edification. Where also note, that the Latin, used in our liturgy, is so fee from being a thrange or unknown tongue, that it is perhaps the best known tongue in the world.

34 Let women keep silence in the churches: for it is not permitted them to speak, but to be subject, * as also the law saith.

35 But if they would learn any thing, let them ask their husbands at home. For it is a shaure for a woman to speak in the church.

36 Or did the word of God come out from you? Or came it only unto you?

37 If any seem to be a prophet, or spiritual, let him know the things that I write to you, that they are the commandments of the Lord.

38 But if any man know not, he shall not be

39 Wherefore, brethren, be zealous to prophesy: and forbid not to speak with tongues. 40 But let all things be done decently, and according to order.

CHAP. XV.

Christ's resurrection and ours: the manner of our resurrection.

Now † I make known unto you, brethren, the gospel which I preached to you, which also you have received, and wherein you stand; 2 By which also you are saved, if you hold fast after what manner I preached unto you, unless you have believed in vain.

3 For I delivered unto you first of all, which I also received: How that Christ died for our sins ‡ according to the scriptures :

4 $ And that he was buried, and that he rose aga'n the third day according to the scriptures: 5 And that he was seen by Cephas; | and af-er that by the eleven.

Then was he seen by more than five hundrei brethren at once: of whom many remain until this present, and some are fallen asleep.

7 After that, he was seen by James, then by all the apostles.

8 And last of all, he was seen also by me, as by one born out of due time.

9 T For I am the least of the apostles, who am not worthy to be called an apostle, because I persecuted the church of God. 10 But by the grace of God, I am what I am; and his grace in me hath not been void, but I bave laboured more abundantly than all they: yet not I, but the grace of God with me :

11 For whether 1, or they, so we preach, and 50 you have believed.

12 Now if Christ be preached that he arose again from the dead, how do some among you say, that there is no resurrection of the dead?

13 But if there be no resurrection of the dead, then Christ is not risen again.

14 And if Christ be not risen again, then is our preaching vain, and your faith is also vain.

15 Yea, and we are found false witnesses of God: because we have given testimony against God, that he hath raised up Christ; whom he hath not raised up, if the dead rise not again.

16 For if the dead rise not again, neither is Christ risen again.

17 And if Christ be not risen again, your aith is vain, for you are yet in your sins.

18 Then they also that are fallen asleep in Christ, are perished.

19 If in this life only we have hope in Christ.

we are of all men most miserable.

20 But now Christ is risen from the dead, the first-fruits of them that sleep.

21  For by a man came death, and by a man the resurrection of the dead.

22 And as in Adam all die, so also in Christ all shall be made alive.

23 ## But every one in his own order: the first-fruits Christ, then they that are of Christ, who have believed in his coming. 24 Afterwards the end, when he shall have delivered up the kingdom to God and the Father, when he shall have brought to nought al' principality, and power, and virtue.

25 For he must reign, ‡‡ Until he hath put ale his enemies under his feet.

26 And the enemy death shall be destroyed last, §§ For he hath put all things under his fect. And whereas he saith, 27 All things are put under him; undoubtedly he is excepted, who put all things under him.

28 And wher, all things shall be subdued urto him, then the Son also himself shall be subject into him that put all things under him, that God may be all in all. 29 Otherwise what shall they do that are baptized for the dead, if the dead rise not again at all? why are they then baptized for them?

30 Why also are we in danger every hour? 31 I die daily, I protest by your glory, bro thren, which I have in Christ Jesus our Lord.

32 If (according to man) I fought with beasts at Ephesus, what doth it profit me, if the dead rise not again? || Let us eat and drink, for tomorrow we shall die.

33 Be not seduced: Evil communications corrupt good manners.

34 Awake, ye just, and sin not. For some have not the knowledge of God, I speak it to your shame.

35 But some man will say: How do the dead rise again? or with what manner of body shall they come?

36 Senseless man, that which thou sowest is not quickened, except it die first.

37 And that which thou sowest, thou sowest not the body that shall be; but bare grain, as of wheat, or of some of the rest.

38 But God giveth it a body as he will: and to every seed its proper body.

39 All flesh is not the same flesh but one is the flesh of men, another of beasts, another of birds, another of fishes.

40 And there are bodies celestial, and bodies terrestrial: but, one is the glory of the celestial, and another of the terrestrial.

41 One is the glory of the sun, another the glory of the moon, and another the glory of the ars. For star differeth from star in glory: 42 So also is the resurrection of the dead. It is sown in corruption, it shall rise in incorruption.

Ver. 29. That are baptized for the dead. Some thind the apostle here alludes to a ceremony then in use; but others, more probably, to the prayers and penitental labours, performed by the primitive christians for the soils of the faithful departed; or to the baptism of afflictions and sufferings undergone for sinners spiritually

Ver. 32. Let us eat and drink, &c. That is, if we did not believe that we were to rise again from the dead, we might live like the impigus and wicked who have as belief in the resurrection.

45 It is sown radishonour, it shall rise in glory. It is sown in weakness, it shall rise in power.

44 It is sown a natural body, it shall rise a spiritual body. If there be a natural body, there is also a spiritual body, as it is written:

45 The first man Adam was made into a guickening soul: the last Adam into a quickening spirit.

46 Yet that was not first which is spiritual, but that which is natural: afterwards that which is spiritual.

47 The first man was of the earth, earthly: the second man, from heaven, heavenly.

48 Such as is the earthly, such also are the earthly: and such as is the heavenly, such also are they that are heavenly.

49 Therefore as we have borne the image of the earthly, let us bear also the image of the heavenly.

50 Now this I say, brethren, that flesh and blocd cannot possess the kingdom of God: neither shall corruption possess incorruption.

51 Behold I tell you a mystery. We shall all indeed rise again: but we shall not all be changed.

52 In a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trumpet: for the trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall rise again incorruptible: 2nd we shall be changed.

53 For this corruptible must put on incorrection; and this mortal must put on immortality.

54 And when this mortal hath put on immortality, then shall come to pass the saying that is written: † Death is swallowed up in victory.

55 O. death, where is thy victory? O death, where is thy sting?

56 Now the sting of death is sin: and the strength of sin is the law.

67 t But thanks be to God, who hath given the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.

58 Therefore, my beloved brethren, be you at addast and unmoveable; always abounding to the work of the Lord, knowing that your labour is not vain in the Lord.

SECOND EPISTLE OF ST. PAUL TO THE CORINTHIANS

In this Epistle S7. PAUL comforts those who are now reformed by his admonitions to them in the former, and advolves the incestuous man on doing penance, whom he had before excommunicated for his crime. Hence he treats of true penance, and of the dignity of the ministers of the New Testament. 'He cautions the faithful against false teachers and the society of injidels. He gives an account of his sufferings, and also of the favours and graces which God some place in Mucedonia,

CHAP. I.

He speaks of his troubles in Asia. His not coming to them was not out of levity. The constancy and sincerity of his ductrine.

PAUL an apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, and Timothy our brother: to the church of God that is at Corinth, with all the waints that are in all Achaia:

2 Grace unto you and peace from God our father, and from the Lord JESUS CHRIST.

3 * Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord JESUS CHRIST, the Father of mercies, and the God of all comfort.

4 Who comforteth us in all our tribulation; that we also may be able to comfort them who are in all distress, by the exhortation wherewith we also are exhorted by God.

5 For as the sufferings of Christ abound in us: so also by Christ doth our comfort abound.

6 Now whether we be in tribulation, it is for your exhortation and salvation: or whether we be comforted, it is for your consolation : or whether we be exhorted, it is for your exhortation and salvation, which worketh the enduring of the same sufferings which we also guffer.

7 That our hope for you may be steadfast: knowing that as you are partakers of the sufferings, so shall you be also of the consolation.

8 For we would not have you ignorant, brethren, of our tribulation, which came to us in Asia, that we were pressed out of measure above our strength, so that we were weary even of life.

9 But we had in ourselves the answer of death, that we should not trust in ourselves, but in God who raiseth the dead,

10 Who hath delivered and doth deliver us out of so great dangers: in whom we trust that he will yet also deliver us.

11 You helping withal in prayer for us: that for this gift obtained for us, by the means of many persons, thanks may be given by many in our behalf.

12 For our glory is this, the testimony of eur conscience, that in simplicity of heart and sincerity of God, and not in carnal wisdom, but in the grace of God, we have conversed in this world: and more abundantly towards you.

13 For we write no other things to you, than What you have read and known. And I hope that you shall know unto the end:

* Ephes. 1. 3. 1 Pet. 1. 3.

CHAP. I. Ver. 19. It was in him. There was no knoustancy in the doctrine of the apostles, sometimes, the modern sectaries, saying, It is, and at other times saying, it is not. But their doctrine was ever the same, one uniform, yea, in Jesus Christ, one Ames, that is the cruck in 1822.

14 As also you have known us in part, that we are your glory, as you also are ours in the day of our Lord JESUS CHRIST.

15 And in this confidence I had a mind to come to you before, that you might have a second grace:

16 And to pass by you into Macedonia, and again from Macedonia to come to you, and by you to be brought on my way towards Judea.

17 Whereas then I was thus minded, did I use lightness? Or the things that I purpose, do I purpose according to the flesh, that there should be with me, It is, and, It is not.

18 But God is faithful, for our preaching which was to you, was not, It is, and It is not. 19 For the Son of God Jesus Christ, who was preached among you by us, by me, and Sylvanus, and Timothy, was not, It is, and, It is not, but It is, was in him.

20 For all the promises of God are in him, 78 is: therefore also by him, amen to God, ut to our glory.

21 Now he that confirmeth us with you ha Christ, and that hath anointed us, is Ged:

22 Who also hath sealed us, and givet he pledge of the Spirit in our hearts.

23 But I call God to witness upon my sml, that to spare you, I came not any more to Corinth: not because we exercise dominion ever your faith : but we are helpers of your joy : for in faith you stand.

CHAP. II.

He grants a pardon to the incestuous man, upon her deing penance.

BUT I determined this with myself, not to come to you again in sorrow.

2 For if I make you sorrowful; who is he then that can make me glad, but the same who is made sorrowful by me?

3 And I wrote this same to you; that I ray not, when I come, have sorrow upon sorrow from them of whom I ought to rejoice: hadre confidence in you all that my joy is the joy of you all.

4 For out of much affliction, and anguish o. heart I wrote to you with many tears : not that you should be made sorrowful; but that jet might know the charity I have more abundantly towards you.

5 And if any one have caused grief, he hata not grieved me; but in part, that I may not burden you all.

6 To him that is such a one, this rebuke is & & ficient, that is given by many:

7 So that contrariwise you should rather pardon and comfort him, lest perhaps such an ove be swallowed up with over-much sorrow. 139

8 Fer which cause I beseech you, that you | would confirm your charity towards him.

9 For to this end also did I write, that I may know the experiment of you, whether you be phedient in all things.

10 And to whom you have pardoned any thing, I also. For, what I have pardoned, if I have pardoned any thing, for your sakes have I done it in the person of Christ, 11 That we be not over-reached by satan.

For we are not ignorant of his devices.

12 And when I was come to Troas for the gospel of Christ, and a door was opened unto me in the Lord,

13 I had no rest in my spirit, because I found not Titus my brothe but bidding them farewell, I went into Maco onia.

14 Now thanks be to God, who always maketh us to triumph in Christ Jesus, and manifesteth the odour of his knowledge by us in every place.

15 For we are the good odour of Christ unto God, in them that are saved, and in them that perigh.

16 To the one indeed the odour of death unto death? but to the others the odour of life unto And for these things who is so sufficient?

17 For we are not as many adulterating the word of God, but with sincerity, but as from God, before God, in Christ we speak.

Or do we peed the seament ourselves? Or do we need (as some do) epistles of commendation to you, or from you?

2 You are our spistle, written in our hearts, which is known and read by all men :

3 Being manifested, that you are the cpistle of Christ, ministered by us, and written not with ink, but with the Spirit of the living God: not in tables of stone, but in the fleshy tables of the heart.

4 And such confidence we have, through Christ towards God.

5 Not that we are sufficient to think any thing of ourselves, as of ourselves; but our sufficiency is from God.

6 Who also liath made us fit ministers of the new testament, not in the letter, but in the spirit. For the letter killeth: but the spirit quickeneth.

7 Now if the ministration of death, engraven with letters upon stones, was glorious; so that the children of Israel could not steadfastly behold the face of Moses, for the glory of his counrenance, which is made void :

part was not glorified, by reason of the glory that excelleth.

11 For if that which is done away, was givrious: much more that which remaineth is in glory.

12 Having therefore such hope, we use my confidence.

13 * And not as Moses put a veil upon his face that the children of Israel might not steadfastly look on the face of that which is made void,

14 But their senses were made dull. For, until this present day, the self-same veil, in the reading of the old testament, remaineth not taken away (because in Christ it is made void.)

15 But eve until this day when Moses is read, , e veil is upon their heart.

16 But when they shall be converted to the Lord, the veil shall be taken away.

17 † Now the Lord is a Spirit. And where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty.

The sincerity of his preaching: hie comfort in his aflictions

WIEREFORE seeing we have this ministration, according as we have obtained mercy, we faint not,

2 But we renounce the hidden things of dishonesty, not walking in craftiness, nor adulterating the word of God, but by manifestation of the truth commending ourselves to every man's conscience, in the sight of God.

3 And if our gospel be also hid; it is hid to them that are lost,

4 In whom the god of this world hath blinded the minds of unbelievers, that the light of the gospel of the glory of Christ, who is the image of God, should not shine unto them.

5 For we preach not ourselves, but JEST . Christ our Lord; and ourselves your servan .

through Jesus.

6 For God who commanded the light to shire out of darkness, hath shined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God, in the face of Christ JESUS.

7 But we have this treasure in earthen vessels, that the excellency may be of the power of God, and not of us.

8 In all things we suffer tribulation, but are not distressed: we are straitened, but are not destitute:

9 We suffer persecution, but are not forsaken we are cast down, but we perish not.

10 Always bearing about in our body the mortification of Jasus, that the life also of Jasus may be made manifest in our bodies.

11 For we who live are always delivered unto death for Jesus' sake: that the life also of Jesus may be made manifest in our mortal flesh. 12 So then death worketh in us, but life in you.

13 But having the same spirit of faith, as it is written: ‡ I believed, for which cause I have spoken: we also believe, for which cause we speak also:

16 For which cause we faint not: but though our outward man is corrupted: yet the inward man is renewed day by day.

17 For that which is at present momentary and light of our tribulation, worketh for us above measure exceedingly an eternal weight of glory.

"As apostle's affection for the Corinthians: his comfort and joy on their account.

AVING therefore these promises, dearly be-loved, let us cleanse ourselves from all defilement of the ficsh and of the spirit, perfecting sanctification in the fear of God.

2 Receive us. We have injured no man, we have corrupted no man, we have over-reached no man.

3 I speak not this to your condemnation. For we have said before, that you are in our hearts, to die together, and to live together.

4 Great is my confidence with you, great is my glorying for you. I am filled with comfort; I exceedingly abound with joy in all our tribulation.

5 For also when we were come into Macedonia, our flesh had no rest, but we suffered all tribulation: combats without, fears within.

6 But God who comforteth the humble, comforted us by the coming of Titus.

7 And not by his coming only, but also by the consolation, wherewith he was comforted in you, relating to us your desire, your mourning, your zeal for me, so that I rejoiced the more.

8 For although I made you sorrowful by my epistle, I do not repent : and if I did repent, secing that the same epistle (although but for a time) did make you sorrowful:

9 Now I am glad: not because you were made sorrowful; but because you were made sorrowful unto penance. For you were made sorrowful according to God, that you might suffer damage by us in nothing.

10 † For the sorrow that is according to God worketh penance steadfast unto salvation: but the sorrow of the world worketh death.

11 For behold this self-same thing, that you were made sorrowful according to God, how great carefulness it worketh in you: yea defence, ea indignation, yea fear, yea desire, yea zeal, yea revenge: in all things you have shewed your-selves to be undefiled in the matter.

12 Wherefore although I wrote to you, it was not for his sake that did the wrong, not for him that suffered it: but to manifest our carefulness that we have for you,

13 Before God: therefore we were comforted. But in our consolation we did the more abundantly rejoice for the joy of Titus, because hir spirit was refreshed by you all.

14 And if I have boasted any thing to him of you, I have not been put to shame, but as we have spoken all things to you in truth, so also our boasting that was made to Titus, is found truth.

142

Now we make known unto you, oretneen, the grace of God, that hath been given in the churches of Macedonia,

2 That in much experience of tribulation they have had abundance of joy, and their very deces poverty hath abounded unto the riches of their simplicity.

3 For according to their power (I bear them witness,) and beyond their power they were willing.

4 With much entreasy begging of us the grace and communication of the ministry that is dong toward the saints.

5 And not as we hoped, but they gave their own selves first to the Lord, then to us by the will of God:

6 Insomuch, that we desired Titus, that as he had begun, so also he would finish among you this same grace.

7 That as in all things you abound in faith, and word, and knowledge, and all carefulness; morcover also in your charity towards us, so in this grace also you may abound.

8 I speak not as commanding: but by the carefulness of others, approving also the good disposition of your charity.

9 For you know the grace of our Lord Jesus Curist, that being rich he became poor, for our sakes; that through his poverty you might be rich.

10 And herein I give my advice: for this is profitable for you, who have begun not only to do, but also to be willing, a year ago:

11 Now therefore perform ye it also in deed; that, as your mind is forward to be willing, so it may be also to perform, cut of that which you

12 For if the will be forward, it is accepted according to that which a man hath, not according to that which he hath not.

A further exhortation to almsgiving : the fruits of it. OR concerning the ministry, that is done towards the saints, it is superfluous for me to write unto you.

2 For I know your forward mind: for which I boast of you to the Macedonians. That Achaia also is ready from the year past, and your emulation hath provoked very many.

3 Now I vave sent the brethren, that the thing which we boast of concerning you, be not made void in this behalf, that (as I have said) you may be ready:

4 Lest, when the Macedonians shall come with me, and find you unprepared, we (not to say ye) should be ashamed in this matter.

Therefore I thought it necessary to desire the brethren that they would go to you before, and prepare this plessing before promised, to be ready, so as a blessing, not as covetousness.

6 Now this I say: He who soweth sparingly, shall also reap sparingly: and he who soweth in blessings, shall also reap of blessings.

7 Every one as he hath determined in his heart, not with sadness, or of necessity: * For God loveth a cheerful giver.

8 And God is able to make all grace abound in you: that ye always having all sufficiency in all things may abound to every good work,

10 And he that ministereth seed to the sower, will both give you bread to eat, and will multiply your seed, and increase the growth of the fruits of your justice:

11 That being enriched in all things, you may abound unto all simplicity, which worketh through us thanksgiving to God.

12 Because the administration of this office doth not only supply the want of the saints, but aboundeth also by many thanksgivings in the Lord,

13 By the proof of this ministry, glorifying God for the obedience of your confession unto the gospel of Christ, and for the simplicity of your communicating unto them, and unto all,

God in you.

with I am thought to be bold, against some who reckon us as if we walked according to the flesh.

3 For though we walk in the flesh, we do not war according to the flesh.

8 For if also I should boast somewhat more of our power, which the Lord hath given us unto edification, and not for your destruction :

I should not be ashamed.

& Past that I may not be thought as it were to terrify for by epistles.

15 (For his epistles indeed, say they, are weighty and strong; but his bodily presence is weak, and his speech contemptible,)

11 Let such a one think this, that such as we are in word by espistles, when absent; such also we will be indeed when present.

12 For we dare not match, or compare ourselves with some, that commend themselves: but we measure ourselves by ourselves, and compare ourselves with ourselves.

13 ‡ But we will not glory beyond our measure: but according to the measure of the rule. which God hath measured to us, a measure to reach even unto you.

14 For we stretch not out ourselves beyond eur measure, as if we reached not unto you. For we are come as far as to you in the gospel of Christ.

15 Not glorying beyond measure in other men's labours : but having hope of your increasing faith, to be magnified in you according to our rule abundantly,

4 For if he that cometh preacheth another Christ, whom we have not preached; or if you roceive another spirit, whom you have not received; or another gospel, which you have not received; you might well bear with him.

5 For I suppose that I have done nothing less than the great apostles.

6 For although I be rude in speech, yet not in knowledge: but in all things we have been made manifest to you.

7 Ordid I commit a fault, humbling myself, that you might be exalted? Because . preached unto you the gospel of God freely?

8 I have taken from other churches, receiving wages of them for your ministry.

9 And, when I was present with you, and wanted, I was chargeable to no man: for that which was wanting to me, the brethren supplied who came from Macedonia: and in all things I have kept myself from being burthensome to you, and so I will keep myself.

10 The truth of Christ is in me, that this glorying shall not be broken off in me in the regions of Achaia.

11 Wherefore? Because I love you not? God knoweth it.

12 But what I do, that I will do, that I may cut off the occasion from them that desire occasion, that wherein they glory, they may be found even as we.

13 For such false aposties are decitful workmen, transforming themselves into the apostles of Christ.

14 And no wonder: for Satan himself trans-formeth himself into an angel of light.

15 Therefore it is no great thing if his ministers be transformed as the ministers of justice: whose end shall be according to their works.

16 Again I say, (let no man think me to be foolish, otherwise take me as foolish, that I also hay glory a little,) 17 That which I speak, I speak not according to God, but as it were in foolishness, in this matter of glorying.

18 Seeing that many glory according to the flesh, I will glory also.

19 For you gladly suffer the foolish: whereas yourselves are wise.

20 For if you suffer if a man bring you into bondage, if a man devour you, if a man take from you, if a man be lifted up, if a man strike you on the face.

21 I speak according to dishonour, as if we had been weak in this part. Wherein if any man dare (I speak foolishly) I dare also.

22 They are Hebrews: so am I. They are Israelites: so am I. They are the seed of Abraham: so am I.

things that concern my infirmity. 31 The God and Father of our Lord JESUS CHRIST, who is blessed for ever, knoweth that I lie not.

CHAP. XII.

FI must glory (it is not expedient mudeed # but I will come to the visions and revelations of the Lord.

knoweth:)

4 That he was caught up into paradise; and heard secret words, which it is not granted to man to utter.

5 For such an one I will glory: but for myself I will glory nothing, but in my infirmities.
6 For though I should have a mind to glory,

I shall not be foolish: for I will say the truth. But I forbear, lest any man should think of me above that which he secth in me, or any thing he heareth from me.

7 And lest the greatness of the revelations should exalt me, there was given me a sting of my flesh, an angel of Satan, to buffet me. 8 For which thing thrice I besought the 11 Iam become foolish: you have com-pelled me. For I ought to have been commended by you : for I have no way come short of them that are above measure apostles: al-

12 Yet the signs of my apostleship have been wrought on you, in all patience, in signs, and wonders, and mighty deeds.

13 For what is there that you have had less than the other churches; but that I myself was not burthensome to you? Pardon me this injury.

14 Behold now the third time I am ready to

3 Do you seek a proof of Christ that speaks 12 in me, who towards you is not weak, but & mighty in you?

4 For although he was crucified through weakness: yet he liveth by the power of God. For we also are weak in him : but we shall live with him by the power of God towards you.

5 Try your ownselves if you be in the faith: prove ye yourselves. Know you not your ownselves, that Christ Jesus is in you, unless per-

6 But I trust that you shall know that we are not reprobates.

7 Now we pray God, that you may do no evil, not that we may appear approved, but that you may do that which is good, and that we may be as reprobates.

8 For we can do nothing against the truth;

but for the truth.

9 For we rejoice, that we are weak, and you are strong. This also we pray for, your per fection.

10 Therefore I write these things being absent, that, being present, I may not deal more severely, according to the power which the Lord hath given me unto edification, and not unto destruction.

11 For the rest, brethren, rejoice, be perfect, take exhortation, be of one mind, have peace and the God of peace and of love shall be with you.

saints salute you.

EPISTLE OF ST. PAUL TO THE GALATIANS

The Galatians, soon after St. Faul had preached the Gospel to them, were seduced by some false teachers, who had been Jews, and who were for obligang all Christians, even those who had been Gentiles, to observe circumcision, and the other ceremonies of the Mosaical law. In this Epistle he refutes the pernicious doctrine of those teachers, and also their calumny against his mission and apostleship. The subject matter of this Epistle, is much the same as us that to the Romans. It was written at Ephesus about twenty-three years after our Lord's Ascension.

CHAP. L.

He blames the Galatians for suffering themselves to be im-posed upon by new teachers: The apostie's calling. PAUL an apostle, not of men, neither by man, but by JESUS CHRIST, and God the Father, who raised him from the dead, 2 And all the brethren who are with me, to the churches of Galatia.

3 Grace be to you and peace from God the Father, and from our Lord Jesus Christ,

4 Who gave himself for our sins, that he might deliver us from this present wicked world, according to the will of God and our Father:

5 To whom is glory for ever and ever. Amen. 6 I wonder that you are so soon removed, from him that called you into the grace of Christ, unto another gospel.

7 Which is not another, only there are some that trouble you, and would pervert the gospet of Christ. 8 But though we, or an angel from heaven, preach a gospel to you besides that which we have preached to you, let him be anathema.

9 As we said before, so now I say again: If any one preach to you a gospel, besides that which you have received, let him be anathems,

10 For do I now persuade men, or God? Om do I seek to please men? If I yet pleased mon. I should not be the servant of Christ.

11 * For I give you to understand, brethren that the gospel which was preached by me th rot according to man.

12 † For neither did I receive it of man, nor did I learn it; but by the revolation of Jesus CHRIST.

19 My little children, of whom I am in labour Igain, until Christ be formed in you.

20 And I would willingly be present with ou now, and change my voice . because I am ashamed for you.

21 Tell me, you that desire to be under the law, have you not read the law?

22 For it is written that Abraham had two sons: * the one by a bond-woman, † and the other by a free-woman.

23 But he who was of the bond-woman, was born according to the flesh: but he of the free-woman, was by promise.

24 Which things are said by an allegory. For these are the two testaments. The one from mount Sina, engendering unto bondage; Which is Agar:

25 For Sina is a mountain in Arabia, which hath affinity to that Jerusalem which now is,

and is in bondage with her children.

26 But that Jerusalem, which is above, is free; which is our mother.

27 For it is written: ‡ Rejoice, thou barren, that bearest not : break forth and cry, thou that travailest not . for many are the children of the desolate, more than of her that hath a husband:

28 § Now we, brethren, as Isaac was, are the children of promise.

29 But as then he, that was born according to the flesh, persecuted him that was after the opirit; so also it is now.

30 But what saith the scripture? Cast out The bond-woman and her son : for the son of the bond-woman shall not be heir with the son of the free-woman.

31 So then, brethren, we are not the children of the bond-woman, but of the free: by the freedom wherewith Christ has made us free.

CHAP. V. He exhorts them to stand to their christian liberty. Of the fruits of the flesh, and of the spirit.

CTAND fast, and be not held again under the yoke of bondage.

2 | Behold, I Paul tell you, that if you be sircumcised, Christ shall profit you nothing.

- 3 And I testify again to every man circumrising himself, that he is a debtor to do the whole law
- 4 You are made void of Christ, you who are justified in the law; you are fallen from grace.

5 For we in spirit by faith, wait for the hope of justice.

6 For in Christ Jesus neither circumcision availeth anything, nor uncircumcision: but faith that worketh by charity.

7 You did run well, who hath hindered you,

That you should not obey the truth?

8 This persuasion is not from him that caileth you.

9 T A little leaven corrupteth the whole

10 I have confidence in you in the Lord: that you will not be of another mind: but he that troubleth you, shall bear the judgment, whosoever he be.

11 And I, brethren, if I yet preach circumcision, why do I yet suffer persecution? Then is the scandal of the cross mado void.

12 I would they were even cut off, who troulie you.

13 For you, brethren, have been called unto liberty: only make not liberty an occasion to the flesh, but by charity of the spirit serve one another.

14 For all the law is fulfilled in one word.

 Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. 15 But if you bite and devour one another!

take heed you be not consumed one of ane

16 I say then, # walk in the spirit, and you shall not fulfil the lusts of the flesh.

17 For the flesh lusteth against the spirit: and the spirit against the flesh; for these are contrary one to another: so that you do not the things that you would.

18 But if you are led by the spirit, you are not under the law.

19 Now the works of the flesh are manifest. which are, fornication, uncleanness, immodesty luxury,

20 Idolatry, witchcrafts, enmities, contentions, emulations, wraths, quarrels, dissensions, sects,

21 Envies, murders, drunkenness, revellings, and such like. Of the which I foretel you, as I have foretold to you, that they who do such things shall not obtain the kingdom of God.

22 But the fruit of the Spirit is, charity, joy, peace, patience, benignity, goodness, longani-

CHAP. VI. He exhorts to charity, humility, &c. He g but in the cross of Christ.

BRETHREN, and if a man be overtaken in any fault, you, who are spiritual, instruct such a one in the spirit of meekness, considering thyself, lest thou also be tempted.

2 Bear ye one another's burdens: and so you shall fulfil the law of Christ.

3 For if any man think himself to be something, whereas he is nothing, he deceiveth himself.

4 But let every one prove his own work, and so he shall have glory in himself only, and no in another.

5 ‡‡ For every one shall bear his own burden. 6 And let him that is instructed in the word, communicate to him, that instructeth him, in all good things.

7 Be not deceived, God is not mocked.

8 For what things a man shall sow, those also shall he reap. For he that soweth in his flesh, of the flesh also shall reap corruption. But he, that soweth in the spirit, of the spirit shall reap life everlasting.

9 §§ And in doing good, let us not fail. For in due time we shall reap, not failing.

10 Therefore, whilst we have time, let us work good to all men, but especially to those who are of the honseheld of the faith.

11 See what a letter I have written to you with my own hand.

only that they may not suffer the persecution of the cross of Christ.

13 For neither they themselves who are circumcised, keep the law: but they will have you to be circumcised, that they may glory in 7our flesh.

14 But God forbid that I should glory, save in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ; by whom the world is crucified to me, and I to the world.

15 For in Christ JESUS neither circumcision availeth arything, nor uncircumcision, but a new creature.

16 And whosoever shall follow this rule, peace on them, and mercy, and upon the Israel of God.

17 From henceforth let no man be troublesome to me.

For I bear the marks of the Lord JESUS in my body.

EPISTLE OF ST. PAUL TO THE EPHESIANS.

Ephesus was the capital of Lesser Asia, and celebrated for the temple of Diana, to which the most part of the people of the East went frequently to worship. But Sr. PAUL having preached the Gosnel there for two years the first time, and afterwards for about a year, converted many. He wrote this Phistle to them when he was a prisoner in Kome, and sent it by Tychicus. He admonishes them to hold firmly the Futh which they had received, and warns them, and also those of the neighbouring cities, against the sophistry of philosophers and the doctriar of false teachers, who were come among them. The matters of Frith contained in this Epite are exceedingly subline, and consequently very difficult to be understood. It was written about twenty-nine years after our Lord's Ascension.

CHAP. I.

The great blessings we have received through Christ. He PAUL an apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, to all the saints who are at Ephesus, and to the faithful in Christ Jesus.

2 Grace be to you and peace from God the Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 * Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who hath blessed us with epiritual blessings in heavenly places, in Christ.

4 As he chose us in him before the foundation of the world, that we should be holy and unepotted in his sight in charity.

5 Who hath predestinated us unto the adoption of children through Jesus Christ unto himself; according to the purpose of his will:
6 Unto the praise of the glory of his grace, in which he hath graced us in his beloved Son.

7 In whom we have redemption through his blood, the remission of sins, according to the riches of his grace,

8 Which hath super-abounded in us in all wisdom and prudence,

9 That he might make known unto us the mystery of his will, according to his good pleasure, which he hath purposed in him, 10 In the dispensation of the fulness of times, to re-establish all things in Christ, that are in heaven and on earth, in him,

11 In whom we also are called by lot, being predestinated according to the purpose of him. who worketh all things according to the counsel of his-will.

12 That we may be unto the praise of his glory, we who before hoped in Christ:

13 In whom you also, after you had heard the word of truth (the gospel of your salvation:) in whom also believing you were signed with the holy Spirit of promise, 14 Who is the pledge of our inheritance, unto *2 Cor. 1. 3. 3 Pet. 1. 3.—† Infra. 3. 7.—; Ps. 8. 8.— 6 Col. 2. 13.

the redemption of acquisition, unto the praise of his glory.

15 Wherefore I also hearing of your faith that is in the Lord Jesus, and of your love towards all the saints,

16 Cease not to give thanks for you, making commemoration of you in my prayers,

17 That the God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of glory, may give unto you the spirit of wisdom and of revelation, in the know ledge of him,

18 The eyes of your heart enlightened, that you may know what the hope is of his calling, and what are the riches of the glory of his in heritance in the saints,

19 And what is the exceeding greatness of his power towards us, who believe † according to the operation of the might of his power, 20 Which he wrought in Christ, raising him np from the dead, and setting him on his right hand in the heavenly places, 21 Above all principality, and power, virtue, and dominion, and every name that is named not only in this world, but also in that which is to come.

CHAP. II.
All our good comes through Christ. Ke is cur peace. A ND & you, when you were dead in your of fences and sins,

2 Wherein in time past you walked according to the course of this world, according to the prince of the power of this air, of the spirit that now worketh on the children of unbelief,

3 In which also we all conversed in time past in the desires of our flesh, fulfilling the will of the flesh and of our thoughts, and were by nature children of wrath, even as the rest:

4 But God, (who is rich in mercy) for his excecding charity wherewith he loved us,

E Even when we were dead in sing hath quickened us together in Christ, (by whose grace you are saved,) 6 And hath raised us up together, and hath made us sit together in the heavenly places

through Christ Jesus.
7 That he might shew in the ages to come the abundant riches of his grace, in his bounty towards us in Christ Jesus.

8 For by grace you are saved through faith, and that not of yourselves, for it is the gift of God;"

9 Not of works, that no man may glory. 10 For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus in good works, which God hath repared that we should walk in them.

11 For which cause be mindful that you being heretofore gentiles in the flesh, who are called uncircumcision by that which is called circumcision in the flesh, made by hands:

12 That you were at that time without Christ, being aliens from the conversation of Israel, and strangers to the testament, having no hope of the promise, and without God in this world.

13 But now in Christ Jesus, you, who some time were afar off, are made nigh by the blood of Christ.

14 For he is our peace, who hath made both one, and breaking down the middle wall of partition, the enmittes in his flesh:

15 Making void the law of commandments contained in decrees: that he might make the two in himself into one new man, making peace,

16 And might reconcile both to God in one body by the cross, killing the enmittee in himself.

17 And coming, he preached peace to you that were coming.

that were afar off, and peace to them that were nigh.

18 * For by him we have access both in one

18 * For by him we have access both in one

Spirit to the Father.

19 Now therefore you are no more strangers and foreigners: but you are fellow-citizens with the saints, and the domestics of God,

20 Built upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Jesus Christ himself being the chief corner-stone:

21 In whom all the building, being framed together, groweth up into an holy temple in the Lord.

22 In whom you also are built together into an habitation of God in the Spirit.

CHAP. III.

The mystery hidden from former ages was discovered to the aposte, to be imparted to the tradities. He prays that they may be strengthened in God.

OR this cause, I Paul the prisoner of Jesus Christ, for you gentiles:

2 If yet you have heard of the dispensation of the grace of God, which is given me towards you:

3 How that according to revelation, the mystery has been made known to me, as I have written above in a few words:

4 As you reading may understand my knowledge in the mystery of Christ,

5 Which in other generations was not known to the sons of men, as it is now revealed to his holy apostles, and prophets in the Spirit.

6 That the gentiles should be fellow-heira, and of the same body and copartners of his promise in Christ Jesus by the gospel:

7 Of which I am made a minister according to the gift of the grace of God, which is given to me † according to the operation of his power.

8 ‡ To me, the least of all the saints, is given this grace, to preach among the gentiles the un-searchable riches of Christ,

9 And to enlighten all men, that they may see what is the dispensation of the mystery which hath been hidden from eternity in God, who created all things:

10 That the manifold wisdom of God may be made known to the principalities and powers in the heavenly places through the church,

11 According to the eternal purpose, which he made in Christ Jesus our Lord.

12 In whom we have boldness and access with confidence by the faith of him.

13 Wherefore I pray you not to faint at my tribulations for you, which is your glory.

14 For this cause I bow my knees to the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, 15 Of whom all paternity in heaven and earthis named.

16 That he would grant you, according to the riches of his glory, to be strengthened by his Spirit with might unto the inward man.

17 That Christ may dwell by faith in your hearts: that being rooted and founded in charity,

18 You may be able to comprehend, with all the saints, what is the breadth, and length, and height, and depth.

19 To know also the charity of Christ, which surpasseth all knowledge, that you may be filled unto all the fulness of God.

20 Now to him who is able to do all things more abundantly than we desire or understand, according to the power that worketh in us:

21 To him be glory in the church, and in Christ Jesus, unto all generations, world without end, Amen.

CHAP. IV.

He exhorts them to unity; to put on the new man; and to fly sin.

THEREFORE, a prisoner in the Lord. beseech you § that you walk worthy of thovocation in which you are called.

2 With all humility and mildness, with patience, supporting one another in charity,

3 || Careful to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace.

4 One body and one Spirit: as you are called in one hope of your calling.

5 One Lord, one faith, one baptism.

6 T One God and Father of all, who is above all, and through all, and in us all.

7  But to every one of us is given grace according to the measure of the giving of Christ.

8 Wherefore he saith: †† Ascending on high he led captivity captive: he gave gifts to men.

9 Now that he ascended, what is it, but because he also descended first into the lower parts of the earth?

10 He that descended is the same also that ascended above all the heavens, that he might fill all things.

150

11 And he gave some apostles, and some prophets, and other some evangelists, and other some pastors and doctors.

12 For the perfecting of the saints, for the work of the ministry, for the edifying of the body of Christ:

13 Until we all meet into the unity of faith, and or the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the age of the fulness of Christ:

14 That henceforth we be no more children tossed to and fro, and carried about with every wind of doctrine by the wickedness of men, by cunning craftiness by which they lie in wait to deceive.

15 But doing the truth in charity, we may in all things grow up in him who is the head, even 16 From whom the whole body, being compacted and fitly joined together, by what every joint supplieth, according to the operation in the measure of every part, maketh increase of the body unto the edifying of itself in charity.

17 † This then I say and testify in the Lord: that henceforward you walk not as also the gentiles walk in the vanity of their mind,

18 Having their understanding darkened, being alienated from the life of God through the ignorance that is in them, because of the blindness of their hearts,

19 Who despairing, have given themselves up to lasciviousness, unto the working of all un-cleanness, unto covetousness.

20 But you have not so learned Christ:

21 If so be that you have heard him, and have been taught in him, as the truth is in Jesus.

22 1 To put off, according to former conversation, the old man, who is corrupted according to the desire of error.

Exhortations to a virtuous life. The mutual duties of mans and wife, by the example of Christ, and of the church. BE ye therefore followers of God, as most dear children:

2 || And walk in love, as Christ also hath loved us, and hath delivered himself for us, an oblation and a sacrifice to God for an odour of sweetness.

3 ¶¶ But fornication and all uncleanness, or covetousness, let it not so much as be named among you, as becometh saints:

4 Or obscenity, or foolish talking, or scurrility, which is to no purpose: but rather giving of thanks.

5 For know ye this and understand that no fornicator, or unclean, or covetous person (which is a serving of idols,) hath inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and of God.

6  Let no man deceive you with vain words. For because of these things cometh the anger of God upon the children of unbelief.

Be ye not therefore partakers with them. 8 For you were heretofore darkness, but now light in the Lord. Walk then as children of the light.

9 For the fruit of the light is in all goodness, and justice, and truth:

10 Proving what is well-pleasing to God. 11 And have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather reprove them. 12 For the things that are done by them in secret, it is a shame even to speak of:

13 But all things that are reproved, are mada manifest by the light: for all, that is made manifest, is light.

14 Wherefore he saith: Rise thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead: and Christ shull enlighten thee.

15 See therefore, brethren, now you walk cir. cumspectly: ††† not as unwise, 16 But as wise: redeeming the time, because the days are evil.

17 ### Wherefore become not unwise, but un derstanding what is the will of God.

18 And be not drunk with wine, wherein iv luxury, but be ye filled with the holy Spirit, 19 Speaking to yourselves in psalms and hymns, and spiritual canticles, singing and making melody in your hearts to the Lord:

20 Giving thanks always for all things, in the. name of our Lord Jesus Christ, to God and the Father. 21 But subject one to another in the fear of Christ.

22 §§§ Let women be subject to their huchanda, as to the Lord:

23 || Because the husband is the head of the wife: as Christ is the head of the church. He is the saviour of his body.

24 Therefore as the church is subject to Christ, so also let the wives be to their husbands in all things.

25 To Husbands, love your wives, as Christ

26 That he might sanctify it, cleansing it by the laver of water in the word of life.

27 That he might present it to himself a gloclous church not having spot or wrinkle, or any such thing, but that it should be holy and without blemish.

28 So also ought men to love their wives as their own bodies. He that loveth his wife lovoth himself.

29 For no man ever hated his own flesh: but pourisheth and cherisheth it, as also Christ doth the church:

30 Because we are members of his body, of his flesh, and of his bones.

31 * For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother: and shall cleave to his wife, t and they shall be two in one flesh.

32 This is a great sacrament: but I speak in Christ and in the church.

33 Nevertheless let every one of you in particallar love his wife as himself : and let the wife fear her husband.

CHAP. VI.

be long-lived upon the earth. 4 And you fathers, provoke not your children to anger: but bring them up in the discipline and correction of the Lord.

5 § Servants, be obedient to them that are your lords according to the flesh, with fear and frembling, in the simplicity of your heart, as

6 Not serving to the eye, as it were pleasing men, but, as the servants of Christ, doing the will of God from the heart,

EPISTLE OF ST. PAUL TO THE PHILIPPIANS.

The Purlippians were the first among the Macedonians converted to the faith. They had a great veneration for Br.

PAUL, and supplied his wants when he was a prisoner in Rome, sending to him by Epaphroillus, by thom he and this Epistle; in which he recommends charity, unity and humility, and warms them against faise teaches, which he saw slogs, and enemies of the cross of Christ. He also returns thanks for their beneficitions. It was written about twenty-nine years after our Lord's Ascension.

3 I give thanks to my God in every remombrance of you

4 Always in all my prayers making supplication for you all, with joy;

5 For your communication in the gospel of Christ from the first day until now.

6 Being confident of this very thing, that he, who hath begun a good work in you, will per-feet it unto the day of Christ Jesus.

7 As it is meet for me to think this for you all: for that I have you in my heart; and that in my pands, and in the defence, and confirmation of the gospel, you all are partakers of my joy.

8 For God is my witness, how I long after you all in the bowels of Jesus Christ.

9 And this I pray, that your charity may more and more abound in knowledge and in all anderstanding:

10 That you may approve the better things, that you may be sincere and without offence unto the day of Christ,

11 Filled with the fruit of justice through JESUS Christ, unto the glory and praise of God.

12 Now, brethren, I desire you should know, that the things which have happened to me have fallen out rather to the furtherance of the gospel.

13 So that my bonds are made manifest, in Christ, in all the court, and in all other places:

14 And many of the brethren in the Lord, growing confident by my bands, are much more bold to speak the word of God without fear.

15 Some indeed even out of envy and contention: but some also for good-will preach * mrist :

16 Some out of charity: knowing that I am set for the defence of the gospel.

17 And some out of contention preach Christ not sincerely: supposing that they raise affliction to my bands.

18 But what then? So that by all means, whether by occasion, or by truth, Christ be preached: in this also I rejoice, yea, and will rejoice.

19 For I know that this shall fall out to me anto salvatien, through your prayer, and the supply of the Spirit of Jesus Christ,

20 According to my expectation and hope; that in nothing I shall be confounded, but with all confidence, as always, so now also shall Christ be magnified in my body, whether it be by life, or by death.

21 For to me, to live is Christ: and to die is gain.

22 And if to live in the flesh, this is to me the fruit of labour, and what I shall choose I know not.

23 But I am straitened between two; having a desire to be dissolved and to be with Christ, a thing by far the better.

2 Fulfil ye my joy, that you be of one mind, having the same charity, being of one accord, agreeing in sentiment.

3 Let nothing be done through contention, neither by vain-glory: but in humility, let each esteem others oetter than themselves:

4 Each one not considering the things that are his own, but those that are other men's.

5 For let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus:

6 Who being in the form of God, thought it not robbery, to be equal with God:

7 But emptied himself, taking the form of a servant, being made in the likeness of men, and in habit found as a man.

8 † He humbled himself, becoming obediens unto death: even to the death of the cross.

- 9 For which cause God also hath exalted him, and hath given him a name which is above all names:
- 10 ‡ That in the name of Jesus every knce should bow, of those that are in heaven, on earth, and under the earth.
- 11 And that every tongue should confess that the Lord JESUS CHRIST is in the glory of God the Father.
- 12 Wherefore, my dearly beloved, (as you have always obeyed) not as in my presence only, but much more now in my absence with fear and trembling work out your salvation.

13 For it is God who worketh in you both to will and to accomplish, according to his good will.

14 § And do ye all things without murmurings and hesitations:

To That you may be blameless, and sincere children of God, without reproof, in the midst of a crooked and perverse generation: among whom you shine as lights in the world, 16 Holding forth the word of life to my glory in the day of Christ, because I have not run in vain, nor laboured in vain.

17 Yea, and if I be made a victim upon the sacrifice and service of your faith, I rejoice and congratulate with you all.

18 And for the self-same thing do you also rejoice, and congratulate with me,

19 And I hope in the Lord Justic, I to send "imothy unto you shortly, that I also may be cerning you. 20 For I have no man so of the same mind, who with sincere affection is solicitous for you.

21 * For all seek the things that are their swn; not the things that are Jesus Christ's.

22 Now knew ye the proof of him, that as a son with the father, so hath he served with me in the gospel.

23 Him therefore I hope to send unto you Immediately, so soon as I shall see how it will go with me.

24 And I trust in the Lord, that I myself also shall come to you shortly.

25 But I have thought it necessary to send to you Epaphroditus my brother and fellowlabourer and fellow-soldier, but your apostle, and he that hath ministered to my wants.

26 For indeed he longed after you all: and was sad, for that you had heard, that he was

28 Therefore I sent him the more speedily; that, seeing him again, you may rejoice, and I may be without sorrow.

29 Receive him therefore with all joy in the Lord: and treat with honour such as he is.

30 Because for the work of Christ, he came to the point of death: delivering his life, that be might fulfil that which on your part was wanting towards my service.

EPISTLE OF ST. PAUL TO THE COLOSSIANS.

COLOSSA was a city of Phrygia, near Luddiesa. It does not appear that Sr. PAUL had proached there himself, but that the Colossans were occurred by Epaphras, a disciple of the Apostles. However, as Sr. PAUL was the great Apostle of the Geneties, he wrote this Epissile to the Colossans when he was in prison, and about the same time that he wrote to the Ephesians and Philippunss. The exhortations and doctrine it contains are similar to that which we set forth in his Epistle to the Ephesians.

This is certain that they whom the apostle here condemns, did not hold the head, (ver. 19.) that is, Jesus Christ, and his mediatorship: and therefore what he writes here no ways touches the Catholic doctrine and practice, of desiring our good angels to pray to God for us, through Jesus Christ. of the other epistles of St. Paul; therefore it cannot be considered even as a part of that epistle. Others ex-plain that the text means a letter sent to St. Paul by the Laodiceans, which he sends to the Colossians to be read by them. However, this opinion does not seem well founded. Hence it is more probable that St. Paul wrote en epistle from Rome to the Laddiceans about the same time that he wrote to the Colosians, as he and them both equally at heart, and that he ordered that epistle thessalonica was the capital of Macedonia, in which St. PAUL having preached the Gospel, converted some Jews and a great number of the Gentles: but the unbelieving Jews, envying his success, raised such a commotion against him, that he and his companion Sylvanus were obliged to quit the city. Afterwards went to Atkens where he had heard that the converts in Thessalonica were under a severe persecution ever since his departure, and lest they should lose their fortitude he sent Timothy to strengthen and comfort them in their sufferings. In the mean time St. PAUL came to Corinth, where he wrote this first Epistle, and also the second to the THESSALONIANS, both in the same year, being the nineteenth after our Lord's Ascension. These are the first of his Epistles in the order of time.

FIRST EPISTLE OF ST. PAUL TO THE THESSALONIANS.

CHAP. I. To gives thanks for the graces bestowed on the Thessalo-

PAUL and Sylvanus and Timothy: to the church of the Thessalonians, in God the Father, and in the Lord Jesus Christ.

2 Grace be to you and peace. We give thanks to God always for you all; making a remembrance of you in our prayers without ceasing,

3 Being mindful of the work of your faith, and labour, and charity, and of the enduring of the hope of our Lord Jesus Christ before God and our Father:

4 Knowing, brethren beloved of God, your election:

5 For our gospel hath not been unto you in word only, but in power also, and in the Holy Shost, and in much fulness, as you know what manner of men we have been among you for your sakes.

6 And you became followers of us, and of the Lord; receiving the word in much tribulation, with joy of the Holy Ghost:

7 So that you were made a pattern to all that believe in Macedonia and in Achaia.

8 For from you was spread abroad the word of the Lord, not only in Macedonia and in Achaia, but also in every place, your faith which is towards God, is gone forth, so that we need not to speak any thing.

9 For they themselves relate of us, what manher of entering in we had unto you; and how you turned to God from idols, to serve the living and true God.

and been shamefully treated (as you know) at Philippi, * we had confidence in our God, to speak unto you the gospel of God in much carefulness.

3 For our exhortation was not of error, nor of uncleanness, nor in deceit,

4 But as we were approved by God that the gospel should be committed to us': even so we speak, not as pleasing men, but God, who proveth our hearts.

5 For neither have we used, at any time, the speech of flattery, as you know; nor taken an occasion of covetousness, God is witness:

6 Nor sought we glory of men, neither of you, nor of others.

7 Whereas we might have been burdensome to you, as the apostles of Christ: but we became little ones in the midst of you, as if a nurse should cherish her children:

8 So desirous of you, we would gladly impart unto you not only the gospel of God, but also our own souls: because you were become most dear unto ns.

9 For you remember, brethren, our labour and toil : † working ni-ht and day lest we should be chargeable to an, of you, we preached among you the gospel of God.

10 You are witnesses, and God also, how holily, and justly, and without blame, we have been to you, that have believed:

11 As you know in what manner, entreating and comforting you, (as a father doth his children.)

12 We testified to every one of you that you would walk worthy of God, who hath called you unto his kingdom and glory.

13 Therefore we also give thanks to God without ceasing: because that when you had received of us the word of the hearing of God, you received it not as the word of men, but (as it is indeed) the word of God, who worketh in you that have believed.

14 For you, brethren, are become followers of the churches of God which are in Judge, in Christ Jesus: for you also have suffered the some things from your own countrymen, even 148 they have from the Jews,

15 Who both killed the Lord Jesus, and the prophets, and have persecuted us, and please not God, and are adversaries to all men,

16 Prohibiting us to speak to the gentiles that they may be saved, to fill up their sins always: for the wrath of God is come upon them to the end.

17 But we, brethren, being taken away from you for a short time, in sight, not in heart, have hastened the more abundantly to see your face with great desire.

18 For we would have come unto you, I Paul indeed, once and again: but satan hath hindered us.

19 For what is our hope, or joy, or crown of giory? Are not you, in the presence of our Lord Jesus Christ at his coming?

20 For you are our glory and joy. CHAP. III.

The apostle's concern and love for the Thessalonians. OR which cause forbearing no longer, we thought it good to remain at Athens, alone,

2 * And we sent Timothy our brother, and the minister of God in the gospel of Christ, to confirm you and exhort you concerning your faith.

3 That no man should be moved in these tribulations: for yourselves know, that we are appointed thereunto.

4 For even when we were with you, we foretold you that we should suffer tribulations, as also it is come to pass, and you know.

5 For this cause also I, forbearing no longer, sent to know your faith: lest perhaps he that tempteth, should have tempted you, and our labour should be made vain.

6 But now when Timothy came to us from you, and related to us your faith and charity, and that you have a good remembrance of us always, desiring to see us, as we also to see you:

7 Therefore we were comforted, brethren, in you, in all our necessity, and tribulation, by your faith,

8 Because now we live, if you stand in the Lord.

9 For what thanks can we return to God for you, in all the joy wherewith we rejoice for you before our God,

10 Night and day more abundantly praying that we may see your face, and may accomplish those things that are wanting to your faith?

11 New God himself and our Father, and our Lord Jesus Christ direct our way unto you.

12 And may the Lord multiply you, and thake you abound in charity towards one auother, and towards all men: as we do also towards you,

13 To confirm your hearts without blame, in holiness, before God and our Father, at the coming of our Lord Jasus Christ with all his

OR the rest therefore, brethren, we pray and besecch you in the Lord Jesus, that as you have received of us, how you ought to walk and to please God, so also you would walk, that you may abound the more.

2 For you know what precepts I have given to you by the Lord JESUS.

3 † For this is the will of God, your sanctiffcation: that you should abstain from fornication,

4 That every one of you should know how to possess his vessel in sanctification and honour: 5 Not in the passion of lust, like the gentiles that know not God:

6 And that no man over-reach, nor circumvent his brother in business: because the Lord is the avenger of all these things, as we have told you before, and have testified.

7 For God hath not called us unto unclean ness, but unto sanctification.

8 Therefore he that despiseth these things, despiseth not man but God: who also hath given his holy Spirit in us.

9 But as touching the charity of brotherhood, we have no need to write to you: $ for yourselves have learned of God to love one another.

10 For indeed you do it towards all the brethren in all Macedonia. But we entreat you, brethren, that you abound more:

11 And that you use your endeavour to be quiet, and that you do your own business, and work with your own hands, as we commanded you: and that you walk honestly towards there that are without; and that you want nothing of any man's.

12 And we will not have you ignorant, brethren, concerning them that are asleep, that you be not sorrowful, even as others who have no hope.

13 For if we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so them who have slept through JESUS will God bring with him.

14 For this we say unto you in the word of the Lord, § that we who are alive, who remain unto the coming of the Lord, shall not prevent them who have slept,

15 For the Lord himself shall come down from heaven with commandment, and with the voice of an Arch-angel, and with the trumpet of God: and the dead who are in Christ, shall rise first 16 Then we who are alive, who are left, shall be taken up together with them in the clouds to meet Christ, into the air, and so shall we be always with the Lord.

17 Wherefore comfort 70 one another with these words.

CHAP. V.
The day of the Lord shall come, when least expected. Exhortutions to several duties.

BUT of the times and moments, brethren, you need not that we should write to you.

2 || For yourselves know perfectly, that the day of the Lord shall so come, as a thief in the night.

3 For when they shall say, peace and security; then shall sudden destruction come upon them as the pains upon her that is with child, and they shall not escape.

4 But you, brethren, are not in darkness; that that day should overtake you as a thief,

5 For all you are the children of light, and children of the day: we are not of the night n of darkness.

3 Therefore let us not sleep as others do : but let us watch and be sober.

7 For they that sleep, sleep in the night; and they that are drunk, are drunk in the night.

8 But let us, who are of the day, be sober, * having on the breast-plate of faith and charity, and for a helmet, the hope of salvation.

9 For God hath not appointed us unto wrath, but unto the purchasing of salvation by our Lord Jesus Christ,

10 Who died for us: that, whether we watch or sleep, we may live together with him.

11 For which cause comfort one another: and edify one another, as you also do.

12 And we beseech you, brethren, to know them who labour among you, and are over you by the Lord, and admonish you:

13 That you esteem them more abundantly In charity for their work's sake. Have peace with them.

SECOND EPISTLE OF ST. PAUL TO THE THESSALONIANS.

In this Epistle St. PAUL admonistrs the Thessalonians to be constant in the faith of Christ, and not to be terrifted by the instinuations of false teaches "elling them that the day of judgment was near at hand, as there must come many signs and wonders before it. He but s them to hold firm the traditions received from him, whether by word, or by epistle, and shows them how they may be certain of his letters by the manner he writes.

CHAP. I.

AUL and Sylvanus and Timothy, to the church of the Thessalonians in God our Father, and the Lord JESUS Christ.

2 Grace unto you and peace from God our Father and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 We are bound to give thanks always to God for you, brethren, as it is fitting, because your faith groweth exceedingly, and the cha rity of every one of you towards each other shoundeth:

4 So that we ourselves also glory in you in the churches of God, for your patience, and faith, and in all your persecutions, and tribulations, which you endure.

5 For an example of the just judgment of God, that you may be counted worthy of the kingdom of God, for which also you suffer.

6 Seeing it is a just thing with God, to repay tribulation to them that trouble you:

7 And to you who are troubled, rest with us when the Lord Jesus shall be revealed from heaven with the angels of his power :

8 In a flame of fire rielding vengeance to them who know not God, and who obey not the cospel of our Lord Jesus Chrict.

11 Wherefore also we pray always for you. that our God would make you worthy of his vocation, and fulfil all the good pleasure of his goodness and the work of faith in power, 12 That the name of our Lord Jesus may be glorified in you, and you in him, according to the grace of our God, and of the Lord JESUS Christ.

CHAP. II.

The day of the Lord is not to come, till the man of sin be revealed. The apostles' traditions are to be observed. ND we beseech you, brethren, by the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, and of our gathering together unto him;

2 That you be not easily moved from your mind, nor be frighted, neither by spirit, nor by word, nor by epistle, as sent from us, as if the day of the Lord were at hand.

3 * Let no man deceive you by any means: for unless there come a revolt first, and the man of sin be revealed, the son of perdition, Lord Jesus Christ.

by word, or by our epistle.

FIRST EPISTLE OF ST. PAUL TO TIMOTHY.

9r. Paul writes this Epistle to his BELOVED TIMOTHY, being then bishop of Ephesus, to instruct him in the dulisor of a bishop, both in respect to himself and to his charge; and that he ought to be well informed of the good morals of those on whom he was to impose hands: Impose not hands lightly upon any man. He tells him also how is should behave towards his clergy. This Epistle was written about thirty-three years after our Lord's Assaxiolitic, but where it was written is uncertain; the more general opinion is, that it was in Macedonia.

nd of Christ Jesus our hope:

2 * To Timothy his beloved son in faith. Hrace, mercy, and peace from God the Father, and from Christ Jesus our Lord.

3 As I desired thee to remain at Ephesus when I went into Macedonia, that thou mightast charge some not to teach otherwise,

- 4 † Nor to give heed to fables and genealogies without end: which minister questions rather than the edification of God which is in fuith.
- 5 Now the end of the commandment is chauty from a pure heart, and a good conscience, and an unfeigned faith.

6 From which things some going astray, are nrmed aside unto vain babbling :

7 Desiring to be teachers of the law, understanding neither the things they say, nor whereof they affirm.

8 1 But we knew that the law is good, if a man use it lawfully:

9 Knowing this, that the law was not made for the just man, but for the unjust and dis-obedient, for the ungodly, and for sinners, for the wicked and defiled, for murderers of fathers. and murderers of mothers, for man-slayers,

10 For fornicators, for them who defile themselves with mankind, for men-stealers, for liars, for perjured persons, and whatever other thing is contrary to sound doctrine,

11 Which is according to the gospel of the glory of the blessed God, which hath been comantted to my trust.

12 I give him thanks, who hath strengthened me, even to Christ Jesus our Lord, for that he bath counted me faithful, putting me in the ministry.

13 Who before was a blasphemer and a perrecutor and contumelions. But I obtained the nercy of God, because i did it ignorally in unbelief.

14 Now the grace of our Lord hath abounded exceedingly with faith and love which is in Christ Jesus.

15 A faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptation, § that Christ Jesus came into this world to save sinners, of whom I am the chief.

16 But for this cause have I obtained mercy: that in me first Christ Jesus might shew forth all patience, for the information of them that shall believe in him unto life everlasting.

17 Now to the king of ages, immortal, invisible, the only God, be honour and glory for ever and ever. Amen.

5 For there is one God, and one mediator of God and men, the man Christ Jesus:

But this is not against our seeking the prayers and intercession, as well of the faithful upon ear b, as of the sains and angels in heaven, for obtaining mercy, grace, and salvation through Jesus Christ. And St. Paul himself often desired the help of the prayers of the faithful without any injury to the mediatorship of Jesus Christ. CHAP, III. Ver. 2. Of one wife. The meaning is not that every bishop should have a wife (for St. Paul bimself had none,) but that no one should be admitted to the holy orders of bishop, prices or deadon, who had been married more than ance.

12 Let no man despise thy youth : but be the an example of the faithful, in word, in conver sation, in charity, in faith, in chastity. 13 Till I come, attend unto reading, to ex-

14 Neglect not the grace that is in theg which was given thee by prophecy, with imposition of the hands of the priesthood.

3 Honour widows, that are widows indeed. 4 But if any widow have children, or grandchildren; let her learn first to govern her own house, and to make a return of duty to her parents: for this is acceptable before God.

5 But she that is a widow indeed and desolate, let her trust in God, and continue in suppheations and prayers night and day.

6 For she that liveth in pleasures, is dead while she is living.

7 And this give in charge, that they may be blameless. 8 But if any man have not care of his own, an i especially of those of his house, he hath denied the faith, and is worse than an infidel. 9 Let a widow be chosen of no less than three-score years of age, who nath been the wife of one husband, 10 Having testimony for her good works, if she have brought up children, if she have received to harbour, if she have washed the saints' feet, if she have ministered to them that auffer tribulation, if she have diligently followed every good work.

11 But the younger widows avoid. For when they have grown wanton in Christ, they will mairy':

12 Having damnation, because they have made void their first faith.

13 And withal being idle they learn to go about from house to house: and are not only idle, out tattlers also, and busy-bodies, speaking things which they ought not.

Duties of servants: the danger of covetousness. Lessons for the rich.

WHOSOEVER are servants under the yoke, let them count their masters worthy of all honour; lest the name of the Lord and his doctrine be blasphemed.

2 But they that have believing masters, let them not despise them, because they are brethren, but serve them the rather, because they are faithful and beloved, who are partakers of the benefit. These things teach and exhort.

3 If any man teach otherwise, and consent not to the sound words of our Lord Jesus Christ, and to that doctrine which is according to godliness,

4 He is proud, knowing nothing, but sick about questions and strifes of words: from which arise envies, contentions, blasphemies, evil suspicions,

SECOND EPISTLE OF ST. PAUL TO TIMOTHY.

In this Epistle the Apostle again instructs and admonishes Timothy in what belonged to his office, as in the former s and also varus him to shut the conversation of those who had erred from the truth, describing at the same time their character. He tells him of his approaching death, and desires him to come speedily to him: It appears from this circumstance, that he wrote this second Epistle in the time of his last imprisonment at Rome, and not long be fore his martyrdoin.

CHAP. I.

It admonsthes him to tir up the grace he received by his ardination, and not to be discouraged at his sufferings, and not to be discouraged at his sufferings, which is in Christ Jesus. of God, according to the promise of life 164

2 To Timothy, my dearly beloved son, grace, mercy, and peace from God the Father, and from Christ Jesus our Lord.

3 I give thanks to God, whom I serve from my forefathers with a pure conscience, that without ceasing I have a remembrance of thee in my prayers, night and day.

4 Desiring to see thee, being mindful of thy tears, that I may be filled with joy.

5 Calling to mind that faith which is in thee unfeigned, which also dwelt first in thy grandmother Lois, and in thy mother Eunice, and I am certain that in thee also.

6 For which cause I admonish thee, that thou stir up the grace of God, which is in thee by the imposition of my hands.

7 * For God hath not given us the spirit of fear: but of power, and of love, and of sobriety.

8 Be not thou therefore ashamed of the tessimony of our Lord, nor of me his prisoner: but labour with the gospel according to the power of God,

9 Who hath delivered us and called us by his holy calling, † not according to our works, but according to his own purpose and grace, which was given us in Christ Jesus before the times ! of the world.

10 But is now made manifest by the illumination of our Saviour Jesus Christ, who hath destroyed death, and hath brought to light life and incorruption by the gospel:

11 Wherein § I am appointed a preacher, and an apostle, and teacher of the gentiles.

12 For which cause I also suffer these things: but I am not ashamed. For I know whom I have believed, and I am certain that he is able to keep that which I have committed unto him, against that day.

13 Hold the form of sound words, which thou hast heard of me in faith, and in the love which is in Christ Jesus.

14 Keep the good thing committed to thy trust by the Holy Ghost, who dwelleth in us.
15 Thou knowest this that all they who are in Asia, are turned away from me: of whom are Phigellus and Hermogenes.

16 The Lord give mercy to the | house of Onesipherous: because he hath often refreshed me, and hath not been ashamed of my chain.

17 But when he was come to Rome, he carefully sought me, and found me.

18 The Lord grant unto him to find mercy of the Lord in that day. And in how many things he ministered unto me at Ephesus, thou very well knowest.

CHAP. II.

He exhorts him to diligence in his office: and patience in sufferings. The danger of the delusions of heretics.

who nameth the name of the Lord.

call on the Lord out of a pure heart.

wrangle: but be mild towards all men, apt to teach, patient,

EPISTLE OF ST. PAUL TO TITUS

- PAUL having preached the faith in the Island of Crete, he ordained his beined disciple and companion Tires bishop, and left him there to finish the work which he had begun. Afterwards the Lostle, on a journey to Nicopoles a city of Macedonia, wrote this Epistle to Titus; in which he directs him to ordain bit hops and priests for the different cities, shewing him the principal qualities necessary for a bishop, also gives him particular advice for his, wen conduct to his flock, exhorting him to hold to strictness of discipline, but seasoned with lendus. It was written about thirty-three years after our Lora's Accession.

CHAP. I. What kind of men he 's to ordain priests. Since men are to be sharply rebuked times of the world:

3 But hath in due times manifested his word in preaching, which is committed to me according to the commandment of God our Sa-Tour:

5 For this cause I left thee in Crete, that thou Shouldest set in order the things that are wanting, and shouldest ordain priests in every city, as I also appointed thee:

circumcision.

11 Who must be reproved: who subvert whole nonses, teaching the things which they ought not, for filthy lucre's sake.

EPISTLE OF ST. PAUL TO PHILEMON.

PHILEMON, a noble citizen of Colossa, had a servant named (INFSIMUS, who robbed him, and fled to Rome, where be met St. PAUL, who was then a prisoner there the first time. The Apostle took compassion on him, and received him with tenderness and converted him to the faith; for he was a Gentile before. St. PAUL sends him back to his master with this Episte in his favour: and though he beseches Philemon to pardon him, yet the Apostle writes with becoming dignity and authority. It contains divers propiable instructions, and points out the charity and humanity that masters should have for their servants.

THE

EPISTLE OF ST. PAUL TO THE HEBREWS

PAUL wrote this Epistle to the Christians in Palestine, the most part of whom being Jenos before their conversect, they were called Hebrews. He exhorts them to be thoroughly converted and confirmed in the faith of Christ's priesthood above the Levitical, and also the excellence of the new Loads the bod. He commends faith by the example of the ancient fathers: and exhorts them to patience, and personer, and to remain in fraternal charity. It oppears, from chap, xiii., that this Epistle was written in Italia, and probably at Rome, about twenty-nine years after our Lord's Ascension.

name than they.

5 For to which of the Angels hath he said at any time: \dagger Thou art my son, to-day have I be-volten thee? And again, \ddagger I will be to him α father, and he shall be to me a son?

6 And again, when he bringeth in the first begotten into the world he saith : § And let all the angels of God adore him.

7 And to the angels indeed he saith: | He that maketh his angels, spirits; and his ministers, a flame of fire.

8 But to the Son: ¶ Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever: a sceptre of justice is the sceptre of thy kingdom. 9 Thou hast loved justice, and hated iniquity:

therefore God, thy God, hath anointed thee with the oil of gladness above thy fellows.

10 And:  Thou in the beginning. O Lord, didst found the earth: and the works of thy hands are the heavens.

11 They shall perish, but thou shalt continue: and they shall all grow old as a garment.

enemies thy footstooi?

CHAP. II.

The transgression of the precepts of the Son of God is far more condemnable, than those of the Old Testament given by angels.

THEREFORE ought we more diligently to observe the things which we have heard, est perhaps we should let them slip.

9 TT But we see JESUS, who was made a little lower than the angels, for the suffering of death, crowned with glory and honour: that through the grace of God he might taste death for all.

10 For it became him, for whom are all things, and by whom are all things, who had brought many children into glory, to perfect the author of their salvation, by his passion.

11 For both he that sanctifieth, and they who are sanctified, are all of one. For which caust he is not ashamed to call them brethren, saying: 12  I will declare thy name to my brethren.

in the midst of the church will I praise thee. 13 And again : ††† I will put my (rust in him, And again: 111 Behold I and my children, whom God hath given me.

14 Therefore because the children are partakers of flesh and blood, he also himself in like manner hath been partaker of the same: that $$$ through death he might destroy him who had the empire of death, that is to say, the

15 And might deliver them, who through the fear of death were all their life-time subject to servitude.

16 For no where doth he take hold of the angels: but of the seed of Abraham he taketh hold.

17 Wherefore it behoved him in all things to be made like unto his brethren, that he might become a merciful and faithful high priest before God, that he might be a propitiation for the sins of the people.

18 For in that, wherein he himself hath suffered and been tempted, he is able to succour them also that are tempted.

CHAP. III.

Christ is more excellent than Moves: and therefore use must adhere to him by faith and obedience.

WHEREFORE, holy brethren, partiakers of the heavenly vocation, consider the sposthe heavenly vocation, consider the apostle and high priest of our confession JESUS:

2 Who is faithful to him that made him, as was also || || Moses in all his house.

- 3 For this man was counted worthy of greater glory than Moses, by so much as he that hath built the house, hath greater honour than the house,
- 4 For every honse is built by some man : but he that created all things is God.
- 5 And Moses indeed was faithful in all Lis house as a servant, for a testimony of those things which were to be said:

6 But Christ as the Son in his own house & which house are we, if we hold fast the confidence and glory of hope unto the end.

7 Wherefore, as the Holy Ghost saith: * Today if you shall hear his voice,

8 Harden not your hearts, as in the prococation; in the day of temptation in the desert,

9 Where your fathers tempted me, proved and SCLO my works 10 Forty years: For which cause I was offended with this generation, and said : They at-ways err in heart. And they have not known my ways, 11 As I have sworn in my wrath: If they shall enter into my rest.

12 Take heed, brethren, lest perhaps there be in any of you an evil heart of unbelief, to depart from the living God.

13 But exhort one another every day, whilst It is called to-day, that none of you be hardened through the deceitfulness of sin.

14 For we are made partakers of Christ: yet so if we hold the beginning of his substance firm unto the end.

15 While it is said, To-day if you shall hear his voice, harden not your hearts as in that provocation.

16 For some who heard did provoke : but not all that came out of Egypt by Moses.

17 And with whom was he offended forty years? Was it not with them that sinned, whose carcasses were overthrown in the desert?

18 And to whom did he swear that they should not enter into his rest: but to them that were incredulous?

19 And we see that they could not enter in, because of unbelief.

CHAP. IV.

The Christian's rest: we are to enter into it, through Jesus Christ.

ET us fear therefore lest the promise being left of entering into his rest, any of you should be thought to be wanting.

2 For unto us also it hath been declared, in like manner as unto them. But the word of hearing did not profit them, not being mixed with faith of those things they heard.

3 For we, who have believed, shall enter into rest; as he said: ‡ As I have sworn in my wrath: If they shall enter into my rest; and this indeed when the works from the foundation of the world were finished.

4 For in a certain place he spoke of the seventh day thus : § And God rested the seventh day from

All his works.

5 And in this place again : If they shall enter intomy rest.

6 Seeing then it remaineth that some are to enter into it, and they, to whom it was first preached, did not enter because of unbelief:

7 Again he limiteth a certain day, saying in David, To-day, after so long a time, as it is above said : | To-day if you shall hear his voice; harden not your hearts.

8 For if Jusus had given them rest: he would never have afterwards spoken of another day.

9 There remaineth therefore a day of rest for the people of Goa.

CHAP, IV. Ver. 8. Jesus. Josue, who in the Greek is called Josus.

10 For he that is entered into his rest, the same also hath rested from his works, as God did from his.

11 Let us hasten therefore to enter into that rest: lest any man fall into the same example of unbelief.

12 For the word of God is living and effectual. and more piereing than any two-edged sword and reaching unto the division of the soul and the spirit, of the joints also and the marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart.

13 T Neither is there any creature invisible in his sight: but all things are naked and open to his eyes, to whom our speech is.

14 Having therefore a great high priest that hath passed into the heavens, Jesus the Son of God: let us hold fast our confession.

15 For we have not a high priest, who cannot have compassion on our infirmities: but one tempted in all things like as we are, without sin-

16 Let us go therefore with confidence to the throne of grace: that we may obtain mercy, and find grace in seasonable aid.

CHAP. V The office of a high priest. Christ is our high priest. OR every high priest taken from among men, is ordained for men in the things that appertain to God, that he may offer up gifts and sacrifices for sins:

2 Who can have compassion on them that are ignerant and that err: because he himself also is compassed with infirmity:

3 And therefore he ought, as for the people, so also for himself, to offer for sins.

4  Neither doth any man take the honour to himself, but he that is called by God, as Aaron was,

5 So Christ also did not glorify himself that he might be made a high priest: but he that said unto him, †† Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thce.

6 As he saith also in another place : ## Thow art a priest for ever, according to the order of Metchisedech.

7 Who in the days of his fesh with a strong ery and tears offering up prayers and supplications to him that was able to save him from death, was heard for his reverence. 8 And whereas indeed he was the Son of God.

he learned obedience by the things which he suffered:

9 And being consummated, he became to all that obey him, the cause of eternal salvation. 10 Called by God a high priest according to the order of Melchisedech.

11 Of whom we have much to say, and hard to be intelligibly uttered: because you are become weak to hear.

12 For whereas for the time you ought to be masters; you have need to be taught again what are the first elements of the words of God: and you are become such as have need of milk, and not of strong meat.

13 For every one, that is a partaker of milk, is unskilful in the word of justice: for he is a little child.

14 But strong meat is for the perfect; for them who by custom have their senses exercised to the discerning of good and evil.

CHAP. VI.

He warns them of the danger of falling by apostacy; assistento values and perseverance.

WHEREFORE leaving the word of the be ginning of Christ, let us go on to things more perfect, not laying again the foundation es penance from dead works, and of faith towards

2 Of the doctrine of baptisms, and imposition of hands, and of the resurrection of the dead, and of eternal judgment.

2 And this will we do, if God permit. 4 * For it is impossible for those, who were

Duce illuminated, have tasted also the heaveniy gift, and were made partakers of the Holy Ghost

5 Have moreover tasted the good word o God, and the powers of the world to come,

6 And are fallen away; to be renewed again to penance, crucifying again to themselves the Son of God, and making him a mockery.

7 For the earth that drinketh in the rain which cometh often upon it, and bringeth forth herbs meet for them by whom it is tilled : receiveth blessing from God.

8 But that which bringeth forth thorns and briars, is reprobate, and very near unto a curse, whose end is to be burnt.

9 But, my dearly beloved, we trust better things of you, and nearer to salvation; though we speak thus.

10 For God is not unjust, that he should forget your work and the love which you have shewn in his name, you who have ministered, and do minister to the saints.

11 And we desire that every one of you shew forth the same carefulness to the accomplishing of hope unto the end:

12 That you become not slothful, but followers of them, who through faith and patience shall inherit the promises.

1? For God making promise to Abraham, because he had no one greater by whom he might swear, swore by himself,

14 Saying: † Unless blessing I shall bless thee, and multiplying I shall multiply thee. 15 And so patiently enduring he obtained the promise

16 For men swear by one greater than themselves: and an oath for confirmation is the end of all their controversy.

17 Wherein God, meaning more abundantly to shew to the heirs of the promise the immutability of his counsel, interposed an oath:

18 That by two immutable things, in which it is impossible for God to lie, we may have the Strongest comfort, who have fled for refuge to hold fast the hope set before us.

19 Which we have as an anchor of the soul, sure and firm, and which entereth in even within

CHAP. VI. Vet. 1. The word of the beginning. The first rudiments of the excission doctrine.

Ver. 4. It is unpossible, &c. The meaning is, that it is impossible for such as have talled after baptism, to be is impossible for such as have fallen after baptism, to be again baptized; and very hard for such as have apostatized from the faith, after liaving received many graces, to return again to the happy state from which they fell.

CHAP. VII. Ver. 3. Without father, &c. Not that be had no father, &c., but that neither his father, nor his pedigree, not birth, nor his dauth, are set down in Scripture.

CHAP. VII.

The priesthood of Christ, according to the order of Met chisedech, excels the Levitical priesthood, and puts or end both to thut, and to the law.

OR t this Melchisedech was king of Salem, priest of the most high God, who mes Abraham returning from the slaughter of the kings, and blessed him:

2 To whom also Abraham divided the tithes of all: who first indeed by interpretation, iking of justice: and then also king of Salem, that is, king of peace,

3 Without father, without mother, without genealogy, having neither beginning of days nor end of life, but likened unto the Son of God, continueth a priest for ever.

4 Now consider how great this man is, to whom also Abraham the patriarch gave tithe out of the principal things.

5 And indeed they that are of the sons of Levi, who receive the priesthood, § have a commandment to take tithes of the people according to the law, that is to say, of their brethren: though they themselves also came out of the loins of Abraham.

6 But he, whose pedigree is not numbered among them, received titnes of Abraham. and blessed him that had the promises.

7 And without all contradiction, that which is less, is blessed by the better.

8 And here indeed, men that die, receive tithes: but there he hath witness, that he liveth. 9 And (as it may be said) even Levi who received tithes, paid tithes in Abraham: 10 For he was yet in the loins of his father, when Melchisedech met him 1

11 If then perfection was by the Levitical priesthood, (for under it the people received the law) what further need was there that another priest should rise according to the order of Melchisedech, and not be called according to the order of Aaron?

12 For the priesthood being translated, it is necessary that a translation also be made of the law.

13 For he, of whom these things are spoker, is of another tribe, of which no one attended on the altar.

14 For it is evident that our Lord sprung en: of Juda: in which tribe Moses spoke nothing concerning priests.

15 And it is yet far more evident: if accord ing to the similitude of Melchisedech there ariseth another priest,

16 Who is made not according to fie law of a carnal commandment, but according to the power of an indissoluble life:

17 For he testifieth: || Thou art a priest for ever, according to the order of Melchisedech.

18 There is indeed a setting aside of the former commandment, because of the weakness and unprofitableness thereof:

19 (For the law brought nothing to perfertion) but the bringing in of a better hope, h which we draw night o God.

20 And in as much as it is not without as oath, (for the others indeed were made priests without an oath;

21 But this with an oath, by him that said unto him: The Lord hath sworn, and he will not repent, thou art a priest for ever).

22 By so much, is Jesus made a surely of a better tostament.

23 And the others indeed were made many priests, because by reason of death they were not suffered to continue:

24 But this, for that he continueth for ever, eath an everlasting priesthood,

25 Whereby he is able also to save for ever them that come to God by him: always living to make intercession for us.

26 For it was fitting that we should have such a high priest, holy, innocent, undefiled, separated from sinners, and made higher than the heavens:

27 Who needeth not daily (as the other priests) * to offer sacrifices first for his own sins, and then for the people's: for this he did once, in offering himself.

28 For the law maketh men priests, who have infirmity: but the word of the oath, which was since the law, the Son who is perfected for evermore.

CHAP. VIII.

More of the excellence of the priesthood of Christ; and of the New Testament.

NOW of the things which we have spoken, this is the sum: We have such an high priest, who is set on the right hand of the throne of majesty in the heavens,

2 A minister of the Holics, and of the true Inbernacle, which the Lord hath pitched, and got man.

3 For every high priest is appointed to offer gifts and sacrifices: wherefore it is necessary that he also should have something to offer.

4 If then he were on earth, he would not be spriest: seeing that there would be others to offer gifts according to the law,

- 5 Who serve unto the example and shadow of heavenly things. As it was answered to Moses, when he was to finish the tabernacle: See (says he) that thou make all things according to the pattern which was shewn thee on me mount.
- 6 But now he hath obtained a better ministry, by how much also he is mediator of a better testament, which is established on better promises.

7 For if that former had been faultless, there should not indeed a place have been sought for a second.

8 For finding fault with them, he saith: ‡ Bebold, the days shall come, saith the Lord: and I will perfect unto the house of Israel, and unto the vouse of Juda, a new testament:

9 Not according to the testament, which I made to their fathers on the day when I took them by the and to lead them out of the land of Egypt: be-

The aposte notes this difference between the high priests of the law, and our aigh priest Jesus Christ; that they being removed by death, made way for their successors; whereas our Lord Jesus is a priest for ever, and hath no successor; but liveth and concurrent for ever with his ministers, the ariests of the new testament, in all their functions dly, That no one priest of the law, nor all of them to gether, could offer that absolute sacrifice of everlasting realemention which our one high priest Jesus Christ, has redemption, which our one high priest Jesus Christ, has oftered once, and for ever.

least to the greatest of them.

12 Because I will be merciful to their iniquilies, and their sins I will remember no more.

13 Now in saying a new, he hath made the former old. And that, which decayeth and groweth old, is near its end.

CHAP. IX.

The sacrifices of the law were far inferior to that of Christ. THE former indeed had also justifications of divine service, and a wordly sinetuary

2 $ For there was a tabernacle made the first, wherein were the candlesticks, and the table, and the setting forth of loaves, which is caned the Holy.

which is called the Holy of Helies:

4 Having a golden | censer, and the ark of the testament covered about on every part with gold, in which was a golden pot that had manna, and the rod of Aaron that had blossomed, and the I tables of the testament,

5 And over it were the Cherubims of glory overshadowing the propittatory: of which it is not needful to speak now particularly.

6 Now these things being thus ordered, into the first tabernacle the priests indeed always entered, accomplishing the offices of sacrifices.

7 But into the second, the high priest alone,  once a year: not without blood, which he offereth for his own, and the people's ignorance:

8 The Holy Ghost signifying this, that the way into the Holies was not yet made manifest, whilst the former tabernacle was yet standing.

10 And divers washings, and justices of the flesh laid on them until the time of correction.

11 But Christ, being come an high priest od the good things to come, by a greater and more perfect tabernacle not made with hand, that is, not of this creation :

12 Neither by the blood of goats, or of calves, but by his own blood, entered once into the Holies, having obtained eternal redemption.

14 † How much more shall the blood of Christ, who by the Holy Ghost offered himself nnspotted unto God, cleanse our conscieuce from dead works, to serve the living God?

15 And therefore he is the mediator of the new testament : I that by means of his death. for the redemption of those transgressions, which were under the former testament, they that are called may receive the promise of eternal inheritance.

16 For where there is a testament; the death of the testator must of necessity come in.

17 For a testament is of force, after men are dead: otherwise it is as yet of no strength, whilst the testator liveth.

18 Whereupon neither was the first indeed dedicated without blood.

19 For when every commandment of the law had been read by Moses to all the people, he took the blood of calves and goats with water and scarlet wool and hyssop, and sprinkled both the book itself and all the people,

20 Saying: § This is the blood of the testament, which God hath enjoined unto you.

21 The tabernacle also and all the vessels of the ministry, in like manner, he sprinkled with blood:

22 And almost all things, according to the law, are cleansed with blood : and without shedding of blood there is no remission.

23 It is necessary therefore that the patterns of heavenly things should be cleansed with these: but the heavenly things themselves with better sacrifices than these.

24 For JESUS is not entered into the Holies made with hands, the patterns of the true : but Into heaven Itself, that he may appear now in the presence of God for us.

25 Nor yet that he should offer himself often, as the high-priest entereth into the Holies, every year with the blood of others:

26 For then he ought to have suffered often from the beginning of the world: but now once Dt the end of ages, he hath appeared for the de-Struction of sin, by the sacrifice of himself.

27 And as it is appointed unto men once to Lie, and, after this, the judgment:

28 So also Christ was offered once to exhaust the sins of many; the second time he shall appear without sin, to them that expect him, unto salvation.

But this hinders not that he may refer himself daily in the sacred mysteries in an unbloody manner for the daily application of that one sacrifice of reasunption to our souls.

3 But in them there is made a commemoration of sins every year.

4 For it is impossible that with the blood of oxen and goats sins should be taken away.

5 Wherefore when he cometh into the world he saith: \ Sacrifice and oblation thou woulde not: but a body thou hast fitted to me:

6 Holocausts for sin did not please thee.
7 Then said I: Rehold I come:  in the head of the book it is written of me: that I should do the will, O God

8 In saying before, Sacrifices, and oblations and howcausts, for sin thou wouldest not, neither are they pleasing to thec, which are offered ascording to the law.

9 Then said I, Behold, I come to do thy will, () God: he taketh away the first, that he may establish that which followeth.

10 In the which will, we are sanctified by the oblation of the body of JESUS Christ once.

11 And every priest indeed standeth daily ministering, and often offering the same sacrifices, which can never take away sins.

12 But this man offering one sacrifice for sins for ever sitteth on the right hand of God, 13 From henceforth expecting, # until 119 enemies he made his foot-stool.

14 For by one oblation he hath perfected for ever them that are sanctified.

15 And the fiely Ghost also doth testify this to us. For after that he said:

16 !! And this is the testament which I will make unto them after those days, south the Lord I will give my laws in their hearts, and on their minds will I write them:

17 And their sins and iniquities I will remember no more.

18 Now where there is a remission of these there is no more an oblation for sin.

flesh, clean water. 23 Let us hold fast the confession of our hope without wavering (for he is faithful that hath promised),

24 And let us consider one another to provoke unto charity and to good works:

There is no more an oblation for sin: where there is a full remission of sins, as in baptism; there is no more occasion for a sin-offering to be made for such sins already remitted; and as for sins committed afterwards, they can only be remitted in virtue of the occasion of Christ's death.

He speaks of the sin of silful apostacy fron the known truth; after which, as se cannot be baptized again, we cannot expect to have that abundant remission of sins, which Christ purchased by his death, applied to our souls in that ample manner as it is in baptism; but we have rather all manner of reason to look for a dreadful judgment; the more because apostates from the known truth seldom or never have the grace to return to it.

striving against sin:

5 And you have forgotten the consolation, which speaketh to you, as unto children, saying: §§ My son, neglect not the discipline of tha Lord: neither be thou wearied whilst thou are rebuked by him.

he scourgeth every son whom he receiveth.

8 But if you be without chastisement, whereof all are made partakers; then are you bas-

In this Episite are set forth many procepts appertaing to faith and morals; and parties larly, that faith without good works will not save a man, that true wisdom is given only from above. In the fifth chapter he publishes the Sucrament of anomaling the sick. It was written a short time before his martyrdom, about swelly-light years year and a chapter he publishes the Sucrament of anomalics. CHAP. I.

The benefit of tribulations. Prayer with faith. God is the author of all good, but not of evil. We must be slow to anger: and not heavers only, but doers of the word. Of bridling the tengue; and of pure religion.

JAMES the servant of God, and of our Lord Jesus Christ, to the twelve tribes which are

Jesus Christ, to the twelve tribes which are scattered abroad, greeting.

2 My brethren, count it all joy, when you shall fall into divers temptations:

3 * Knowing that the trying of your faith worketh patience.

4 And patience hath a perfect work : that you may be perfect and entire, failing in nothing.

5 But if any of you want wisdom, let him ask of God, who giveth to all men abundantly, and upbraideth not: and it shall be given him.

- 6 † But let him ask in faith, nothing wavering. For he that wavereth is like a wave of the sea, which is moved and carried about by the wind.
- 7 Therefore let not that man think that he shall receive any thing of the Lord.
- 8 A double minded man is inconstant in all his ways.

9 But let the brother of low condition glory w his exaltation:

10 And the rich, in his being low, ‡ because as the flower of the grass shall he pass away.

11 For the sun rose with a burning heat, and parched the grass, and the flower thereof fell off, and the beauty of the shape thereof perished: so also shall the rich man fade away in his ways.

12 § Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he hath been proved, he shall receive the crown of life, which God hath promised to them that love him.

13 Let no man, when he is tempted, say that he is tempted by God. For God is not a tempter of evils, and he tempteth no man.

14 But every man is tempted by his own concupiscence, being drawn away and allured.

15 Then when concupiscence hath conceived, it bringetn forth sin. But sin, when it is completed, begetteth death.

16 Do not err therefore, my dearest brethren.17 Every best gift, and every perfect gift, is from above, coming down from the Father of lights, with whom there is no change, nor shadow of alteration.

18 For of his own will hath he begotten us by the word of truth, that we might be some beginning of his creature.

19 You know, my dearest brethren. | And let every man be swift to hear, but slow to speak, and slow to anger.

Was.

25 But he that hath looked into the perfect law of liberty, and hath continued therein, not becoming a forgetful hearer, but a doer of the work; this man shall be blessed in his deed.

26 And if any man think himself to be rellgious, not bridling his tongue, but decciving his own heart, this man's religion is vain.

27 Religion clean and undefiled before God and the Father, is this: to visit the fatherless and widows in their tribulation: and to keep one's self unspotted from this world.

5 Hearken, my dearest brethren: hath use God chosen the poor in this world, rich in faith, and heirs of the kingdom which God hath promised to them that love him?

17 So faith also, if it have not works, is dead in itself.

18 But some man will say: Thou hast faith. and I have works: shew me thy faith without works; and I will shew thee, by works, my faith.

Thou believest that there is one God. Thou dost well: the devils also believe and tremble.

20 But wilt thou know, O vain man, that faith without works is dead?

- 21 † Was not Abraham our father justified by works, offering up Isaac his son upon the altar?
- 22 Seest thou that faith did co-operate with his works: and by works faith was made perfect.
- 23 And the scripture was fulfilled, saying: Abraham believed God, and it was reputed to him to justice, and he was called the friend of God.

24 Do you see that by works a man is justifled; and not by faith only?

25 § And in like manner also Rahab the harlot, was not she justified by works, receiving the messengers, and sending them out another way?

26 For even as the body without the spirit is lead : so also faith without works is dead.

CHAP. III.

Of the evils of the tongue. Of the difference between the earthly and heavenly wisdom.

BE | ye not many masters, my brethren, knowing that you receive the greater judgment.

2 For in many things we all offend. If any man offend not in word; the same is a perfect man. He is able also with a bridle to lead about the whole body.

3 For if we put bits into the mouths of horses that they may obey us, and we turn about their whole body.

4 Behold also ships, whereas they are great, and are driven by strong winds, yet are they turned about with a small helm, whithersoever the force of the governor willeth.

5 So the tongue also is indeed a little member, and boasteth great things. Behold how mall a fire what a great wood it kindleth?

to them that make peace.

CHAP. IV. The evils that flow from yudding to concupiscence, and being friends to this world. Admonitions against pride, detraction, &c.

FROM whence are wars and contentions among you? Are they not hence, from your concupiscences, which war in your members.

2 You covét, and have not: you kill, and envy, and cannot obtain. You contend and war, and you have not, because you ask not.

3 You ask, and receive not : because you ask amiss: that you may consume it on your conenpiscences.

4 Adulterers, know you not that the friendship of this world, is the enemy of God? Whosoever therefore will be a friend of this world, becometh an enemy of God.

5 Or do you think that the scripture saith in vain: To envy doth the spirit covet which dwelleth in you?

6 But he giveth greater grace. Wherefore he saith: ¶ God resisteth the proud, and givet? grace to the humble.

7 Be subject therefore to God, but resist the devil, and he will fly from you.

8 Draw nigh to God, and he will draw righ to you. Cleanse your hands, ye sinners: and purify your hearts, ye double minded.

9 Be afflicted, and mourn, and weep: let your laughter be turned into mourning, and your joy, into sorrow.

10 Be humbled in the sight of the Lord, and ne will exalt you. 11 Detract not one another, my brethren. He that detracteth his brother, or he that judgeth his brother, detracteth the law, and judgeth the law. But if thou judge the law, thou art not a doer of the law, but a judge.

This first Epistle of St. Peter, though brief, contains much doctrine concerning Faith. Hope, and Charity, with divers eastructions to all persons of what state or condition sorver. The Apostle commands submission to rulers and superiors, and exhorts all to the practice of a criticons life in imitation of Christ. This Epistle is written with girls appropriate adopting us to memifest the supreme authority with which its writer, the princ of the Apostles, had been vessed by his lord and master Jesus Christ. He wrote it at Rome, which figuratively he calls Babylon, about Moching and Christ agreements.

SECOND EPISTLE OF ST. PETER THE APOSTLE.

In this Epistle St. Peter says, (chap. iii.) Behold this second Epistle I write to you: and before, (chap. i. 14. Being assured that the laying away of this my tabernacle is at hand. This shows, that it was written a very short time before his menturation, which was about thirty-five years ofter our tond's Ascanson. In this Epistle Ma endmonishes the faithful to be miniful of the great gifts they received from God, and to join all other virtues will their faith. He warms them against false teachers, by describing their practices and foretelling their punishments. He describes the dissolution of this world by fire, and the day of judyment.

CHAP. I.

He exhorts them to join all other virtues with their faith:

3 As all things of his divine power, which appertain to life and godliness, are given us through the knowledge of him who hath called us by hisown properglory and virtue.

4 By whom he hath given us most great and precious promises: that by these you may be made partakers of the divine nature : flying the corruption of that concupiscence which is in the world.

5 And you, employing all care, minister in your faith, virtue : und in virtue, knowledge :

6 And in knowledge, abstinence: and in abstinence, patience: and in patience, godliness:

7 And in godliness, love of brotherhood: and in love of brotherhood, charity.

8 For if these things be with you, and abound, they will make you to be neither empty nor unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ.

9 For he that hath not these things with him, is blind, and groping, having forgotten that he was purged from his old sins.

10 Wherefore, brethren, labour the more, that by good works you may make sale your calling and election. For doing these things, you shall not sin at any time.

11 For so an entrance shall be ministered to you abundantly into the everlasting kingdom of our Lord and saviour Jesus Christ.

12 For which cause I will begin to put you always in remembrance of these things; though indeed you know them, and are confirmed in the present truth.

4 Saying: | Where is his promise or his coming? for since the time that the fathers tlept, all things continue as they were from the beginning of the creation.

5 For this they are wilfully ignorant of, that the heavens were before, and the earth, out of water, and through water, consisting by the word of God.

6 Whereby the world that then was, being everflowed with water, perished.

7 But the heavens and the earth, which are now, by the same word are kept in store, reserved unto fire against the day of judgment and perdition of the ungodly men.

8 But of this one thing, be not ignorant, my beloved, that one day with the Lord is as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day.

9 The Lord delayeth not his promise, as some imagine: but dealeth patiently for your sake, not willing that any should perish, but that all should return to penance.

10 T But the day of the Lord shall come as a thief, in which the heavens shall pass away with great violence, and the elements shall be melted with heat, and the earth and the works which are in it shall be burnt up.

11 Seeing then that all these things are to be dissolved, what manner of people ought you to be in holy conversation and godliness,

12 Looking for and hasting unto the coming of the day of the Lord, by which the heavens being on fire shall be dissolved, and the elements shall melt with the burning heat?

13  But we look for new heavens and a new earth according to his promises, in which justice dwelleth.

14 Wherefore, dearly beloved, seeing that you look for these things, be diligent that ye may be found undefiled and unspotted to him in peace:

15 ft And account the long-suffering of our Lord salvation, as also our most dear brother Paul, according to the wisdom given him, hath written to you :.

16 As also in all his epistles, speaking in them of these things; in which are certain things hard to be understood, which the unlearned and unstable wrest, as they do also the other scriptures, to their own destruction.

17 You therefore, brethren, knowing these things before, take heed, lest being led aside by the error of the unwise, you fall from your own steadfastness.

18 But grow in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. To him be glory both now and unto the day of eternity. Amen.

THE

FIRST EPISTLE OF ST. JOHN THE APOSTLE.

The same vein of divine love and charity towards our neighbour, which runs throughout the Gospel written by UK beloved disciple and evangelist, St. John, is found also in his Epistles. He confirms the two principal mysteries of our faith: The mystery of the Trinity, and the mystery of the incurnation of Jesus Christ the Son of God. The sublimity and excellence of the evangelizal doctrine he declares: And this commandment we have from God, that he, who loveth God, love also his brother (chap, iv. 21); and again: For this is the charity of God, that we keep his commandments, and his commandments are not heavy (chap, v. 3). He shows how to distinguish the children of God from those of the devil: marks out those who should be called Antichrists: describes the turpitude and gravity of sin. Finally, he shows how the sinner may hope for pardon. It was written, according to Baronius' account, sixty-six years after our Lord's Ascension.

CHAP. I.

CHAP. II.

Christ is our Advocate : we must keep his commandments, and love one another. We must not love the world, nor give ear to new teachers; but abide by the spirit of God in the church.

MY little children, these than, I that you may not sin. But if any man sin, that you may not sin, the Father. Jesus Y little children, these things I write to you we have an advocate with the Father, JESUS Christ the just:

2 And he is the propitiation for our sins: and not for ours only, but also for those of the whole world.

3 And by this we know that we have known him, if we keep his commandments.

- 4 He who saith that he knoweth him, and keepeth not his commandments, is a liar, and the truth is not in him:
- 5 But he that keepeth his word, in him in very deed the charity of God is perfected: and by this we know that we are in him.

6 He that saith he abideth in him, ought himself also to walk, even as he walked.

7 Dearly beloved, I write not a new commandment to you, but an old commandment which you had from the beginning. The old commandment is the word which you have heard.

8 § Again a new commandment I write unto you, which thing is true both in him and in you: because the darkness is passed, and the true light now shineth.

9 He that saith he is in the light, and hateth his brother, is in darkness even until now.

15 Love not the world, nor the things which are in the world. If any man love the world, the charity of the Father is not in him.

16 For all that is in the world, is the concupiscence of the flesh, and the concupiscence of the eyes, and the pride of life, which is not of the Father, but is of the world.

17 And the world passeth away, and the concupiscence thereof. But he that doth the will of denieth the Father and the Son.

23 Whosoever denieth the Son. the same hath not the Father. He that confesseth the Son, hath the Father also.

24 As for you, let that which you have heard from the beginning, abide in you. If that abide in you, which you have heard from the beginning, you also shall abide in the Son and in the Father.

25 And this is the promise which he hath promised us, life everlasting.

26 These things have I written to you, concerning them that seduce you.

27 And as for you, let the unction, which you have received from him, abide in you. And you have no need that any man teach you: but as his unction teacheth you of all things, and is truth, and is no lie. And as it hath taught you, abide in him.

5 And you know that he appeared to take away cur sins: * and in him there is no sin.

6 Whosoever abideth in him, sinneth not: and whosoever sinneth, hath not seen him, nor known him.

Little children, let no man deceive you. He that doth justice, is just: even as he is just.

8 + He that committeth sin, is of the devil: for the devil suncth from the beginning. For this purpose, the Son of God appeared, that he might destroy the works of the devil.

9 Whosoever is born of God, committeth not sin: for his seed abideth in him, and he cannot sin, because he is born of God.

10 In this the children of God are manifest, and the children of the devil. Whosoever is not just, is not of God, nor he that leveth not his brother.

11 For this is the declaration, which you have heard from the beginning, ‡ that you should love

And when he speaks of a sin that is unto death, and adds these words, for that I say not that any man ask, it cannot be supposed that St. John would say this of every mortal sin, but only of some heinous sins, which are very seldom remitted, because such sinners very seldom repent. 3 Grace be with you, mercy, and peace from God the Father, and from Christ Jesus the Son of the Father, in truth and charity.

4 I was exceeding glad, that I found of thy children walking in truth, as we have received a commandment from the Father.

5 And now I beseech thee, lady, no. is writing a new commandment to thee, but that which we have had from the beginning, * that we love one another. 6 And this is charity, that we walk according to his commandments. For this is the commandment, that, as you have heard from the beginning, you should walk in the same :

11 For he that saith unto him, God speed yon, communicateth with his wicked works.

12 Having more things to write unto you, I would not by paper and ink : for I hope that . shall be with you, and speak face to face : that your joy may be full.

13 The children of thy sister Elect salute thee.

Ver. 10. Nor say to him, God speed you. This admonition is, in general, to forewarn the faithful of the dangers which may arise from a familiarity with those who have prevaricated and gone from the true faith, and with such as teach false doctrine. But this is not for-bidding a charity for all men, by which we ought to wish and pray for the eternal salvation of every CRD even of our onemites.

whom I love in truth.

2 Dearly beloved, concerning all things I make it my prayer that thou mayest proceed prosperously, and fare well as thy soul doth prosperously.

3 I was exceeding glad when the brethren came, and gave testimony to the truth in thee, even as thou walkest in the truth.

4 I have no greater grace than this, to hear that my children walk in truth.

5 Dearly beloved, thou dost faithfully whatever thou dost for the brethren, and that for

Ver. 4. No greater grace: that is, nothing that gives me greater joy and satisfaction.

to him from the Apostle.

7 Because, for his name they went out taking nothing of the gentiles.

8 We therefore ought to receive such that we may be fellow-helpers of the truth.

9 I had written perhaps to the church: 'out Diotrephes, who leveth to have the pre-eminence among them, doth not receive us. 10 For this cause, if I come, I will advertise his works which he doth; with malicious words prating against us. And as if these things were not enough for him, neither doth he himself re ceive the brethren and them that do receive them he forbiddeth, and casteth out of the church.

11 Dearly beloved, follow not that which is evil, but that which is good. He that doth good, is of God: he that doth evil, hath not seen God.

12 To Demetrius testimony is given by all, and by the truth itself, yea and we also give testimony: and thou knowest that our testimony is true.

13 I had many things to write unto thee but I would not by ink and pen to write to thee.

14 But I hope speedily to see thee, and we will speak mouth to mouth. Peace be to thee. Our friends salute thee. Salute the friend by name.

THE

CATHOLIC EPISTLE OF ST. JUDE THE APOSTLE

ST JUDE, who wrote this Epistle, was one of the twelve Apostles, and brother to ST. JAMES the Lous. The time it was written is uncertain, only it may be inferred from ver. 17., that few or none of the Apostles were then living, except ST. JUDE. He inveited against the heresies and wicked practices of the Simonians, Nicolaites and Gnostics, &c., describing them and their leaders by strong epithets and similes. He exhorts the faithful to contend earnestly for the faith first delivered to them, and to beware of heretics.

CHAP. I.

APOCALYPSE OF ST. JOHN THE APOSTLE

A the first, second, and third chapters of this Book are contained instructions and almonitions which Sr. John was communited to write to the seven bishops of the churches in Asia. And in the following chapters, to the end, are contained prophecies of things that are to come to pass in the church of Christ, particularly towards the end of the world, in the time of Antichrist. It was written in Greek, in the island of Patmos, elected T. John was in banishment by order of the crucl emperor Dometian, about sixty-four years after our Lord's ascension.

CHAP. I.

I. John is ordered to write to the seven churches in Asic. the manner of Christ's appearing to him.

THE Revelation of Jesus Christ, which God gave unto him, to make known to his servants the things which must shortly come to pass: and signified, sending by his angel to his servant John,

2 Who hath given testimony to the word of God, and the testimony of Jesus Christ, what things soever he hath seen.

3 Blessed is he, that readeth and heareth the words of this prophecy; and keepeth those things which are written in it. For the time is at nand.

4 John to the seven churches which are in Asia. Grace be unto you and peace from him * that is, and that was, and that is to come, and from the seven spirits which are before his throne.

2 And immediately I was in the spirit: and behold there was a throne set in heaven, and apon the throne one sitting.

3 And he that sat, was to the sight like the jasper and the sardine-stone: and there was a rainbow round about the throne, in sight like unto an emerald.

4 And round about the throne were four-andtwenty seats: and upon the seats, four-andtwenty ancients sitting, clothed in white garments, and on their heads were crowns of gold.

5 And from the throne proceeded lightnings and voices and thunders: and there were seven lamps burning before the throne, which are the seven spirits of God.

6 And in the sight of the throne was as it were a sea of glass like to crystal, and in the midst of the throne and round about the throne were four living creatures full of eyes before and behind.

8 And the four living creatures bad each of them six wings: and round about and within they are full of eyes. And they rested not day and night, saying, ‡ Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God Almighty, who was, and who is, and who is to come.

The book sealed with seven scals is opened by the Lamburg who thereupon receives adoration and praise from all. A ND I saw in the right hand or min that say on the throne, a book written within and ND I saw in the right hand of him that sat without, scaled with seven seals.

2 And I saw a strong angel, proclaiming with a loud voice: Who is worthy to open the book and to loose the seals thereof?

3 And no man was able, neither in heaven, nor on earth, nor under the earth, to open the book, nor to look on it.

4 And I wept much, because no man was found worthy to open the book, nor to see it.

5 And one of the ancients said to me: Weep not; behold the lion of the tribe of Juda, the root of David, hath prevailed to open the book and to loose the seven seals thereof.

6 And I saw: and behold in the midst of the throne and of the four living creatures, and in the midst of the ancients, a Lamb standing as it were slain, having seven horns and seven eyes: which are the seven Spirits of God, sent forth into all the earth.

7 And he came and took the book out of the right hand of him that sat on the throne.

8 And when he had opened the book, the four living creatures, and the four-and-twenty ancients fell down before the Lamb, having every one of them harps, and golden vials ful of odours, which are the prayers of saints:

9 And they sung a new canticle, saying: Thou art worthy, O Lord, to take the book, and to open the seals thereof: because thou wast slain, and hast redeemed us to God, in thy blood, out of every tribe, and tougue, and people, and 14 And the four living creatures said : Amen. And the four-and-twenty ancients fell down on their faces: and adored him that liveth for ever and ever.

CHAP. VI.

What followed upon the opening six of the seals.

A ND I saw that the Lamb had opened one of the seven seals, and I heard one of the four living creatures, as it were the voice of thunder. saying : Come, and see.

2 And I saw: and behold a white horse, and be that sat on him had a bow, and there was a rown given him, and he went forth conquer-og that he might conquer.

3 And when he had opened the second seal, heard the second living creature, saying:

Tome, and see.

4 And there went out another horse that was red: and to him that sat thereon, it was given that he should take peace from the earth, and that they should kill one another, and a great sword was given to him.

5 And when he had opened the third seal. I heard the third living creature, saying : Come. and see. And behold a black horse, and he that eat on him had a pair of scales in his hand.

6 And I heard as it were a voice in the midst of the four living creatures, saying: Two pounds of wheat for a penny, and thrice two pounds of barley for a penny, and see thou hurt not the wine and the oil.

7 And when he had opened the fourth seal, I heard the voice of the fourth living creature, saving: Come, and see.

8 And behold a pale horse, and he that sat pon him, his name was Death, and hell followed him. And power was given to him over the four parts of the earth, to kill with sword, with famine, and with death, and with the beasts of the earth.

9 And when he had opened the fifth seal, I saw under the altar the souls of them that were slain for the word of God, and for the testimony which they held.

10 And they cried with a loud voice, saying: How long, O Lord, (holy and true) dost thou not judge and revenge our blood on them that dwell on the earth?

11 And white robes were given to every one of them one: and it was said to them, that they should rest for a little time, till their fellow-serrants, and their brethren, who are to be slain,

The number of them that were marked with the seal of the living God; and clothed in white robes.

FTER these things I saw four Angels stand-A ing on the four corners of the earth, hold ing the four winds of the earth, that they should not blow upon the earth, nor upon the sea, nor on any tree.

2 And I saw another Angel ascending from the rising of the sun, having the sign of the living God; and he cried with a loud voice to the four Angels, to whom it was given to hurt the earth and the sea,

3 Saying: Hurt not the earth, nor the sea nor the trees, till we sign the servants of our

4 And I heard the number of them that wers signed, an hundred forty-four thousand were signed, of every tribe of the children of Israel.

9 After this I saw a great multitude, which no man could number, of all nations, and tribes, and peoples, and tongues: standing before the threne, and in sight of the Lamb, clothed with white robes, and palms in their hands:

10 And they cried with a loud voice, saying Salvation to our God, who sitteth upon the 11 And all the Angels stood round about the throne, and the ancients, and the four living creatures: and they fell down before the throng upon their faces, and adored God,

12 Saying: Amen. Benediction, and glory, and wisdom, and thanksgiving, honour, and power, and strength to our God for ever and

CHAP. VIII.
The seventh seal is opened: the angels with the seven trumpets.

ND when he had opened the seventh scal, A there was silence in heaven, as it were for half an hour.

2 And I saw seven Angels standing in the presence of God: and there were given to them seven trumpets.

3 And another Angel came, and stood before the altar, having a golden censer; and there was given to him much incense, that he should offer of the prayers of all saints upon the golden altar, which is before the throne of God

4 And the smoke of the incense of the prayers of the saints ascended up before God, from the hand of the Angel.

5 And the Angel took the censer, and filled it with the fire of the altar, and cast it on the earth, and there were thunders and voices and lightnings, and a great earthquake.

6 And the seven Angels, who had the seven rumpets, prepared themselves to sound the rumpet.

7 And the first Angel sounded the trumpet, and there followed hail and fire, mingled with blood, and it was east on the earth, and the third part of the earth was burnt up, and the third part of the trees was burnt up, and all green grass was burnt up.

8 And the second Angel sounded the trumpet: and as it were a great mountain, burning with fire, was cast into the sea, and the third part of the sea became blood:

9 And the third part of those creatures died, which had life in the sea, and the third part of the ships was destroyed.

10 And the third Angel sounded the trum-pet, and a great star fell from heaven, burning as it were a torch, and it fell on the third part of the rivers, and upon the fountains of waters:

11 And the name of the star is called wormwood. And the third part of the waters became wermwood: and many men died of the waters, because they were made bitter.

13 And I beheld, and heard the voice of one eagle flying through the midst of heaven. saying with a loud voice: Wo, wo, wo to the inhabitants of the earth: by reason of the rest of the voices of the three Angels, who are yet to sound the trumpet.

CHAP. IX.
Locusis come forth from the bottomless pit: the vision cf the army of horsemen.

ND the fifth Angel sounded the trumpet, A and I saw a star fall from heaven upon the earth, and there was given to him the key of the bottomless pit.

2 And he opened the bottomless pit: and the smoke of the pit arose, as the smoke of a great furnace; and the sun and the air were darkened with the smoke of the pit,

3 And from the smoke of the pit there came out locusts upon the earth. And power was given to them, as the scorpions of the earth have power:

4 And it was commanded them that they should not hurt the grass of the earth, nor any green thing, nor any tree: but only the men who have not the sign of God on their foreheads.

5 And it was given unto them that they should not kill them; but that they should torment them five months: and their torment was as the torment of a scorpion when he striketh

8 And they had hair as the hair of women; and their teeth were as lions:

9 And they had breast-plates as breastplates of iron, and the noise of their wings was as the noise of chariots and many horses running to battle.

10 And they had tails like to scorpions, and there were stings in their tails : and their power was to hurt men five months. And they had 16 And the number of the army of horsemen, was twenty thousand times ten thousand. And

I heard the number of them.

17 And thus I saw the horses in the vision: and they, that sat on them, had breast-plates of fire and of hyacinth and of brimstone, and the heads of the horses were as the heads of Jions: and from their mouths proceeded fire, and moke, and brimstone.

18 And by these three plagues was slain the third part of men, by the fire and by the smoke and by the brimstone, which issued out of their mouths.

19 For the power of the horses is in their mouths, and in their tails. For their tails are like to serpents, and have heads: and with them they hurt.

20 And the rest of the men, who were not slain by these plagues, did not do penance from the works of their hands, that they should not adore, devils and idols of gold and silver and brass and stone and wood, which neither can see, nor hear, nor walk :

21 Neither did they penance from their murders, nor from their sorceries, nor from their fornications, nor from their thefts.

The ery of a mighty angel: he gives John a book to eat.

ND I saw another mighty angel come A down from heaven, clothed with a cloud, and a rainbow was on his head, and his face was as the sun, and his feet as pillars of fire.

2 And he had in his hand a little book open: and he set his right foot upon the sea, and his lest foot upon the earth.

3 And he cried with a loud voice as when a don roareth. And when he had eried, seven thunders uttered their voices.

4 And when the seven thunders had uttered their voices, I was about to write: and I heard a voice from heaven, saying to me: Seal up the things which the seven thunders have spoken; and write them not.

5 * And the angel, whom I saw standing upon the sea and upon the earth, lifted up his hand to heaven

6 And he swore by him that liveth for ever and ever, who created heaven, and the things which are therein; and the earth, and the things which are in it; and the sea, and the things which are therein: That, time shall be no longer:

But in the days of the voice of the seventh angel, when he shall begin to sound the trumpet, the mystery of God shall be finished, as he hath declared by his servants the prophets.

9 And I went to the angel, saying unto him, that he should give me the book. And he said to mel: † Take the book, and eat it up: and it shall make thy belly bitter, but in thy mouth it shall be sweet as honey.

10 And I took the book from the hand of the angel, and eat it up: and it was in my mouth, sweet as honey: and when I had eaten it, my

He is ordered to measure the temple: the two witnesses. ND there was given me a reed like unto A a rod: and it was said to me: Arise, and measure the temple of God, and the altar, and them that adore therein.

7 And when they shall have finished their testimony, the beast, that ascendeth out of the abyss, shall make war against them, and shall overcome them, and kill them.

8 And their bodies shall lie in the streets or the great city, which is called spiritually Sodom and Egypt, where their Lord also was crucified.

9 And they of the tribes, and peoples, and tongues, and nations, shall see their bodies for three days and a half: and they shall not suffer their bodies to be laid in sepulchres.

10 And they that dwell upon the earth shall rejoice over them, and make merry: and shall send gifts one to another, because these two prophets tormented them that dwelt upon the earth.

11 And after three days and a half, the spirit of life from God entered into them. And they stood upon their feet, and great fear fell upon them that saw them.

12 And they heard a great voice from heaven saying to them: Come up hither. And the went up to heaven in a cloud; and their ene

13 And at that hour there was made a great earthquake, and the tenth part of the city fell. and there were slain in the earthquake names of men seven thousand: and the rest were east into a fear, and gave glory to the God of heaven.

17 We give thee thanks, O Lord God Almighty, who art, and who wast, and who art to come: because thou hast taken to thee thy great power, and thou hast reigned.

18 And the nations were angry, and thy wrath is come, and the time of the dead, that they should be judged, and that thou shouldest render reward to thy servants the prophets and the saints, and to them that fear thy name, little and great, and shouldest destroy them who have corrupted the earth.

3 And there was seen another sign in hearen: and behold a great red dragon having seven heads, and ten horns: and on his heads seven diadems,

4 And his tail drew the third part of the stars of heaven, and cast them to the earth: and the dragon stood before the woman who was ready to be delivered; that, when she should be delivered, he might devour her son.

5 And she brought forth a man-child, v was to rule all nations with an iron rod: and ner son was taken up to God, and to his throne.

6 And the woman fled into the wilderness where she had a place prepared by God, that there they should feed her a thousand two hundred sixty days.

And there was a great battle in heaven, fichael and his angels fought with the dragon, and the dragon fought and his angels:

S And they prevailed not, neither was their place found any more in heaven.

9 And that great dragon was east out, that old scrpent, who is called the devil and satan, who seduceth the whole world and he was cast unto the earth, and his angels were thrown down with him.

3 And singing the canticle of Moses the servant of God, and the canticle of the Lamb, saying: Great and wonderful are thy works, O Lord God Almighty: just and true are thy ways, O King of ages.

4 * Who shall not fear thee, O Lord, and magnify thy name? For thou only art holy: for all nations shall come, and shall adore in thy sight, because thy judgments are manifest.

5 And after these things I looked, and behold the temple of the tabernacle of the testimony in heaven was opened:

6 And the seven Angels came out of the temple having the seven plagues, clothed with clean and white linen, and girt about the breasts with golden girdles.

7 And one of the four living creatures gave to the seven Angels seven golden vials, full of the wrath of God, who liveth for ever and ever.

8 And the temple was filled with smoke from the majesty of God, and from his power: and no man was able to enter into the temple, till the seven plagues of the seven Angels were fulfilled.

CHAP. XVI.

The seven vials are poured out: the plagues that ensue. A ND I heard a great voice out.

Saying to the seven Angels: Go, and pour saying to the seven Angels: ND I heard a great voice out of the temple out the seven vials of the wrath of God upon the earth.

2 And the first went, and poured out his vial upon the earth, and there fell a sore and grievous wound upon men, who had the character of the beast; and upon them that adored the image thereof.

3 And the second Angel poured out his vial upon the sea, and there came blood as it were of a dead man: and every living soul died in the sea.

4 And the third poured out his vial upon the vivers and the fountains of waters: and there was made blood.

5 And I heard the Angel of the waters, saying: Thou art just, O Lord, who art, and who wast, the holy one, because thou hast judged these things:

6 For they have shed the blood of saints and prophets, and thou hast given them blood to drink; for they are worthy.

7 And I heard another, from the altar saying: Yea, O Lord God Almighty, true and just are thy judgments.

8 And the fourth Angel poured out his vial apon the sun, and it was given unto him to afflict men with heat and fire.

* Jer. 10.7.- † Mat. 24. 41. Luke 12. 39. Supra, 3. 3.

9 And men were scorehed with great heat and they blasphemed the name of God, wh hath power over these plagues, neither die they penance to give him glory.

10 And the fifth angel poured out his via upon the seat of the beast: and his kingdom became dark, and they gnawed their tongue for pain:

11 And they blasphemed the God of heaven because of their pains and wounds, and did not penance from their works.

12 And the sixth angel poured out his vial upon that great river Euphrates: and dried up the water thereof, that a way might be prepared for the kings from the rising of the sun.

13 And I saw from the mouth of the dragon, and from the mouth of the beast, and from the mouth of the false prophet, three unclean spirits like frogs.

14 For they are the apirits of devils working signs, and they go forth unto the kings of the whole earth to gather them to battle against the great day of the Almighty God.

15 † Behold, I come as a thief. Blessed i he that watcheth, and keepeth his garments. lest he walk naked, and they see his shame.

16 And he shall gather them together into a place, which in Hebrewis ealled Armagedon.

17 And the seventh angel poured out his vial upon the air, and there came a great voice out of the temple from the throne, say. ing: It is done.

18 And there were lightnings, and voices and thunders, and there was a great earthquake. such an one as never had been since men were upon the earth, such an earthquake, so great.

19 And the great city was divided into three parts: and the eities of the gentiles fell. And great Babylon came in remembrance before God, to give her the eup of the wine of the indignation of his wrath.

20 And every island fled away, and the mountains were not found.

21 And great hail like a talent eame down from heaven upon men; and men blasphemed God for the plague of the hail: because it was execeding great.

CHAP. XVII.
The description of the great harlot, and of the beast up which she sits.

ND there came one of the seven Angels, M who had the seven vials, and spoke with me, saying: Come, I will shew thee the con demnation of the great harlot, who sitteth upon many waters,

2 With whom the kings of the earth have committed fornication: and they who inhabit the earth, have been made drunk with the wing of her whoredom.

3 And he took me away in spirit into the desert. And I saw a woman sitting upon a scarlet-coloured beast, full of names of blasphemy, having seven heads and ten horns.

4 And the woman was clothed round about with purple and scarlet, and gilt with gold, and precious stones and pearls, having a golden cap in her hand, full of the abomination and filthiness of her fornication.

22 And the voice of harpers, and of musicians, and of them that play on the pipe and on the trumpet, shall no more be heard at all in thee: and no craftsman of any art whatsoever shall be found any .nore at all in thee: and the sound of the mill shall be heard no more at all

CHAP, XXIL Ver. 10. For the time is at hand. That is, when compared to eternity, all time and temporal things vanish, and are but of short duration. As to the time when the chief predictions should come to pass, we have no certainty, as, appears by the different opinions, both of the ancient fathers and late interpreters. Many think that most things set down from the 4th chapter to the ind, will not be fulfilled till a little time before the end of the world. Others are of opinion, that a great part of them, and particularly the fall of the wicked Habylon, rappened at the destruction of Paganism, by the destruction of heathen Rome, and its persecuting heathen Emperors. Of these Interpretations, see Aleazar, in his long esumentary, see the learned Bossuet, bishop of Means, is his treatise on this Book, and P. Alleman, in his notes on the same Apocalpse, tom. 12., who in his Ireface says, that this, in a great messure, may be now booked apon as the opinion followed by the learned men.

17 And the spirit and the bride say: Come. And he that heareth, let him say: Come. he that thirsteth, let him come: | and he that will, let him take the water of life, freely.

18 For I testify to every one that heareth the words of the prophecy of this book: If any man shall add to these things, God shall add unto him the plagues written in this book.

19 And if any man shall take away from the words of the book of this prophecy, God shall take away his part out of the book of life, and ont of the holy city, and from these things that are written in this book.

20 He that giveth testimony of these things saith, Surely I come quickly: Amen. Come, Lord JESUS.

21 The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen.

with you all. Amen.

In fine, others think that St. John's design was in a mystical way, by metaphors and allegories, to represent the attempts and persecutions of the wicked against the servants of 'God, the punishments that should in a short time fall upon Babylon, that is, ppon all the wicked in general: the eternal happiness and reward, which God had ressrved for the pious inhabitants of Jerusalem that is, for his faithful servants, after their short triali and the tribulations of this mortal life. In the n-san time we meet with many profitable instructions and admonitions, which we may easily enough understand: but we have no certainty, when we apply these predictions to particular events: for as St. Jerom takes notice, the Apoca lypse has as many mysteries as words, or rather mystery in every word.
